THE SAGUARA
(ARIZONA STATE FLOWER)

By Margaret Wheeler Ross

God's candelabra,
Long years you stand,
With arms uplifted,
On the tableland;
A feast spread before you,
A vision rare,
Meat and drink of loveliness,
Soul satisfying fare.

Old mountains drunk with beauty,
Clothed in velvet shadows,
Sit huddled roundabout,
The head of one
On the shoulder of the other,
Mad with wine of color
In ecstasy they shout.
But you, Saguara,
God's candelabra,
Like an ancient priest,
Stand with arms unlifted,
Blessing the feast.

DEDICATION

To the
Pioneer Nurses of Arizona
This Book Is Gratefully Dedicated.
Mrs. Vera Thomas
President Arizona State Nurses' Assn.
To The Nurses of Arizona - Greetings!

With arms outstretched in cordial welcome your President comes before you on this propitious occasion, holding in her right hand your First Annual Year Book, and in her left the Souvenir Program of our Tenth Annual Convention.

These two presents,—the product of past efforts and the promise of future accomplishments,—mark the half-way point of our personal and professional career.

Looking back a decade, we see stretching out behind us nine successful conventions.

Looking round-about us right now, we realize that such success is assured.

Looking forward another decade we foresee nine still more successful conventions.

All of which will culminate in a full score, when the publication of our Tenth Annual Year Book shall coincide with the calling to order of our Twentieth Annual Convention.

In the meantime and always, I remain yours for personal co-operation and professional efficiency.

Vera B. Thomas,
President.
Think of the nursing profession as a tree, rooted in the soil of service and spreading out its branches to shelter the sick. Trees are raised in nurseries, you know; then why not think of your nurses' associations as such? Surely they are 'nurseries' in the strict sense of the term, that is, "the place where anything is fostered and its growth promoted."

At any rate this is the similitude that the editors had in mind while preparing your Year Book for publication.

The oak we took to be typical of the American Nurses' Association; since it grows great from little acorns and thrives in every state.

Symbolic of the Arizona State Nurses' Association is the Sahuara; because it flourishes under arid conditions and makes the desert bloom like a rose.

Each of the seven Districts also should have its special tree. We were working out the series with our artist (as you will see from their respective frontispieces), when the printer called us peremptorily to press.

Meteorologists are now able to predict the weather by studying the rings around trees. If so, then historians should be able to foretell the future of any undertaking by taking its circumstances into account.

This we have endeavored to do in depicting the past, describing the present, and discerning the future of the several nurses' associations set forth in this book. Each section thereof is as it were, a ring around one or the other of the hardy trees that grow in the American and Arizona Nurseries.
Prologue

ARIZONA

Why call it the land that God forgot
When He lavished all His wonders here?
Can you say He gave this land no thought
When you constantly feel His presence near?

Have you looked at the canyon deep and wide,
Strained your eyes, in vain, to the other side?
Have you been on the desert when the light
Is fading away with the coming of night?
Have you lain for hours on a pine-needle bed,
With your eyes on the blue skies over your head?

My pen could never hope to tell
The wonders He placed in this setting;
Perhaps—your God has remembered well,
And you are the one that's forgetting.

Dorothy Stuart.

THE LAND OF HIDDEN TREASURES

By Sister Loyola Marie

With Dorothy Stuart we agree that Arizona is not the land that God forgot; but on the contrary, the land wherein He bestowed His gifts with a lavish hand. Verily, indeed, how could it be the land that God forgot when He placed treasures—great treasures of untold wealth and unequaled beauty—there? True it is, these treasures were hidden from the eyes of man; hidden in the fastness of the mountain gorges; hidden in the depths of the earth; hidden beneath the surface of shifting valley sands. Then man, in his innate desire to possess, to seek, and to conquer, came to Arizona and forced her to open the doors of her treasure houses. The mighty waters of her rivers were harnessed and led to the valleys, so as to bring forth the fruits of the earth a hundred-fold.

Brave men, daring men, sought the rich gold, silver and copper-bearing ores in the hearts of the mountains and the depths of the earth. The intrepid explorer found regions of surpassing beauty; a beauty unique in its coloring; a beauty awe-inspiring in the vastness of silent desert lands and wild mountain regions.

Arizona—silver-bearing—so named by the ancient Aztecs, had lured the adventurer within its borders to seek wealth from its vast mineral deposits. "Here lies the mineral treasure vault of the United States," said the famed explorer and geologist, Alexander Humboldt. Unexpectedly the lone prospector chanced upon a vein, rich in gold and silver ores. Word spread of the discovery and soon the surrounding area rang with the sound of pick and shovel. The treasure vault was yielding of its priceless store. This El Dorado Land became the Mecca of capitalists and miners, who developed and worked the ore-bearing areas on a great commercial scale. Copper, lead and zinc deposits were discovered, which added great wealth to the State. As yet, the mineral resources of Arizona have only been tapped; untouched deposits of precious and industrial minerals are stored away in the mountains, which, in time, will be mined to meet the needs of the magic growth of commercial activities in the United States.

Many mining camps became the permanent cities, which in time developed an agricultural back country. The farmers, realizing the fertility of the soil and the natural advantage of abundant sunshine, sought government aid in securing the lacking necessity—water. The late Theodore Roosevelt, when President of the United States, strongly urged in his message to Congress the reclamation of arid lands in the Southwest. Before the United States reclaimed these arid lands, a famous geologist examined soil specimens of the Salt River Valley and pronounced them even richer than the soil of the Nile Delta. Consequently, Congress authorized the construction of the Roosevelt Dam, thus securing to the farmers of Salt River Valley an enormous storage of water, distributed by a system of irrigating canals.

The peculiar type of the soil is especially favorable for the growing of truck crops and fruit, and equally adaptable to the growing of general crops, such as alfalfa, wheat, barley, oats, and corn. The products of these general crops are an advantage to dairy-farming and poultry-raising. Cattle-raising, long a profitable agricultural industry, flourishes in Arizona on account of the extensive grazing lands, and, in time of drought, cattle feed is easily obtained.

Yet, Arizona holds a treasure of more value than its gold, greater than the fruits of the valleys, greater than the scenic beauty of its mountains and deserts. It holds and gratuitously gives from its sunshine and air the life-giving vigor of health. Yes, many have breathed in Arizona's soft, salmy atmosphere and have made this State the land of their adoption.
Globe-trotters have proclaimed the southwest section of Arizona, especially Tucson, to be an ideal winter climate. So, too, those who have wintered on the French and Italian Rivieras, or beneath the warm rays of the sun in the ancient cities of the Nile valley. The mountainous region in the northwest of the State affords an ideal summer-vacation land. The thickly wooded forests make excellent camping grounds, where one may engage in hunting, fishing, horseback riding, and mountain climbing.

Arizona is attracting and will continue to do so, and herein lies the assurance of her growing prosperity, the enlargement of her commerce, and the increase of her population.

The land that God forgot? No. Rather a more than usually God-blessed region!

Foot Note: Sister Loyola Marie wrote this charming sketch of Arizona for the Nurses' Year Book just before her untimely death at St. Mary's Hospital, Tucson, on February 20th, 1928.

PIioneer Nurses of Phoenix

By Bertha Case

It is a long look backward from the publishing of the year book of the Arizona State Nurses' Association to the coming of the first graduate nurse to Phoenix. It takes a little imagination to discover the nucleus of this organization in a young man's trip to the World's Fair in Chicago in 1893. It is also surprising to find that it developed from a typhoid germ.

One of quite the nicest young men of Phoenix, Mr. Lloyd Christy, set out to see the world, which at that time was located in Jackson Park, Chicago. All unknown to him, he carried with him the lure and the romance of the Territory of Arizona. Unfortunately for him, he developed typhoid fever and was taken to the hospital.

Now everyone knows that a nice young men needs the nicest special nurse, and the better the nurse the more speedy the recovery. What better could be done for this young man from the West than to give him Miss Lunette Ready for his special?

During the weeks of convalescence he talked of Phoenix. Because he loved the place, he made his nurse wish to see the West for herself. She wondered if a graduate nurse would be needed so far from Chicago. After Mr. Christy returned home he asked the doctors if they thought they could use a nurse. They felt sure they could, so the information was relayed to Miss Ready.

