University of Washington:
College of Built Environments: Runstad Department of Real Estate
(https://apply.interfolio.com/115176)

Location
Seattle

Open Date
Oct 27, 2022

Description
The College of Built Environments (CBE) at the University of Washington (UW) invites nominations and applications to join our faculty as an Assistant Teaching Professor in the Runstad Department of Real Estate. The Department is hiring for multiple positions. Our faculty are highly motivated, impact-driven, creative, and collaborative and have a demonstrated history of innovative and successful teaching and curriculum development within an interdisciplinary setting. This position will help sustain and expand our capacity to provide excellent courses and coordinate across disciplines in our college and beyond.

Responsibilities & Terms
Teaching faculty are expected to be on campus during the academic year to teach courses, mentor students, and engage in service activities, including advising students, assisting with student organizations, and serving on departmental and college committees. Selected candidates will be assigned classes that may include large and small lectures, and seminar courses and include both required and elective courses.

This is a full-time 9-month (Sept 16th - June 15th) initial 3-year appointment with the possibility of renewal. The anticipated start date of January 2, 2023, with an expectation that approximately 80% of the faculty member’s time is dedicated to teaching and 20% to service to the department in coordination with the Department chair. The expectation for this position is to teach a minimum of 24 credits hours annually, though teaching loads are negotiated annually with the Department Chair. This position is for an initial three-year term with the possibility of multi-year renewal with a salary range of $75,000 - $82,000. The position provides full access to the employee benefits offered by UW and is promotable to Associate and Full Teaching Professor. The position is not eligible for tenure.

Positive factors for consideration include, but are not limited to:
- Demonstrated experience in developing and coordinating coursework, syllabi, and curricula
- 3+ years’ experience in professional practice in the built environment professions
- Demonstrated success in teaching
- Expertise in finance related or quantitative courses

Qualifications
Required Qualifications:
- Master’s degree (or foreign equivalent) in Real Estate, construction, or business-related discipline
- A record of excellence and innovation in teaching large, medium, and small classes
Commitment to collaborative engagement through co-teaching a course with another person, studio engagement with multiple instructors, and/or participating in leadership positions in organizations.

We are searching for candidates who can teach introductory and advanced levels undergraduate and graduate real estate courses, including small and large lecture-based courses and professionally oriented courses.

Application Instructions
Applicants to this position should send all application materials to: http://apply.interfolio.com. To upload materials, applicants will receive a free Dossier account. For help signing up for a Dossier account, accessing your account, or submitting your application, please review Interfolio's help and support section or contact via email at help@interfolio.com or phone (877) 997-8807.

Applicants should submit the following:

- Curriculum Vitae detailing teaching, mentorship, service, honors, and leadership experiences (5 pages maximum);
- Letter of interest outlining your interest in the position and career objectives, including a summary of your creative activities, teaching experience, leadership experience, and service interests (2 pages maximum);
- A statement describing your teaching experience and philosophy, teaching excellence, curricular and pedagogical innovation, and commitment to student success (1-page maximum);
- A statement describing your commitments to diversity, equity, inclusion, and access as they relate to your teaching, service, and/or mentoring (1-page maximum);
- A statement describing courses of interest in the Runstad Department of Real Estate and a brief description of a new course of interest to you (1-page maximum);
- Three references (contact information only, formal letters will be requested at the last stage of the interview process).

Position posted until filled, For priority review date application materials should be received by November 30, 2022.

Questions about the position may be directed to Search Committee Chair, Arthur Acolin, acolin@uw.edu

Land Acknowledgement
The University of Washington acknowledges the Coast Salish peoples of this land, the land which touches the shared waters of all tribes and bands within the Suquamish, Tulalip, and Muckleshoot nations.