ATMAE: Committed to Your Employment Needs

According to the US Department of Labor's May report, Job Openings and Labor Turnover Study (JOLTS), job openings stood at 5.6 million, a record rate since 2000. Filling jobs took the highest amount of time since before the crash in 2008. The fact is, it is becoming harder for employers to find the right person for their open jobs. Worse yet, the tech sector and the manufacturing sector are much higher than the average in taking time to fill positions.

It's important now more than ever, for companies like yours to support and BENEFIT from ATMAE. Short term, Corporate Members in ATMAE can advertise open positions directly to the single largest category of our membership - students - who are studying in the very fields you are trying to fill! Why reach out through some generic employment website, (which costs significantly more than ours) when you can reach out to individuals who you know are motivated to do more than the typical student?

Long term, Corporate Members are in a unique position to identify the top of the field by sponsoring competitions that ATMAE can advertise and promote nationwide. These competitions are only limited by our imagination. They can be conducted online or in person at our conference. Where else can you, for a reasonable price, work with educators across the country to develop a way to judge talent for your future workforce - and implement it - WHILE gaining a reputation for supporting the field of the very talent you want to encourage to work for you? If you are interested in this unique opportunity contact John Hausoul at john@atmae.org.

ATMAE members have been providing an educated workforce for almost 50 years. Isn't it time to take advantage of this resource and benefit your company?

The ATMAE Lean Six Sigma Certification Exam: Why it Matters to You?

As Lean Six Sigma grows in popularity among a wide variety of companies and organizations, the demand for employees possessing these skills intensifies.

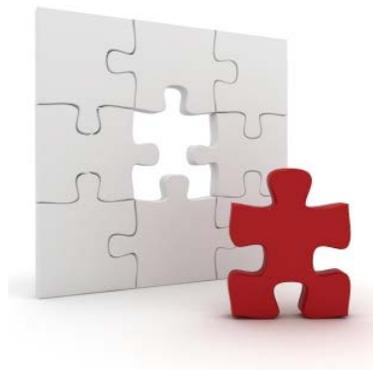

Dr. Heshium Lawrence and Dr. Mark Miller, of the University of Texas at Tyler focus their research on the development process of an affordable Lean Six Sigma certification alternative that follows the guidelines of the strictest personal certification accrediting body.

A thorough review of the leading Lean Six Sigma Black Belt Certification Programs is discussed as well as the rationale for the development of the ATMAE Lean Six Sigma Certification Program. Industry professionals will find this article of great value. Read this article plus many more JTMAE publications by exploring ATMAE's JTMAE webpage.

Find Your Next Employee through the ATMAE Career Center

ATMAE Accepting Nominations for the Early Career Achievers & Industry Innovators Awards

Is there a co-worker or friend who is a recent graduate (within the last seven years) that has demonstrated outstanding leadership and superior performance in your organization? If he/she is an ATMAE Member, consider nominating them for the ATMAE Early Career Achievers Award. Additionally, ATMAE is looking for members who have created better or more effective products, processes, services, technologies, or ideas that are accepted by markets, governments or society. The ATMAE Industry Innovation Award is intended to recognize entrepreneurs, the self-employed, and individuals in business, industry and/or the private sector. Check out details on these awards on the ATMAE Awards page!

ATMAE Introduces New Corporate Membership and Benefits Packages

While more than 50% of manufacturing companies report plans to increase production through 2019, more than 75% of manufacturers also report moderate to severe shortage of skilled resources (Manufacturing Institute/Accenture, 2014). ATMAE can help fill this gap by allowing industry employers to gain access to the trained workforce they need to increase profits and visibility. Becoming a Corporate Member of ATMAE means your employees will have access to the latest industry education and career development and a membership base of over 900 community colleges, universities, and students.

Corporate Membership packages include up to 100 complimentary memberships, discounts on job postings and conference registration, and opportunities to increase visibility through speaking time and signage at ATMAE annual meetings and events. Check out the ATMAE Corporate Prospectus today and gain access to the best trained Engineering and Technology professionals in the country!