It was a year before she graduated from Lakeside Hospital—a long time for a pupil nurse to wait. At last she had her diploma and school pin, so she was equipped to go forth to meet the Indians and coyotes. The Santa Fe train came only as far as Wickenburg, so Mr. Christy and his brother drove a team to meet Miss Ready. It was thus that the first graduate nurse came to Phoenix in 1894.

It was several years before other nurses felt the lure of the West. Possibly they felt that three dollars a day was not worth traveling two thousand miles to get. The year 1900 finds Miss Lyons, a classmate of Miss Ready; Miss Diddis (Mrs. Warwick Scott), of Pueblo, Colorado, and Miss Ida Clouse of the Illinois Eastern Asylum for the Insane, Rantoul.

Those who came at a later date were Miss Robinson, Miss Chapman, Miss Mitchell, now of the Pacific Hospital, Los Angeles; Miss Josephine Williams (Mrs. Barry Goldwater), of the Illinois Training School; Miss Amy Carey, who was surgical nurse at St. Joseph's Hospital; Miss Anna Munson, Illinois Training School; Miss Kinsey (Mrs. Theodore Hoover), and Miss Jennie Nolan.
Miss Nellie Wilcox, a pioneer of Arizona, packed her bag in 1901 and went to the City and County Hospital in San Francisco, and took the nurse's training. This gives Miss Wilcox the distinction of being not only a pioneer nurse, but a pioneer of the State as well. More will be said of her in the history of the Arizona State Nurses' Association, District No. 1.

It has been our pleasure to have been associated with several of these worthy women in later years. They have always been a marvel to us, because they paved the way for the nurses of the present time. We have always felt that they carried with them some interesting history. When the modern nurses have complained because of inconveniences, the pioneers have merely smiled. Their history, as written by them, tells a few of the things they endured in the early days.

In preparing data for this paper we have visited some of the pioneers in their homes. If you could only see them as we did you would find them most interesting. To do them justice one should be a writer of romance.

Not long ago two of the Phoenix nurses, in company with Mrs. Warwick Scott (Miss Diddis), called on Miss Clouse and Mrs. Richards (Miss Nolan).

Miss Clouse is the most picturesque nurse in Arizona. Being a wise woman, she has chosen a correct setting for herself. She lives in Paradise Valley, north of Camelback. Several years ago she homesteaded 160 acres. It means more to her than just desert. She has made dreams come true. She has a tiny empire, or is it a miniature city?

When you cross the divide which separates Paradise Valley you see a group of cottages just east of Hyatt's Camp. Even at a distance they look spick and span. As you near the place a lovely ocotillo hedge waves you welcome. The drive is bordered with smooth stones.

Some of the cottages are thatched with palm leaves, which almost makes you think that you have been wafted to the South Sea Islands. You also find palm trees growing. One of the cozy nooks, which Miss Clouse calls Coney Island, has a roof of palm leaves, and underneath are comfortable swings and reclining chairs.

Just outside of Coney Island is the body of an old car cunningly converted into a seat, over which is a large umbrella. We were so fortunate as to snap Miss Clouse and Mrs. Scott in this seat discussing early days.

There are so many things of interest that one can only hit the high spots in so brief an article. In passing we noticed a bird bath which had been made by one of the patients. Another attractive feature is a fountain made of pop bottles. It does not sound a bit interesting, but it is really most attractive. It is also interesting to know that there is enough water on the desert to supply water for a fountain.

In addition to having patients, Miss Clouse finds time to weave rag rugs. The loom room joins the library. After working until she is tired, she can step into the most enchanting little library you ever saw.

When we first entered the door we rubbed our eyes to make sure we were not seeing things. Here were rows of books and magazines placed in imitation of a public library. It is also a museum of antiques and curios. Some of the furniture came from Denmark. The room almost cast a spell over us, it was so quaint and restful.

All of us wanted to linger longer at this most charming place, but we had to travel several miles to see the next pioneer nurse, so we bade Miss Clouse adieu with a promise to call again. As we discussed what we had found we decided that she had made dreams come true, and we voted her the most picturesque nurse in Arizona.

We next visited Mrs. Jennie Nolan Richards. We found a very modern home and a lovely ranch. In spite of the modern surroundings, we were soon wafted back to old Ireland. While we drank a cup o' tea in the delightful breakfast nook, and pried the thick cream on peaches, which we ate with the best brown bread, both Mr. and Mrs. Richards told us of the early days.
Mrs. Richards, in her delightful way, had written a few of her pioneer experiences. One of the things we learned from her was that when nurses were called, they went regardless of place or conditions. Rattlesnakes, coyotes, or Indians, could not stand between them and a patient. They traveled on bicycles.

Being always interested in the romance of a nurse, we asked Mr. Richards NURSES' YEAR BOOK—Galley THREE how it all happened. He said he had tetanus and was delirious for twenty-three days. Miss Nolan was his nurse. Now everyone knows that an Englishman is not so quick under the hat as an Irishman. Add to that the fact that a beautiful Irish nurse had nursed the Englishman back to life and learned to love him, even in his delirium, and I ask you, what chance did the man have?

All the pioneer nurses of Phoenix were closely associated with St. Joseph's Hospital. They tell us many things about the early struggles of the Sisters to maintain the hospital. The Sisters did all of the menial work and much of the nursing. Nurses and Sisters worked together for suffering humanity. The money received was so meager in proportion to the work they did that it makes us wonder how they had the courage to continue.

Even twenty-five years ago the graduate nurses of Phoenix talked of organizing a nurses' association. They hoped that at some time they would be a part of the great A. N. A. Dear, faithful pioneers. They worked amid great hardships, they worked long, hard hours, and they received but three dollars a day. They made nursing possible for us of the present day. What a tribute the Arizona State Nurses' Association owes them!

EARLY NURSING IN THE OLD PUEBLO

By Anna Duke Mets, Graduate German Hospital '01, San Francisco California

Tucson's estimated population in 1904 was 12,000, a great portion of which was Mexicans.

There were about eleven practising physicians, and three to four permanent graduate nurses, many practicing their profession during the winter months only.

St. Mary's Hospital was a small building, and did not have a Training School for nurses, but was conducted by the Sisters of St. Joseph under the able supervision of Mother Fidelia. There was not much wealth in Tucson, and as a result, many operations (both minor and major) were performed in private homes, many of which were small adobe. Trunks and kitchen tables were improvised for operating purposes. Instruments, dressings, and solution receptacles were sterilized by means of a wash boiler, or the oven of a kitchen range. There were no infections, and splendid results were accomplished.

The salary of the pioneer nurse was $25 weekly, and twenty-four hours constituted her day. When a patient's condition (in a private house) did not require constant attention, the nurse (who was then termed an "expensive luxury") performed many household duties, such as cooking, washing necessary linen for the sick, and caring for a baby or young children, if any.

In many instances it became necessary to furnish one's cot and blankets, and I have slept in a Morris chair, and sometimes upon the floor, with my coat for a covering.

Nurses (like doctors) were subject to calls at all hours, and as the only means of conveyance was a carryall, we depended upon the trustworthy Mexican drivers to locate the house of a patient, as many of the residences did not have any numbers.

Doctor Fenner (who, I believe, lives in Berkeley, California) owned the first "auto" in Tucson, and Doctor Whitmore, who resides here at present, is the veteran doctor of the Old Pueblo.
I remained in Tucson nursing steadily for five years, before having my first vacation. While the hours were long, and the inconveniences many, yet the results were most gratifying in the majority of cases.

Tho' her heart ache, she should not show it,
Tho' her back ache, she should not know it,
Tho' her head ache and her feet grow weary,
She should still look bright and cheery."

"ANTE-GRADUATE" NURSES OF ARIZONA

By Christianna Glass Gilchrist

"GIRLIE"

She was gay and flirtations, of uncertain years, but she "just loved to nurse them tuberculars;" they always liked her so well. They always called her "Girlie." But in spite of this we were forced to employ her, placing her in charge of three men in two tents. Friends sent in an abundance of delicacies and we furnished enough necessities. In about three days, our visitor went out to note progress. The patients, unshaven and untidy, burning with afternoon temperature, lay on their beds, still unmade at four o'clock. The men explained: "We make 'em at night." A can of beans was heating on the stove for lunch. Also, Girlie was at the "other tent." A third tent was found half a block distant. There was Girlie, coquettishly dressed, serving tea to her friends, and distributing among them all the delicacies and most of the other supplies. But in spite of this, she was married the next morning to the sickest of her three patients.

