Records and Information Management

Records and Information Management services are an integral part of our everyday lives. The fiscal well being of a company or agency greatly depends on the proper management of records and information. The Houston community confidently anticipates efficient handling of data and information to accomplish their day to day business activities.

The quality and effectiveness of these services are vitally dependent on the efforts and skills of Record Managers, Administrators and Records Personnel. The efficiency of personnel who staff records departments is influenced by public attitude and their understanding of the importance of the work performed by records professionals.

The Houston Chapter of the Association of Records Managers and Administrators, along with thousands of records and information professionals across our nation, will celebrate Records and Information Management during the month of April 2011. This year's theme is "Envisioning the Next 50 Years".

The City of Houston recognizes the vital contributions that records and information personnel make every day and extends best wishes to all for a successful and rewarding Records and Information Management Month.

Therefore, I, Annise D. Parker, Mayor of the City of Houston, hereby proclaim April 2011, as in Houston, Texas, and urge all citizens and civic organizations to acquaint themselves with the issues involved in providing records management services within our city.

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and have caused the Official Seal of the City of Houston to be affixed this 21st day of April, 2011.
