

Association of Threat Assessment Professionals
San Diego Chapter Luncheon Meeting
June 14, 2017 11:30-1:15

Presenter: Patrick Henry

President of Aegis Academy

Societal Resilience

Societal Resilience takes a cross-functional look at resilience theory and how it can be applied to produce more effective, and less expensive solutions to the security challenges we face. Take advantage of this unique opportunity to explore this topic in detail incorporating economic, social, psychological, ecological and evolutionary theories on resilience and how those perspectives can be incorporated into the organizations and individuals that make up our society. Our speaker has twenty-nine years of practical experience training and leading both individuals and organizations to achieve extraordinary results in challenging and extreme environments. He will share his insights into building resilient units, organizations, and people during this violent and unpredictable period in our nation's history.

Date/Time: June 14, 2017 11:30-1:15pm

Location: Admiral Baker Clubhouse 2400 Admiral Baker Road, San Diego

Cost: $20
