

For Minnesota kids and families engaged in foster care, we know quality parenting can make an incredible, life-long difference.

QPI-MN invites the most important people in our system - birth parents, youth, foster parents, kin, and other supporters - to help lead a shift in our system to the fundamentals of care for our kids - who all deserve the difference quality parenting can make for them in their lives.

2018 PRIORITIES

We have learned from this movement across the U.S. that the three most transformative changes are about the power of relationships, supported by:

- 1. A comfort call to the birth family within twenty-four hours of the child or youth entering a foster home
- 2. Birth and foster families meet within the first weeks to develop a relationship, share information, and work together to meet the child or youth's needs
- 3. Integrating the importance of child and youth voice into all interactions

QPI MINNESOTA VALUES

- Children and youth develop and grow through love and support of their families and communities.
- Foster parents are respected partners who advocate and collaborate for the wellbeing of the child/youth and their birth family and relatives.
- Birth families, relatives and foster parents connect and create mutually healthy relationships to care for children and youth.
- Communities and system partners collaborate and drive best practice and best interests of our children and youth.