"ELINOR"

Elinor flounced into our office, seeking work. She was horribly angry with the last doctor under whom she had nursed. It had been a critical typhoid case, and yesterday morning the doctor had told her that he thought it safe now to give the patient a small slice of toast in milk. Elinor told the doctor that she thought so, too; anyway, she had just done it. And the doctor simply went wild. She just never would nurse for him again. Probably not.

"MA"

And there was "Ma." She was fat and stupid, untidy and ill-dressed. But a good physician recommended her as being pleasing to her patients. Well, she was. She took charge of a little camp of four men, ill with tuberculosis. The patients sent in cheering reports, and, although conditions seemed to be far below desirable standards, and almost unsanitary, our visitor always found the men contented and enthusiastic about "Ma." She called them her "boys," although they averaged about forty years. But one night, about the end of her first week, came a telephone message from a neighbor, ending with "I thought you ought to know." And this is what we found: One man asleep under his bed, one ghastly ill—not with his lung trouble—two still filling glasses from bottles, and "Ma" herself, on the table, red-faced and dishevelled, waving a bottle with one hand and a shoe with the other.

DUST-TO-DUST DENNIS

And there was poor old Mrs. Dennis, whose weak mind deserted her one night when she thought her patient was dying, and she sprinkled the contents of the dust-pan over him, murmuring "dust to dust." The patient lived to tell it and laugh about it.

MRS. HAUSMANN'S STEP-SON

And Mrs. Hausmann, a fair nurse, but unsophisticated, to say the least. She rushed in, all pleasurable excitement, to ask the day off that she might go to Florence to see her step-son hanged. But he was not hanged.

"A Sick Man's Best Friend"

As an experienced nurse, she was a knockout!

An exclusive photo of a nurse busily entertaining the much-heard-of "Prince of Wails."

I've heard a dog is a sick man's friend, and monkey's will amuse, always on a parent's lead. A touch to sick house and zoo. Some say madness like a hound. To keep one company, while some prefer a cat around. The bed, but none for me.

In case of a nurse, a 'miss is as good as her smile."

I'd have no gold fish, bird or beast, None of these you get - My choice will be a nurse at least. If I should wear a pet.

The smart nurse always gives her patient "well-balanced" meals!

Just a little slip of a nurse.

"An eye for an eye" the good looking nurse said as she returned the past patient's wink."
MARICOPA COUNTY GRADUATE NURSES' ASSOCIATION

DECEMBER 17, 1927

By Bertha Case

It was in January, 1914, that the writer had her first case in St. Joseph's Hospital. It was a memorable case for many reasons. The patient was a bride of but a few months. Her husband was an English remittance man. They were in Phoenix for the health of the groom.

In crossing the street the bride paused to see a truck hit a man on a motorcycle, but instead the driver swerved and hit the innocent bystander. Two of the vertebra were splintered. Wildly screaming, she was picked up by an autoist and taken home. She said she rode on her knees.

She was next placed in an ambulance and rushed to the hospital. Two of our local surgeons did a bone graft, and after less than six months the patient was able to walk.

Before she had been in the hospital ten weeks I was called on the case. I found that I had been preceded by fourteen nurses. At that time it was the custom for nurses to move up at the dining table according to the length of time they had been on a case.

When I went down to the dining table Sister gave me a seat at the head of the table because I took the place of the nurse who had been there the longest. I started to smile and say "Good morning," but the smile froze on my lips, for I met only a frosty glare. It was some time before I found out that the cause of my unpopularity was the seat I occupied.

Before I left the case nurses came in who were friendly. Each time I returned I found one group which was friendly and one which was chilly. The next year Miss Rose Darcy came. I noticed that she experienced the same chilly atmosphere that I had felt.

As new nurses came, we began talking about a nurses' association. While part of the nurses were in favor of it, others were very strongly opposed. It was not long until those in favor of a nurses' association were having group meetings, on the roof, in the utility room, the diet kitchen, or any place where two or three congenial souls might meet together.

In December, 1917, we met at the home of Miss Rose Darcy and organized the Maricopa County Graduate Nurses' Association. Some of the married nurses gave us their support by becoming charter members. If I remember correctly, there were over twenty who paid their fee of one dollar and signed their names in the secretary's book at that meeting.

Unfortunately the secretary's book cannot be found at this time, and no one remembers the names of all the members. I wish to beg the pardon of any member whose name has been omitted. The following were among the charter members:

Miss Nellis Wilcox was elected president, Rose Darcy secretary and Edith Snowden treasurer.

The object of the association was to raise the standard of nursing and secure State registration of graduate nurses.

The morning paper had a very good article about the organizing of a Graduate Nurses' Association. All the members who were on duty at St. Joseph's Hospital went down to breakfast with their heads held high. They intended to ask the nurses who had not attended the meeting why they were not there; but one look was sufficient—the nurses who had been giving us the frosty look for so long were not graduates!
They were the most forlorn looking lot of women one ever saw. They had been in Phoenix for years, and in justice to them be it known that they had done good work. They were women of intelligence, but doubtless circumstances had forced them to get out and work long before they had finished their training.

We all felt sorry for them, and we realized that they had seen the writing on the wall as the number of graduates increased. After that no one tried to freeze us with a look.

As secretary, much of the work of the organization was done by Miss Darcy. Not a member knew anything about how a nurses’ association should be conducted. All of the instructions came from National Headquarters, and the Maricopa Infant must have given the parent much trouble.

PIMA COUNTY GRADUATE NURSES’ ASSOCIATION

DECEMBER 5TH, 1918

By Sister Evangelista

The first meeting of the Pima County Graduate Nurses’ Association was held December 5th, 1918, at St. Mary’s School of Nursing, Tucson, Arizona.

Dr. Arthur Ocolt opened the meeting, assuring the nurses of the hearty support of the physicians of this city for organization and standardization of the nursing profession. He nominated Miss Bertha Rowe, R. N., as first President, which choice was unanimously endorsed by the assembled nurses. Miss Helen Dickerman was chosen Vice-President, Miss Maude Moody Treasurer, and Miss Ruth Ray Sohn Secretary.

The compiling of the by-laws was submitted to the following committee: Mother M. Fidelia, Superior of St. Mary’s Hospital; Sister M. Natalia, one of St. Mary’s first nurses; Sister Anna Joseph, R. N., Technician, St. Mary’s; Mrs. Olive Watson, R. N., a pioneer nurse of Tucson; Sister M. Evangelista, R. N., Superintendent of Nurses, St. Mary’s.

Miss Bertha Rowe, R. N., the first President of the Pima County Nurses’ Association, was one of the first graduate nurses of Tucson, Arizona, and was untiring in her efforts to raise the standard of the nursing profession in Arizona. She brought about the organization now known as District No. 2 of the Arizona State Nurses’ Association, which association has retained much of its original enthusiasm, owing to this most worthy founder.

She aided also, or we may say she was the instigator of the movement for establishing the State Association of Arizona, and by this means she was instrumental in bringing about the division of the State into districts, according to the plan worked out by the American Nurses’ Association.

Miss Rowe visited the cities and towns of the State, conferring with nurses, supervising their work, and improving their condition, usually without considering her own personal expense. She was foremost in legislation when our bill for registration of nurses in Arizona was finally introduced in the Phoenix State House. She saw the bill through, and was appointed by Governor Campbell President of the State Board of Nurse Examiners. This place she held until she resigned on account of change of residence to New Mexico, which State also enjoyed and no doubt profited by her constructive influence.

Of Miss Rowe we may say that her personality was pleasing and her ethical impulses were of the highest type, worthy of imitation by any nurse in the great field of nursing activity.
Miss Helen Dickerman, the first Vice-President of the Pima County Graduate Nurses' Association, was the first pupil to enter the new School of Nursing established at St. Mary's on December 1st, 1914, at which time Sister M. Francis de Sales, R. N., graduate of Mercy Hospital, Chicago, was the Superintendent of Nurses. Miss Dickerman showed ability and much tenacity of purpose under various difficulties. On May 30th, 1918, she graduated from St. Mary's, the first lay nurse to complete the course given the first regular class of students at this institution, in Tucson, Arizona. She has served the profession in various capacities, and has been conceded a successful and efficient nurse, fulfilling the imposed obligation of her class motto: "Worthy of Confidence."

Miss Ray Ruth Sohn, R. N., was the first Secretary of the Pima County Graduate Nurses' Association, later known as District No. 2 of Arizona State Nurses' Association. She was a very able, interested nurse, who entered whole-heartedly into the plan of forming the Graduate Nurses' Association. Shortly after its establishment, she left Tucson for other fields of labor, and we have not been advised as to her whereabouts, but our best wishes will always follow her.

Miss Maude Moody, R. N., our first Treasurer, was a graduate of the old school, showing thoroughness and attention to duty, along with the newer technic and efficiency in the same. The call to foreign fields found her ready, and after years of faithful service, she returned again, to be reinstated in the Association of which she was a charter member.

COCHISE COUNTY GRADUATE NURSES' ASSOCIATION

MAY, 1919

By Mrs. Georgia Hull Flanigan

The Cochise County Graduate Nurses' Association was organized in Douglas in May, 1919. It was a local organization at first, known as the Douglas Association of Graduate Nurses. When Bisbee was added, a little later on, the name was changed to the Cochise County Graduate Nurses' Association, and the activities of the organization correspondingly enlarged.

The first officers were as follows: President, Mrs. L. R. Hudrow; Vice-President, Mrs. Anna M. Payton; Secretary, Mrs. Norah O. Stokes; Treasurer, Miss Zona Peterson.

Among the original members the following names appear: Rosanna King, Dolta D. Withrow, Mrs. McGe, Miss Segrist, and Mrs. Shotwell.

GILA COUNTY NURSES' ASSOCIATION

JULY 29, 1920

By Miss Ellen Harrison

The Gila County Nurses' Association, subsequently known as District No. 4, which embraces Gila, Greenlee and Graham Counties, was organized on the twentieth of July, 1920, by Miss Bertha C. Rowe, with twenty charter members.

Miss Louise Perrett was elected President of the Three G Association at this meeting. Mrs. Edith Brand, now Superintendent of the Calumet and Arizona Copper Company Hospital at Bisbee, was made Treasurer. Miss Higglos was made Secretary.

The proposed constitution and by-laws were written shortly after this meeting and forwarded to the State Secretary at Tucson for revision.

At the annual meeting held on October 11 of the same year the organization was perfected. Meetings were held subsequent to this date, but only when regarded as necessary, owing to the frequent changes among the members.

FOREWORD

The American Nurses' Association of today reflects the rapid growth and high status of the nursing profession. In 1881, there were less than 500 nurses in the United States. Today, the number has passed 300,000—truly a magnificent army of professional women.

Of this number, approximately 62,000 are united in membership in the American Nurses' Association, one of the largest women's professional organizations in the world, and a power behind the nursing profession. Included in the membership are 48 State Associations, the District of Columbia Graduate Nurses' Association, the Territories of Porto Rico and Hawaii and Freedmen's Alumnae Association.

Sectional interests of the American Nurses' Association are represented in the Mid-Atlantic, the New England, the Mid-West and the Northwestern Divisions, while some of the varied interests of the organization are carried in the Private Duty, the Government Service, the Mental Hygiene and the Legislative Sections.

By means of the national headquarters of the American Nurses' Association at 370 Seventh Avenue, New York, N. Y., the forces of the organization are centralized around a single base, from which information on nursing service is disseminated and the most efficient ways of serving the sick and well public are sought. Its activities are constantly widening.

HISTORY

ORIGIN: 1893

At the World's Fair in Chicago there was called together a Congress of Hospitals and Dispensaries. The chairman of the nursing section of this congress was Isabel Hampton Robb, Principal and Superintendent of Nurses at the Johns Hopkins School of Nursing, who delivered an address on "Educational Standards." Among the other papers presented at this session was one on "The Necessity of an American Nurses' Association," and another on "Alumnae Associations—Their Need and Importance." At the close of the meeting the American Society of Superintendents of Training Schools was formed, which later developed into the National League of Nursing Education.

PRELIMINARY ORGANIZATION: 1896

At the third meeting of the American Society of Superintendents a paper was read by Lavinia L. Dock on "A National Association for Nurses and Its Legal Organization," whereupon a committee of five was appointed by the chair to select seven others to form the nucleus of a convention which should prepare a constitution and by-laws. Representative alumnae associations were also asked to send delegates.

The meeting, which was held at the Manhattan Beach Hotel, near New York City, on September 2nd, 1896, marks the real beginning of the American Nurses' Association.

An all-inclusive title, the Nurses' Associated Alumnae of the United States and Canada, was decided upon, and it was agreed that the object of the organization would be the promotion of education and ethics in nursing. Isabel Hampton Robb was the first President, a fitting leader for such a big enterprise.

FIRST AND SECOND CONVENTIONS—1898 AND 1899

When the first convention was held in New York in 1898, the President, Isabel Hampton Robb, spoke of the high aspirations of the Superintendents for their graduates. Many of the ideals of these early leaders have been realized in the nurses who followed them.

OFFICIAL INCORPORATION—1901

In 1901, the association was incorporated in the State of New York as the Nurses' Associated Alumnae of the United States, and only nurses in the United States were eligible. Unhappily this eliminated the Canadian nurses from membership, and was a source of deep regret, for the nurses from Canada had been of great service in the early days of the organization, and a strong bond of fellowship existed between the nurses from both sides of the border.

INTERSTATE SECRETARY—1906

Another aid to nursing development came in 1906, when the office of Interstate Secretary was created. Sara Sly was the first nurse to assume the position. She, by means of trips and copious correspondence, kept herself informed on the activities in all the States, and aided many associations in their problems. In 1911 she was followed by Isabel McIsaac, but it was not until 1917 that the American Nurses' Association, in cooperation with the National League of Nursing Education, appropriated sufficient funds to pay the salary of an Interstate Secretary. Adda Eldredge was named to the position at that time, and served until the end of November, 1919.

CHANGE OF NAME AND NEW BASIS OF MEMBERSHIP—1909 AND 1916

As the association grew rapidly, the complexity of membership increased. There was a bewildering variety of charter members, permanent members, alumnae members, city and county organizations and State associations. In fact, it would have taken an expert to keep them all straight, and a duplication of dues and delegates was not infrequent.

One step out of the wilderness was taken in 1909, when the name of Nurses' Associated Alumnae of the United States was changed to the American Nurses' Association, but the real clarification came in 1916 when the Committee on Reorganization presented the present plan of membership. This established the principle that eligibility for membership is based on alumnae endorsement, and enables the registered nurse to enter the association through the alumnae association of her school and through the district. Annual meetings were held from 1897 to 1918, and biennial sessions after that.

HEADQUARTERS—1896-1923

Even the pioneers of 1896 talked of a permanent headquarters for the American Nurses' Association, but the plan did not take definite form until 1914, in St. Louis, when the nurses voted to have a central place for the meeting of the officers of the three national nursing organizations. The plan was impressive. Headquarters was to be a place for the custodial care of valuable papers of the organization and for the accumulation of information on nursing. It was also to be the headquarters of the Interstate Secretary and the source for the distribution of nursing information. Scope was given for the development of future activities.

CONCLUSION

The American Nurses' Association has been forced to grow to immense proportions to keep pace with a profession that has increased by leaps and bounds. Its sphere of usefulness and endeavor is constantly widening, but the fundamental purpose is the same; to help the nursing profession, give nursing service to both the sick and the well public, in remedial and preventive work, and to serve with increasing efficiency.

ORGANIZATION

The original association, namely, the Nurses' Associated Alumnae of the United States and Canada, was composed of charter members, permanent members, alumnae members, city and county organizations, State associations, the National League of Nursing Education, and the National Organization for Public Health Nursing. It was soon found, however, that this scheme involved duplication of dues by the individual and of representation to the meetings. So a committee was appointed to make a study of the association to determine how it might be simplified, and in 1916 the Committee on Reorganization presented the following plan to the delegates in session, which was adopted, but it was not until 1922 that the work of reorganization was completed with the State associations.
Through this plan of organization individual nurses became members of the American Nurses' Association in the following manner:

a) An individual nurse being a member of her alumnae and residing in the place where her alumnae is located becomes a member of the American Nurses' Association through the district and State associations.

(b) If, on the other hand, she is not living in the place where her alumnae is located, she is considered a non-resident of her alumnae, paying whatever dues are required, and makes application for membership in the district association within the State where she is residing, thus going through the district.

ACTIVITIES

(1) RELIEF, LOAN AND MEMORIAL FUNDS

The Nurses' Relief Fund of the American Nurses' Association, raised entirely by contributions from nurses, now amounts to approximately $124,000, and gives aid monthly to about 160 nurses who are ill or disabled and without funds. The largest amount paid individual beneficiaries is $20.60 monthly, the average sum being $15.00.

The McIsaac Loan Fund was established in 1917 to commemorate the services to her profession of Isabel McIsaac, one of the founders of the League and the American Nurses' Association, an early President of each, and of the Journal Board, a Field Secretary of the American Nurses' Association, Superintendent of the Army Nurse Corps, and author of several textbooks.

The Isabel Hampton Robb Memorial Fund was established by the National League of Nursing Education and the American Nurses' Association in 1910 as a memorial to Isabel Hampton Robb, one of the best known early superintendents of nurses; one of the founders of the National League of Nursing Education; of the course at Teachers' College and of the American Journal of Nursing; first President of the American Nurses' Association; an author of textbooks on nursing.

Both the McIsaac and the Isabel Hampton Robb Funds are used for educational purposes.

(2) PUBLICATIONS

The American Journal of Nursing is the official magazine of the American Nurses' Association. Other publications of the organization are the List of Schools of Nursing Accredited by State Boards of Nurse Examiners, which is published every even calendar year; the Digest of the Laws of the States Requiring Registration for Nurses and Attendants, which is also compiled biennially, and Anagrams, the bulletin of the association, which is published monthly with the exception of the summer months.

(3) NATION-WIDE NURSING STUDY

With the National League of Nursing Education, the National Organization for Public Health Nursing, the American College of Surgeons, the American Hospital Association, the American Public Health Association, and the American Medical Association, the American Nurses' Association is now engaged in a nation-wide study of nursing. Begun on January 1, 1927, the study is expected to take five years to complete, and will include investigations in supply and demand of nursing service, the point of view of the patient, the doctor and the nurse on what good nursing service is, and the way the present curriculum is meeting this need.
ACCOMPLISHMENTS

The purposes of the American Nurses' Association have been to establish and maintain a code of ethics; to elevate the standard of nursing education; to promote the usefulness and honor of nurses; to distribute relief among such nurses as may become ill, disabled or destitute; to disseminate information on the subject of nursing by publications in official periodicals or otherwise; to bring into communication with each other various nurses and associations and federations of nurses throughout the United States.

1. The American Nurses' Association is, through its organization, the basis upon which all other organizations build their specialties.

2. Through enactment of laws the practice of nursing has been regulated, through which the public is guaranteed better nursing service, both in disease prevention and in the care of the sick.

3. Through its membership and its relation to the American Red Cross, a reserve of nurses is maintained for service in time of great national or international emergencies, such as war, epidemics and disaster.

Probably the greatest contribution which has been made to the public through the national association is the legislative work in 48 States, which now have laws of registration for nurses, in order to protect the public from those who are not capable of nursing the sick, but who are demanding high rates for their services.

COMING EVENTS

Four events of major importance lie immediately before the American Nurses' Association: The grading of nursing schools; the relation of the nurse to her profession and to the public; the education of the consumers of nursing; and the biennial convention.

To the Committee on Grading of Nursing Schools, the association will give all the support in its power, for it needs that the program of study will mean more than anything else in shaping the trend of nursing during the next decade. Through publicity by spoken word, and news, magazine article and pamphlet, it will do all it can also to throw light on this program and to interpret it to members of the profession and to the public.

Professional advancement of nursing will be sought through the improvement of laws protecting the public from those unqualified to care for the sick, and through a program working toward a better distribution of nurses, and a more even employment in consequence. Official registries will be studied, and aid given in making available to the public all types of nursing service. Means will also be sought to offer nursing service at reduced rates in the form of group and hourly nursing in all parts of the country.

By means of a series of programs, within the reach of alumnae associations over a period of ten monthly meetings, such subjects as nutrition, the care of diabetics, and the change in nursing technique, will be presented. The object will be to enable the nurses to make the most of their monthly sessions.

Through addresses given before lay groups, through publicity directed at general periodicals and newspapers, through co-operation with men and women in other organizations, in enterprises with which the members of the profession are in sympathy, an endeavor will be made to increase the usefulness of nurses in community life and to bring about a more intelligent understanding between the nurse and the public.

The biennial nursing convention will loom large in the program of activities this year, and no pains will be spared to make it a help and inspiration to those who attend. This will mean concentrated effort on the program, the transportation arrangements, the exposition which will be held in connection with the convention, and on the publicity which will inform the public and the profession on the significance of the national session.

Arizona State Nurses' Association

FOREWORD

Immediately after their organization, in 1917 and 1918, respectively, first the Maricopa, then the Pima County Graduate Nurses' Association, got in touch with National Headquarters, with a view to organizing Arizona as a State unit of the American Nurses' Association.

The national organization responded by sending their Interstate Secretary, Adda Eldredge, to Arizona in the autumn of 1919. In Phoenix, Miss Eldredge was welcomed by the nurses of the Maricopa County organization, under the able leadership of Rose Darcy; in Tucson by the nurses of the Pima County organization, under the efficient direction of Bertha Rowe.

The result of these conferences was the calling of a mass meeting of graduate nurses together in Safford Auditorium, Tucson, on December 3rd, 1919, for the purpose of organizing the Arizona State Nurses' Association, and making it a member of the American Nurses' Association.

CONVENTIONAL CHRONICLE
FIRST ANNUAL MEETING

By Regina Hardy
DECEMBER 3RD, 1919

At the suggestion of Bertha Rowe, President of the Pima County Graduate Nurses' Association, Rose Darcy, President of the Maricopa County Graduate Nurses' Association, acted as chairman of this convention.

The meeting was opened by an enlightening address by Adda Eldredge, Interstate Secretary of the American Nurses' Association. Upon the conclusion of Miss Eldredge's address, the assembly of graduate nurses gathered together in Safford's Auditorium, Tucson, December 3rd, 1919, voted unanimously to organize the Arizona State Nurses' Association, along the lines laid down by the American Nurses' Association and followed by the older States.

The State was then districted, the Maricopa County Graduate Nurses' Association coming into the Arizona State Nurses' Association as District No. 1; the Pima County Graduate Nurses' Association constituting the nucleus of District No. 2, and the Cochise County Graduate Nurses' Association to form District No. 3. District No. 4 was to include Gila, Graham and Greenlee Counties; District No. 5, Yavapai, Coconino and Mohave Counties; District No. 6, Navajo and Apache Counties; and District No. 7, Yuma County.

In conclusion, an excellent corps of nurses was elected as officers of the Arizona State Nurses for the ensuing year.

President, Agnes Randolph, Bisbee; First Vice-President, Edna Crotfoot, Phoenix; Second Vice-President, Mrs. Mary Strickler, Tucson; Secretary, Kathryn MacKay, Tucson; Treasurer, Kathryn Seigrist, Douglas.

Board of Directors: Bertha C. Rowe, Tucson, and Rose W. Darcey, Phoenix, for three years; R. M. King, Douglas, and Bertha Case, Phoenix, for two years; Louise Perritt, Globe, and Mrs. H. S. McGee, Douglas, one year.

SECOND ANNUAL MEETING

OCTOBER 20TH TO 22ND, 1920, ADAMS HOTEL, PHOENIX, ARIZONA

On the invitation of the Maricopa County delegates to the first convention, the Arizona State Nurses' Association held its second annual meeting at the Adams Hotel, Phoenix, from October 20th to 22nd, inclusive.

At this meeting the proposed draft of the Act Regulating Professional Nursing of the Sick (which became a law June 9th, 1921) was read before the Board of Directors.

SEVENTH ANNUAL MEETING
MARCH 30TH AND 31ST, 1925, HOTEL ADAMS, PHOENIX

On the invitation of the District No. 1 delegates to the sixth convention, the Arizona State Nurses' Association held its seventh annual meeting in Phoenix.

The outstanding feature of this occasion was Governor George W. P. Hunt's speech before the convention. The Governor expressed his appreciation of the work the nurses were doing in the State, and declared that, without them, the medical profession would be hopelessly handicapped in their efficiency.

Mrs. Hardy presented a full and precise report of the biennial convention of the American Nurses' Association, held in Detroit, Michigan, on June 16th, 1924, to which she had been sent as a delegate.

For this meeting the student nurses of St. Mary's, St. Joseph's, and the Deaconess Hospital, joined forces in presenting a delightful entertainment for "Students' Night."

