

Network Meeting Code of Conduct

The Association for Vascular Access is committed to providing an opportunity for members to broaden their knowledge of vascular access and related fields through networking opportunities and education. AVA Networks offer vascular access professionals the opportunity to network with other professionals in their area of expertise.

The intent of this document is to establish code of conduct expectations for attendees and members of all Network meetings.

Expectations include:

Act with integrity, professionalism and courtesy to others always

Respect speakers.

Do not chat/talk/visit with others during presentations.

Refrain from disrespecting speaker/products/processes that are being presented.

Refrain from disrespectful questioning during the presentations or Q&A.
