EDITORIAL WRITER

The Arkansas Democrat-Gazette is looking for somebody to write unsigned editorials for its editorial column. The best candidate would be someone with Arkansas ties and experience, with a sense of humor and an (unreliable) conservative’s point of view on politics. Such a writer would be well-read, fine with (sometimes heavy) editing, and be able to explain why it’s never acceptable to put sugar in cornbread. This is a full-time position with benefits. Interested parties should email Editorial Page Editor David Barham at dbarham@arkansasonline.com. But in these days of electronic communication, phone calls are certainly welcome, too, at 501-399-3641. (3)

NEWS PHOTOGRAPHER

The Jonesboro Sun is seeking a photojournalist for a full-time, entry-level news photographer position. Candidates should be able to demonstrate a wide range of photo skills, especially in terms of covering news and sporting events, under the press of a deadline. This includes the ability to supplement pictures by gathering information and writing in journalistic forms. Candidates should also be able to process photos in digital format with Photoshop software. Working knowledge of Illustrator and InDesign would be a plus. The person is expected to work an afternoon-evening schedule, to include Saturdays. Minimum requirements: Bachelor’s degree, preferably in journalism or photojournalism; excellent photo skills, including working knowledge of Photoshop software. Publications work in college preferable. Jonesboro is a thriving city with a population of about 70,000 in Northeast Arkansas and is the home of Arkansas State University, which has a main campus enrollment of about 13,000. Jonesboro is about 1 hour northwest of Memphis. Send resume and work samples to: Chris Wessel, editor, The Jonesboro Sun, 518 Carson St., Jonesboro, Ark., 72401, or by email to cwessel@jonesborosun.com. (1)

REPORTER

The Jonesboro Sun is seeking a self-motivated, hard-working applicant to fill an open full-time reporter position. This position will include general assignment reporting duties as well as beat-specific responsibilities. This position requires some night and weekend shifts. While a bachelor’s degree — preferably in journalism or communications — is preferred, it is not a requirement if the candidate has prior reporting experience at a daily or weekly newspaper or media outlet. The Jonesboro Sun, which publishes mornings seven days a week, offers competitive pay with benefits, including vacation time, health insurance and a matching 401k retirement plan. Jonesboro is a thriving city with a population of about 77,000 in Northeast Arkansas and is home to Arkansas State University, which has a main campus enrollment of about 13,200. Send resume and at least five work examples to: Editor Chris Wessel at cwessel@jonesborosun.com, or 518 Carson St., Jonesboro, Ar., 72401. (2)
