Jaron Stout, PharmD
At-Large Director Candidate

Dr. Stout has practiced as a consultant pharmacist in skilled nursing facilities for six years, where he developed a solid reputation for patient care with medical directors across the state of Utah. This sparked an interest in developing new and progressive methods of collaboration with healthcare professionals, to improve transitions of care and patient outcomes in the skilled nursing setting. In 2018 Dr. Stout joined the Bridge Utah Medical Group setting a precedence for patient-oriented pharmacy services in a provider driven model of care.

ASCP involvement: Currently president of Utah Chapter

What Strengths do you feel you will bring to the ASCP Board: Innovation and passion for enhancing the profession?

What will you bring to the table to help ASCP retain current members and attract new members? Broaden the target audience, team up with AMDA physicians to make collaborative practice the standard of care, and try to build and implement a residency program
What are your individual goals for ASCP and the region that you will represent? Change the culture of mediocrity, with pharmacists operating in silos, which keeps them disconnected from the team of health care professionals.

What are your highest priorities for ASCP? Revamp the current system to be focused on working with physicians to improve clinical services, decrease the 66% occurrence of preventable medication related adverse events, increase direct patient care, reduce hospitalizations, and improve transitions of care.