The following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year:
- President, Mrs. Gertrude Russell, Phoenix; First Vice-President, Minnie Benson, Tucson; Second Vice-President, Mrs. Ida Colburn, Phoenix; Secretary, Bertha Case, Phoenix; Treasurer, Margaret Kettlewell, Phoenix.

Your little flower-like faces
Where the bees of life may sip,
Are hies fair, and rosemary, and rue;
Wee passengers just landed
From the unknown mystery-ship;
I wonder what the future holds for you?

Annual Banquet at the Arizona Club.

EIGHTH ANNUAL MEETING
APRIL 5TH AND 6TH, 1926, FOURTH AVENUE GRAMMAR SCHOOL, YUMA

On the invitation of the District No. 7 delegates to the seventh convention, the Arizona State Nurses' Association held its eighth annual meeting in Yuma.

Though only just organized, the nurses of District No. 7, in conjunction with the physicians of Yuma, presented a remarkably well-planned program.
A. Louise Dietrich, Legislative Chairman of the American Nurses' Association, was present on this occasion, and delivered a noteworthy address on National Legislation, in which she set forth her proposed amendment

The following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year:
President, Mrs. Gertrude Russell, Phoenix; First Vice-President, Ellen Harrison, Globe; Second Vice-President, Charlotte Wallace, Prescott;
Secretary, Mary Colby, Yuma; Treasurer, Wilhelmina Henry, Yuma.

The program of the eighth annual meeting was as follows:

NINTH ANNUAL MEETING

APRIL 4TH AND 5TH, 1927, ELKS HALL, GLOBE

On the invitation of the District No. 4 delegates to the eighth convention, the Arizona State Nurses’ Association held its ninth annual meeting in Globe.

This convention is especially noteworthy by reason of the admirable papers presented before it on medical subjects by the physicians of Globe.

In the way of entertainment, the ride to Roosevelt Lake and the dinner at Apache Lodge will always be remembered.

Mrs. Aletha Waldier, of Yuma, who was sent as a delegate to the biennial convention of the American Nurses’ Association, held in Atlantic City, in May, 1926, in conjunction with the American Health Council, presented her extremely enlightening report.

The following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year:

President, Mrs. Vera Thomas, Tucson; First Vice-President, Blanche Werner, Bisbee; Second Vice President, Mrs. Aletha Waldier, Yuma; Secretary, Mrs. Bertha Easton, Phoenix; Treasurer, Mrs. Ruth Gordon, Yuma.

The program of the 9th annual meeting was as follows:

On the invitation of the District No. 2 delegates to the ninth convention, the Arizona State Nurses' Association is to hold its tenth annual meeting on April 25th and 26th, at the Temple of Music and Art in Tucson.

An interesting and entertaining program is being arranged, and the tenth annual convention of the Arizona Nurses' Association promises to be a decade-marking event.
MARICOPA COUNTY—HISTORICAL SKETCH

By Bertha Case

Arizona boasted of but one nurses' organization in 1918. For this reason the Maricopa County Graduate Nurses' Association was listed by the national organization as the Arizona State Nurses' Association. We were all puffed up over this.

The following year the nurses of Pima county organized their association, and we were informed from national headquarters that henceforth we were to be known as District No. 1 of the Arizona State Nurses' Association. That information somewhat deflated us.

However, it was with much joy that we received the information that there was another district in the State. Miss Bertha C. Rowe wrote Miss Darcy that they had organized and that the district was going to hold together if she had to be president, secretary and treasurer. No one could appreciate her determination better than Miss Darcy, for she had had her troubles in keeping the organization together in Phoenix.

Early in the history of District No. 1 a bill was presented to the legislature to provide for the registration of graduate nurses. The district had no help from the National Association, or anyone familiar with legislation; therefore the bill was weak, and like many premature infants, it died a-borning.

It was largely through the efforts of Miss Rowe and Miss Darcy that the State Association was organized in Tucson in 1919. Miss Darcy and Miss Case were the delegates from Phoenix.

Miss Adda Eldredge, who was sent by the National Association to help us organize, stopped in Phoenix for a short time. We felt that she was a source of information, so we spent the time asking her questions. Doubtless she has never, in all of her experience, met a group of nurses with so little information. To honor our first celebrity we gave a banquet in her honor. This was also our first banquet.

Because of so many migratory nurses, it has been difficult to create interest in the association. Many have retained their membership in the State where they graduated, while others have not been backward about letting us know that they did not wish to be a member of so small an association.

Some of us have held to the idea that it would be better for them to be on the inside and boost than to stay on the outside and knock. All graduates who come here live under the protection of the association; therefore we feel that they need us as much as we need them.

Mrs. Hazel Sexson, Superintendent of Nursing of the Arizona Deaconess Hospital, was president for two years. She did much to increase the membership. It was while she was president that we moved to the Woman's Club to hold our meetings. Mrs. Sexson did much to help get the bill for compulsory registration of nurses passed by the last legislature.
District No. 1 is federated with the Woman's Club. During the past year the nurses have been represented at each meeting of the federation. They have volunteered to help with the child welfare work which the club hopes to do.

In November, 1927, twelve-hour duty for hospitals and sanatoria went into effect. The hospitals have been most helpful in their co-operation with the nurses.

The meetings of the association are now well attended. Nurses enjoy getting together for a lecture by either a doctor or some other person who has something of interest to relate. After the program the hostesses serve dainty refreshments, and everyone has a social time over the coffee cup.

The few charter members who remain in Phoenix are grateful for the growth of Arizona State Nurses' Association, District No. 1. The younger nurses who come from the best schools of nursing, and have modern ideas, are taking an active interest in the work. It is pleasant to sit on the back seat and watch the result of ten years of earnest work in behalf of the graduate nurses of Phoenix.

ST. JOSEPH'S HOSPITAL, PHOENIX, ARIZ.

By Sister M. Aloysius

There are two names forever linked with the growth and progress of the city of Phoenix and enshrined in the heart of every true Arizonan—the names of the Sisters of Mercy and of St. Joseph's Hospital.

Thirty-eight years ago, 1890, there came to the ears of a little band of noble women in Silver City, New Mexico, the cry of the sick and the afflicted from the arid region of Arizona. That appeal was so urgent that the Good Samaritan, clothed in the garb of that little band of Sisters of Mercy, hearkened to its summons, and hastening to the bedside of the sufferers, brought bodily healing and spiritual comfort by their Christ-like ministrations.

Notwithstanding the difficulties of their labors, notwithstanding the few human consolations along the way, the succeeding decades have brought new recruits to that first little community. The years in their passing have seen generous souls pause on life's journey to help the afflicted, aye, to make this mercy of the Samaritan the sole purpose of their existence.

The sight of these noble women calls forth a heartfelt joy and deepest gratitude to God, that the spirit of the Good Samaritan lives in this land, that there are those amongst us who give humanity, not merely barren rhetoric, not a mere pittance of money, but their time, their talents, their life—who vow before God's altar that they themselves will go aside from the crowd, that they themselves will devote their lives to bring comfort and relief to the sick and dying.

Truly, what the Sisters of Mercy of St. Joseph's Hospital have accomplished, well merits unstinted praise and the highest admiration.

From a modest beginning 38 years ago, in a small cottage which accommodated six patients, St. Joseph's Hospital has grown and expanded into the magnificent institution of today, covering an entire block, and with accommodations for 175 patients.

Under the Sisters' care and direction, it has kept pace with the city of Phoenix and with the newest discoveries and methods of medical science, and its efficiency has been recognized by the American College of Surgeons, which has accredited it as a modern Class "A" hospital.

St. Joseph's Hospital operates as a general hospital, handling all types of cases, and the hospital's facilities are open to the public, irrespective of race or creed.

Separate departments are maintained for surgical, obstetrical and medical cases. The X-ray and the Laboratory Departments, under the care of professional technicians, are the last word in these branches of modern medicine.
The School of Nursing operated by the hospital provides a standard course, and its graduates are entitled to all the privileges accorded to graduate nurses.

Lack of space does not permit us to dwell further in detail on the self-sacrifice and labors of the Sisters of Mercy of St. Joseph's Hospital. They are priceless records in the Book of Life, but this is not the place for proper reckoning. God knows the loving care and mercy lavished by them on His afflicted brethren. This is enough—The Good Shepherd Himself will pass this way again. Then will He repay a hundred-fold these noble souls who have continued His labor.

