

In Honor of the 88th Academy Awards, Pace University Press is offering an $8.00 discount on METHODS!

Methods: A Journal of Acting Pedagogy, is a peer reviewed journal dedicated to the art and craft of acting and its philosophies, exercises, and history. Methods explores acting for stage, film, and television, their similarities and differences, deconstructing old techniques and constructing new ones. Including interviews with important industry professionals, news about the performing arts, book reviews, and historical documents, Methods will embody everything about the craft and entertainment of acting, from culture to spirituality to truth.

Buy until March 1, 2016 for only $32.00!

To order Methods, please visit:
www.pace.edu/press

ARTICLES

Mark Rafael: Stanislavski's System: The Missing Pole
Melanie Dreyer-Lude: Show and Tell: Using Recorded Feedback to Improve Learning in the Acting Classroom

Cosmin Chivu: Anne Bogart Interview

D.V. Caitlyn: The Two Undertakings, The Four Fights, and The Six Stages of the Seek/Avoid Cycle

Rebecca Covey: "Chop-a-logues:" A Recipe for An Embodied Exploration of Text

Jesse Mills: Jump Emotion: Diagnosing Accessibility and Expression of Emotion

Maria Cominis Glaudini: I Can't Have Rehearsal

Lee Evans: Why Actors Should Learn Music and Why Music Should Be Taught

Isabel Milenski: Singers: Embrace Your Ugly!

HISTORY

Francois Delsarte: Address to the Philotechnic Society of Paris

Marty Keiser: Acting Without Words: A Brief History of Silent Performance from the Greeks to Beckett

BOOK REVIEWS

Claire Gleitman: Checking Out Chekhov: A Guide to the Plays for Actors, Directors and Readers by Sharon Marie Carnickle

Hillary Haft Bucs: Rehearsing In The Zone: A Practical Guide to Rehearsing Without a Director by Maria Cominis Glaudini

Alicia Tafoya: Stanislavsky in Focus: An Acting Master for the Twenty-First Century, 2nd ed., by Sharon Marie Carnickle

Alexis Skinner: A World of Voice: Voice and Speech across Culture, edited by Dudley Knight