Presenter Bios

Ken Carr brings over 30 years of finance, technology, data analysis and reporting experience in the health and human service field to OPEN MINDS. He currently serves as a Senior Associate with the OPEN MINDS consulting practice. In this role, Mr. Carr serves as a subject matter expert in the OPEN MINDS consulting practice where he has led numerous engagements in strategic planning, merger and acquisition prospecting, business process improvement, managed care and value-based contracting preparedness, financial analysis of service lines, and technology selection.

Claire Wilson is deputy commissioner for Policy, appointed by Commissioner Tony Lourey on Jan 15, 2019. Wilson oversees the department's policy administrations – Children and Family Services, Health Care, Community Supports and Continuing Care, as well as External Relations, which includes DHS's equity work. Previously she served as assistant commissioner for the Community Supports Administration and served as interim assistant commissioner for the Continuing Care for Older Adults Administration.
