

Computer Hardware and Software Requirements

All learning courses are delivered through a web browser that requires reliable internet connection. All courses contain a PDF handout to download, the learning activity, and an evaluation to complete. Some courses have a post-test to submit. The courses range from interactive slides with no audio to recordings of our live activities with audio. Because of these different components, please make sure the below are up-to-date for your best learning experience:

Adobe Products for Handouts and Interactive Courses:
