REPORTER

The Jonesboro Sun is seeking a self-motivated, inquisitive applicant to fill an open full-time reporter position. This position will include general assignment reporting duties as well as beat-specific responsibilities. This position requires some night and weekend shifts. While a bachelor’s degree — preferably in journalism or communications — is preferred, it is not a requirement if the candidate has prior reporting experience at a daily or weekly newspaper or media outlet. The Jonesboro Sun, which publishes mornings seven days a week, offers competitive pay with benefits, including vacation time, health insurance and a matching 401k retirement plan. Jonesboro is a thriving city with a population of about 77,000 in Northeast Arkansas and is home to Arkansas State University, which has a main campus enrollment of about 13,200. Send resume and at least five work examples to: Editor Chris Wessel at cwessel@jonesborosun.com, or 518 Carson St., Jonesboro, Ar., 72401 (3)

REPORTER

The Advance-Monticellonian, an award winning weekly newspaper located in Monticello, a growing, family oriented community in Southeast Arkansas, is looking for an energetic and organized reporter to join its newsroom. The ideal candidate must be a creative, solid writer; attentive to detail; and flexible enough to help with Web and design duties. Experience with InDesign, Photoshop, photography and social networking are a plus. Knowing the people and having connections in Southeast Arkansas is also a bonus. There will also be opportunities to write for annual magazines and special sections. The pay is negotiable and based on abilities and experience. Other benefits - like health insurance — are included. If you want to be a part of an energetic new enterprise and live in a beautiful part of Arkansas, send your resume and writing clips to Publisher Tom White at: publisher@monticellonews.net (1)

MULTIMEDIA JOURNALIST

Have you ever thought of living in wonderful Branson MO? The Branson TriLakes News is seeking a full-time, multi-media journalist to cover a variety of news in our growing communities. We’re looking for someone with a passion for journalism and community news who is ready to showcase Branson MO and the surrounding area through their writing and photography skills with a total focus on LOCAL content. Layout, Design, and Social media skills are a plus for this position. This is an excellent opportunity for an experienced journalist looking to make their next move or a recent college graduate with the desire to get their foot in the door. The position is ideal for someone ready to meet new people and share their stories through feature stories while covering events including local government, education, and community projects, that are important to our readers. ## FELLOWSHIPS AVAILABLE

The Reynolds Journalism Institute is now accepting applications for 2019-20 fellows. RJI is looking to advance new products, services, ideas and storytelling techniques with funding, mentoring, testing and promotion. RJI offers three types of fellowships. Residential fellows earn $80,000 and spend eight months at the Missouri School of Journalism. Want to work from your home base? We offer $20,000 non-residential fellowships. Newsrooms and civil society organizations can apply for institutional fellowships that offer $20,000 stipends. All three options include additional funds for travel, technical development and marketing. The application deadline is Jan. 31, 2019. (2)

MANAGING EDITOR

The Columbian-Progress, a twice-weekly newspaper in Columbia, Miss., has an opening for a managing editor. This is not a desk job, and there is an emphasis on writing news stories and taking photographs on a broad range of topics. Page layout skills are preferred but not required. The news staff also includes a full-time sports editor and the editor/publisher. Columbia is a strong South Mississippi community with good public schools (the Columbia School District is rated a B with two of its four schools rated as As) and a thriving, growing downtown. It is home to successful industries like Southern Tire Mart and Looks Great Services and is just 30 minutes from Hattiesburg and two hours from New Orleans. The Columbian-Progress has consistently been recognized as being one of the top newspapers in its class by the Mississippi Press Association, and we have a firm commitment to being a strong voice in our community and continuing to provide the editorial resources necessary to do that. We are part of Emmerich Newspapers, a family-owned newspaper group based in Jackson, Miss. Pay range is $25,000 to $30,000 and includes health insurance, life insurance, paid vacation and sick leave, and bonus opportunities. To apply, email a resume and three work references to Publisher Charlie Smith at csmith@columbianprogress.com. (1)
