

PROPHET Virtual Accreditation For Executive and Team Coaches

Over the past 18 years, in my work as an Executive and Top Team coach, I have been continuously on the lookout for new approaches and tools that will advance the work we do with clients. So I am pleased to extend a personal invitation to get accredited in PROPHET, a top team tool that has recently been awarded Registered Test status by the British Psychological Society (BPS).

Course Details

Who is this Training For?

This accelerated fast track course is designed for experienced coach practitioners with experience of delivering executive development and team programmes. They will also need to have the background in at least one psychometric tool with experience in client debriefs.

How will Coaches Benefit?

PROPHET is already being used in leading global organisations. Practitioners can utilise this tool to support the development of senior teams, which is opening more opportunity for coaches to add values to teams and executives. The accreditation allows coaches to deliver insight and development to their client organisation in 3 ways:

Individual PROPHET Profile Coaching individual executives to understand their business preferences and implications for working with others.

Team Insight Report Providing Team Insights on how to get the best from everyone and develop relationships for enhanced performance.

Pivotal Relationship Report Advising Pivotal Relationships to develop partnerships that are critical to the success of a team or business e.g. CEO & CFO.

PROPHET is also helpful for use at off-sites and conferences providing team building and insight on how to successfully implement strategy. Accreditation enters you into the PROPHET Accredited Coach Community, where you have access to support and on-going development to help you in your practice.

The next page outlines the upcoming virtual certification dates, as well as access to sample materials to download, and costs. Each virtual course will be capped at 12 delegates, in order to have a truly interactive online learning experience.

PROPHET Virtual Accreditation Testimonials

PROPHET is a commercial and intuitive way of looking at the relationship dynamics within the Executive Team. The insight has had a significant positive impact on my ExCom and my senior executives, giving us a common way of seeing how best to leverage others in achieving our business objectives.

Its analytics landed well with my senior population and the insights generated have shaped my planning and decisions.

CEO, Arrow Global Plc

Since first experiencing the service on a senior leadership programme a few years ago, I have used PROPHET as a tool for fast-tracking relationships and improving productivity across my whole organisation, amounting to over 200 people.

By first using PROPHET to ensure the 40 most senior people are aligned, use common language and can play to their strengths, I found a way of promoting global collaboration on a complex and challenging program. We then cascaded PROPHET down through the teams and it has been very well received by the individuals.

PROPHET has added significant value to my organisation in terms of productivity and working relationships, and is now instrumental in my leadership thinking as well as talent and resource planning.

Managing Director, International GWIM CTO, Bank of America Merrill Lynch

Our Senior team really values PROPHET. We initially explored the tool to assist with our effectiveness as a board team and subsequently profiled 320 people within our business in order to understand them better and how we could drive performance within the broader team.

The data pulled from the profiling provided us with remarkable insight into our business and our approach to key roles. Based on this knowledge, we devised a specific development plan that has had real traction in changing our approach to supporting key roles and making performance improvements.
