

Like 0

Share

Share:

Tweet

-
-
-
-

August 2016

The Mortmain

Official Publication of the Atlanta Bar Association
Estate Planning & Probate Section

Reframing Estate Planning to Coincide with Longevity, Aging in Place, and the Changing Landscape of Aging Services

By Kim C. Martin, Nadler Biernath LLC

On February 10, 2016, Chris Foster, a Certified Senior Advisor and Gerontologist at LivHOME (<http://www.livhome-atlanta.com>), spoke to the Estate Planning and Probate Section of the Atlanta Bar Association. Mr. Foster's topic, Reframing Estate Planning to Coincide with

Longevity, Aging in Place and the Changing Landscape of Aging Services, provided important perspective for those in the estate planning community who work with older clients. Mr. Foster addressed the following issues that estate planners and other professionals should consider as they advise those clients and their family members:

Read entire article

In This Issue

Reframing Estate Planning
Due Regard for Disregarded Entities
Update on the Georgia Probate Form Revisions
POLST, Appeals, and Granny Snatching, Oh my

2016-2017 Section Board of Directors

Chair

Shelly Nixon Donaldson

Vice Chair/Chair-Elect

Albert Caproni III

Treasurer

Jacquelyn H. Saylor

Secretary

Craig M. Frankel

Immediate Past Chair

Katrenia R. Collins

Members at Large

Assistant Professor Cassady ("Cass") V. Brewer discusses "Due Regard for Disregarded Entities"

By Allison L. Byrd, Allison Byrd Law, LLC

The Estate Planning and Probate Section of the Atlanta Bar Association was delighted to welcome Cassady ("Cass") V. Brewer, Assistant Professor at the College of Law, Georgia State University, as the featured speaker at the March 9, 2016 section breakfast. Professor Brewer discussed what every trust and estate attorney needs to know about disregarded entities.

Read entire article

Judge Kelli Wolk Gives Our Section an Update on the Georgia Probate Form Revisions

By Jacquelyn H. Saylor, The Saylor Law Firm LLP

The Honorable Kelli Wolk, Probate Judge of Cobb County, who is also the current Chair of the Probate Rules & Forms Committee, spoke to the Estate Planning & Probate Section of the Atlanta Bar Association at our breakfast on April 13, 2016. At that time, she was unable to inform us whether the new Georgia Probate Court Standard Forms (GPCSF) would be approved by the Supreme Court of Georgia, even though she is a member of the Probate Rules & Forms Committee, because the Supreme Court had only received the proposed forms the day before.

Read entire article

"POLST, Appeals, and Granny Snatching, Oh my!": Recent Developments in Georgia Fiduciary Law

By Michelle Tanen, The Saylor Law Firm LLP

Professor Mary Radford is the Marjorie Fine Knowles Professor at the Georgia State University College of Law. She is the author of Redfeare: Wills & Administration in Georgia; Georgia Trusts and Trustees; and Georgia Guardianship and Conservatorship. At the April 19th 2016, Estate

Timothy Curtin
Elizabeth A. Faist
J. Caroline Freeman
Bruce H. Gaynes
Thomas E. Gould
Elaine Levine

Editorial Board

Editor-in-Chief

Loraine M. DiSalvo

Issue Editors

Loraine M. DiSalvo
Julia Hightower

Contributing Editors

Allison L. Byrd
Loraine M. DiSalvo
Julia Hightower
Kim C. Martin
M. Ashley McGinley
Everett Morris, IV
Jacquelyn H. Saylor
Clayton Skinner
Michelle Tanen

The Section Thanks its Annual Sponsors

Planning and Probate Section luncheon, Professor Radford regaled the Section with her annual update on Georgia fiduciary law. There was quite a bit to cover in this year's fiduciary law presentation, so Professor Radford dove right into notable Georgia legislation that has been passed since her last update.

Read entire article

Follow Us

Confirm that you like this.

Click the "Like" button.