ARIZONA DEACONESS HOSPITAL

By Hazel R. Sexson, Superintendent of Hospital

On October the 15th, 1911, a small group of interested people met and filed articles of incorporation for the Arizona Deaconess Hospital. Under these articles of incorporation the first statement reads:

"This is to be a Christian Fraternity, promoted by the united action of the Protestant Churches of the State of Arizona." Also: "To provide and maintain hospitals for the suitable accommodation, nursing, medical and surgical treatment of any person suffering from any physical disability, irrespective of sex, color, race, religious belief or pecuniary circumstances." Also: "To establish, maintain and conduct a school for the proper training of Christian women as nurses."

A short time after this little Deaconess Hospital on North Third Avenue was opened up under the superintendency of Miss Marilla Williams, and a splendid work carried on.

About six years after the founding of this hospital on North Third Avenue, the need for a larger and better equipped institution began to make itself evident, so plans for a new home were discussed. A series of meetings between interested persons and church officials eventually resulted in the purchase of the present site at Tenth Street and McDowell Road comprising a tract of five acres.

Immediately a building committee, under the leadership of H. B. Wilkinson, then president of the board, was appointed, of which Mrs. L. H. Chambers was chairman. And after many months of ardent work and study, this committee arrived at a conclusion for plans for the new building. The original idea of those interested was that of a building to cost approximately $65,000, thinking this would fill the needs and answer the purposes, but after this committee labored with the plans and studied the development of the city and State, it became evident to them that a much larger institution was needed, and through their leadership they gradually raised their ideas and those of the community until the present splendid structure was planned. After months of effort, ground for the hospital at Tenth and McDowell Road was broken in 1918. Only a limited fund had been raised for the purpose when work was started, and after excavations had been completed and foundations laid, it became necessary to suspend building operations, due to the exhaustion of all available funds. Efforts to raise additional sums met with only mediocre success, and the building committee eventually abandoned its efforts until conditions became more favorable. This was in the fall of 1918.

A short time later the Board of Directors was changed, with Mr. J. O. Sexson, President, and K. S. Townsend, Dr. J. C. Norton, Professor J. D. Loper and J. A. R. Irvine were appointed members of a new building committee.

The financial depression of 1920-1921, made conditions in the valley so discouraging that it was impossible to proceed with building construction, but late in 1921 the city of Phoenix bought the University tract from the hospital for $40,000, and with this money some of the accumulated bills were paid. Arrangements were next made with the Pacific Mutual Life
Insurance Company for a loan of $50,000. Following that, the members of the First Methodist Church, in an enthusiastic meeting, subscribed $20,000 to the building fund. This was followed by a drive for $50,000, which was successful, and a contract was let for the completion of the building.

In March, 1923, just before the building was completed, another campaign was launched for $40,000 for equipment. This was a complete success; in fact, $50,000 was subscribed at that time.

The building, completely equipped, was opened to the public and dedicated to suffering humanity on the 23rd day of June, 1923, one of the most complete and finest equipped institutions of its kind to be found anywhere in the entire West. It was, in fact, a palatial home for the sick, with every modern convenience for their use.

It represents the cumulative interest of more than 3,500 individual donors; men, women, children, churches, and civic organizations. Mr. E. S. Townsend, the present President of the Board, was the largest single contributor to the fund. Besides Mr. Townsend, the only other large contributors were Mr. and Mrs. Nels Peterson of Tempe, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Maxwell of Boston, and Mr. and Mrs. Dwight B. Heard of Phoenix. Some twenty-five individuals and organizations gave $1,000 cash. But it could be truthfully said that the Deaconess Hospital was built by the hundreds of contributors coming from people in all walks of life.

Every modern, up-to-date device for the care and treatment of patients has been installed. The complete institution, with equipment, grounds and the nurses' dormitory, represents an expenditure of more than $500,000.

From the obstetrical ward to the surgical department, the new hospital represents the very last word in infirmary equipment. There are separate departments and equipment for the handling of the many different kinds of cases and diseases; there are research and X-ray laboratories, and practically every device known to present-day medical science for the preservation of human life and the care of the sick and infirm.

Located at the outskirts of the city, the hospital has unusually attractive surroundings in its five-acre plot at Tenth Street and McDowell Road.

With the opening of the new building a School of Nursing was established complying with the standards of the State board of nurse examiners. In October, 1924, the hospital was given a Class A rating by the American College of Surgeons. With the establishing of the School across the need of a home for the students. At the suggestion of Mr. Townsend, President of the Board, a dormitory, consisting of a large living room, dressing rooms and sleeping porches, accommodating thirty-two student nurses, was erected on the southeast part of the grounds. Also, larger quarters for the graduate nurses must be had. For this purpose the stucco residence facing McDowell Road was enlarged.

Still we continued to grow, and in the fall of 1925, the Board of Directors purchased the beautiful Utley home, which lies just east of the hospital. The grounds, which will be the school campus, comprise fourteen city blocks. The house will be used as a nucleus for a future nurses' home, with accommodations for not less than eighty nurses.

There is in connection with the hospital a well organized medical staff, consisting of fifty-five active and fourteen associate members; also a full-time resident physician, who is licensed in the State, and who is on call at all times to serve the patients.

We have now, besides the Superintendent of Nurses, a graduate nurse in charge of each department, a graduate nurse instructor, two graduate nurses in the surgery, a graduate dietitian, an experienced laboratory technician, and a medically trained stenographer as historian; also forty-three students in our school. The total number of employees is eighty-one.
ARIZONA STATE NURSES' ASSOCIATION

ST. LUKE'S HOME, A HUMANITY SERVER

By Rev. Charles A. Dowdell

Every year many people, both the sick and the well, come to Arizona for the benefit of its superb winter climate. To help meet the problem of those ill with tuberculosis coming into the State, St. Luke's Home was founded in 1907, through the zeal of the Rt. Rev. J. W. Atwood, retired Bishop of Arizona.

St. Luke's is unique in that it maintains both summer and winter accommodations. St. Luke's in the Mountains, Prescott, cares for patients during the summer months from St. Luke's Home, Phoenix, and St. Luke's in the Desert, Tucson. During the four months—June to October—when the summer heat in the valley might prove uncomfortable, the patients are moved to Prescott, making a distinct gain in the cooling breezes and pine-scented air. A corresponding gain is made during the winter months in the lower altitudes.

St. Luke's is doing a work for humanity in a big, unselfish way, ministering alike to all, irrespective of his religious beliefs or affiliations. St. Luke's stands unique among institutions of its kind in Arizona. St. Luke's is not operated for profit. No patient pays more than $18 per week, the standard charge, because the actual cost of maintenance amounts to that. Many are received at reduced rates or free, the treatment of all being the same. Annually there is a deficit in operating expenses of about $15,000, which must be met from voluntary subscriptions and interest from endowments.

THE MONTE VISTA SANITORIUM

By Miss C. C. Schreiber

The Monte Vista Sanatorium, for the treatment of pulmonary diseases, is located at Twelfth Street and Maryland Avenue (Desert Curve), Phoenix, Arizona. It is on the cottage plan, newly built, each cottage being well constructed and well furnished. The accommodations consist of a private sleeping porch and sitting room, with connecting bath. Each sitting room has an open fire place, and for those desiring to be up part of the day a fire is gladly made when needed. The sitting room in the main building has large lounging chairs, victrola, and other means of amusement, with the thought in view to make all as comfortable as possible.

The sanatorium is about six miles northeast from the business center of the city, with the air from the desert, and an excellent view of the mountains. The city car line is within half a block of the place—in fact, all the conveniences of the city, and not of it. All foods are served in season, and tray service and general nursing given to all patients. It is an ideal place for those requiring quiet and rest at moderate rates. At present under the management of Miss C. C. Schreiber, R. N.

PIMA, PINAL, AND SANTA CRUZ COUNTIES—HISTORICAL SKETCH

By Helen Bocock

The original Pima County Graduate Nurses' Association merged into District No. 2 on the formation of the Arizona State Nurses' Association, which fact was accomplished at the mass meeting held December 3rd, 1919, at Tucson, Arizona, when Miss Adda Eldredge, Interstate Secretary of the American Nurses' Association, spoke to the assembled nurses of organization value. After a few minutes' talk, the Arizona nurses, wide-awake to its import, resolved to establish the Arizona State Nurses' Association, and then and there formed the districts, of which Pima, Pinal and Santa Cruz comprise District Number Two. From the minutes of this meeting we may use this excerpt:

"The Arizona State Nurses' Association now exists, with an excellent corps of nurses for its officers. We are expecting great things for the Arizona State Nurses' Association, and we are exceedingly proud it had its inception in Tucson, and that the Pima County Nurses' Association played so large a share in its organization."

