

Call for Abstracts!
Submission deadline: March 16, 2020
Submit early to ensure journal publication.

Please join us for the upcoming
ATMAE-IAJC Joint Conference
October 7-9, 2020
Louisville, Kentucky

If your abstract is accepted for presentation at the conference, you will be invited to submit a related full paper, which will be reviewed for journal publication in the IAJC journals (journal details available through our website at www.IAJC.org).

IAJC high-impact-factor (Google Scholar method) journals:
IJME = 3.0 (a top-100 engineering journal), IJERI = 1.58, TIIJ = 1.02

For this conference only, accepted full papers will be published for a flat fee of $100. Student-only papers (all authors on the paper are students) accepted for publication will be published free of charge.

NOTE: A full paper is NOT required for you to attend and present an abstract. However, you must attend and present your work in order for your accepted full paper to be published in a journal after the conference.

The International Association of Journals and Conferences (www.IAJC.org)

Conference topics include all areas of engineering/technology, manufacturing, biomedical, math, applied science, university-industry collaboration, computers, and academic/private entrepreneurship and innovation.

IAJC Conference General Chair, Philip Weinsier: philipw@bgsu.edu (419.372.0628)
IAJC President, Mark Rajai: mrajai@csun.edu (818.677.5003)