Ever since its original formation as the Pima County Graduate Nurses' Association, District No. 2 of the Arizona State Nurses' Association, has held its regular monthly meetings. After the transaction of routine business, the members of the District Association were instructed and entertained at these meetings by authoritative papers on technical and general subjects by physicians, nurses, University professors, etc. The educational value derived from these papers, and the discussions following them, have been very great.

District No. 2 has also been especially efficient in the matter of Nurses' Relief, which is such an important question coming before the several districts of the Arizona State Nurses' Association.

One of the dreams of our District Association has been the purchase or erection of a suitable Nurses' Club House, to accommodate our official Registry, to hold our monthly meetings in, and to afford a congenial place for our nurses to foregather. From small beginnings, the fund for this purpose is gaining apace, and in a few years we expect our dream to be realized.

Perhaps the greatest accomplishment of District No. 2 is the establishment and operation of the only official Registry in Arizona, an account of which is given in another article.

PRESIDENTS OF DISTRICT NO. 2

NURSES' OFFICIAL REGISTRY

DISTRICT NO. 2

By Mrs. Mabel Smith

As early as January 4th, 1919, Dr. Watson, then President of the Pima County Medical Association, suggested the advisability of establishing an official registry, but it was not until January 8th, 1925, that a committee was chosen from the District Association to consider the possibilities of such an institution.

After devoting some time in elaborating a suitable plan, this committee of six nurses conferred with the Pima County Medical Association to work out the practical details of a Nurses' Official Registry for District No. 2 of the Arizona State Nurses' Association, to be formally affiliated with the American Nurses' Association.

The plans were now ready, but funds were lacking. So each member of the District Association subjected to an assessment of ten dollars to constitute a capital account.

On March 15th, 1925, the Nurses' Official Registry became an accomplished fact, with Mrs. Ruth Alt, a capable nurse with business ability, in charge. Eligible for registry are graduate, registered nurses. For the convenience of physicians and the public, however, undergraduate and practical nurses, possessing the requisite credentials, are also listed.

Now, at the end of this, our third fiscal year, the Registry has sixty-nine graduate, registered nurses, and is become self-supporting.

We owe much of our success to these three women who so faithfully cooperated with us.

HOSPITALS AND SANATORIA

ST. MARY'S HOSPITAL, TUCSON

By Sister M. Victoria

In 1880, Bishop Salpointe bought sixty acres of land, northwest of Tucson, and put up the first of the stone buildings known as St. Mary's Hospital. It was placed in care of the Sisters of St. Joseph, of Carondelet, St. Louis, which Sisters had ten years before been joyously welcomed to Tucson by the inhabitants of the Walled City of the Southwest. The Southern Pacific Railroad accepted St. Mary's Hospital at this time.

The circular sun sanatorium was built in 1900. At that time it was considered a unique construction.

The renovated East Wing was originally built in 1893 for the Sisters' home and chapel.

The Hospital was incorporated December 5, 1911. The School of Nursing was opened December 1, 1914, in which year the nurses' home was finished and ready for the reception of pupil nurses. Everything for the accommodation of the student nurses was provided.

In 1916 the main building was completed, which has lately been extended to join the East Wing. This contains the new office to the south, and a series of rooms which add much to the former unit in elaborateness of furnishings.

The new convent home for the Sisters, which is a monument of beauty to Tucson's generosity and loyalty, was completed in January, 1927.
In the year 1907 Mrs. William Scollay Whitwell began the erection of a hospital in Tucson. It was opened in 1908, and dedicated as a memorial to her husband, William Scollay Whitwell, M. D.

It burned down on December 29 of the same year, but was immediately rebuilt on a more ambitious scale. The new building contained 42 rooms.

The institution was operated as the Whitwell Hospital Company until 1911, when it was leased by two physicians of this city. It was then operated as the "Tucson-Arizona Hospital" until September 1, 1921, at which time a group of ten physicians took it over. The property became generally known as the "Arizona Hospital and Sanatorium." It was owned and operated by this group until April, 1925, at which time a board representing certain fraternal organizations and Protestant churches assumed control of the property. It continued to be known as the "Arizona Hospital and Sanatorium."

On August 19, 1925, the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, through a commission appointed by its general conference, purchased the property and have operated it since that date as the "Southern Methodist Hospital and Sanatorium."

There has been developed under the ownership of the church a policy of conservative expansion. Additional ground has been purchased, and a modern sanatorium has been erected as an addition to the original building, which is now used entirely as a general hospital.

Although a connectional institution of the above named church, it in no sense limits its service to that particular denomination, but endeavors to serve all alike who come within its doors.

ST. LUKE’S-IN-THE-DESERT, TUCSON

St. Luke’s-In-the-Desert Sanatorium was opened in 1917 under the auspices of the Episcopal Church by the Rt. Rev. J. W. Atwood, D. D., at that time Bishop of Arizona. Its purpose was to provide a home for men of limited means suffering with tuberculosis. It started with a capacity of ten beds, which has since been increased to thirty-two beds.

The rate of only twelve dollars per week enables men having small means to obtain rest and treatment at a minimum charge. This charge includes board, nursing, medical attendance and medicines. The large deficit is made good by gifts from friends of the institution, from the National Council of the Episcopal Church, and from the Lady Board of Visitors in Tucson.

The west wing is the gift of Mrs. Kate B. Sturges of Kennebunk, Maine, in memory of her brother.

Only incipient and moderately advanced cases are received.
BARFIELD SANATORIUM, TUCSON

By Karl F. Barfield

March 1919, established as "Nodrach Sanatorium" by Miss L. A. Craven, having contract with the U. S. Public Health Service.

July, 1922, purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Karl F. Barfield and operated as "Barfield Sanatorium" since that time.

1924, built the first addition—brick building with two apartments of two rooms each.

1925, built the second addition of four rooms, each with a private bath room.

1927, completed the third addition of four large rooms, each with private bath, running ice water, electric radiators, fan coils, quartz glass in all windows, and many other improvements and conveniences.

We expect to build within the next year either one or two more additions, which will have every appointment and convenience for the patient.

U. S. VETERANS' HOSPITAL

By L. A. Beecroft, R. N.

U. S. Veterans' Hospital was opened for patients March 15, 1920, with 250 bed capacity.

Medical Officer in Charge, Dr. Neil MacArter; superseded by S. H. James, M. D.; superseded by W. D. McPaul, M. D., the present Medical Officer in Charge.

The first Chief Nurse was Katherine E. Tatem, R. N.; superseded by Mary K. Sullivan, R. N.; superseded by Ida May Hall, R. N.; superseded by Besse Thompson, R. N.; superseded by Nellie I. Roberts, R. N.; superseded by Anna McFadden; superseded by Laura A. Beecroft, R. N., the present Chief Nurse.

The new Veterans' Hospital will be occupied about October 1st. There will be the same number of beds a sin the hospital at Pastime Park, but all facilities will be up to date. This will make for better care of the patients, and more comfort for the inmates.
A SMALL OPERATION

Performed by a Great Surgeon, in Great Haste, at a Great Hospital.

Contributed by Bertha Case
To pass the surgeon what he needs with which to operate
Is all the nurse assisting him must do,
If her reason doesn't totter on its throne, there's no debate
She'll cultivate a memory e'er she's through.

The things the surgeon uses for a simple operation
Never ought to fill her brave young mind with awe;
But I felt my reason vanish and I lost all inspiration
When I tried to name each instrument I saw.

The Carbon-Tetrachloride (Merck), thymol and alcohol
Is the preparation used to cleanse the skin.
Then you spread your sheets and towels and put in your towel clips,
And to touch a thing unsterile now is sin.

Mayo's scalpel, a Kelly clip (this one will need the Murphy Drip),
Fine iodine catgut for bleeders now.
The grooved director, scissors curved upon the flat, straight clip,
Halstead's retractors, hold 'em—you know how!

Lap. sponges, now McLaren's clips, I'll need the Oshner clamps;
A Peasley needle, heavy chromic gut;
The cautery, sponge quickly, for I don't want this wound damp,
Small needle, Pagensdecker, for this cut!

Blake's irrigator, normal saline, get it to me quick—
I think I'll need the Doyon tumor screw.
Segand's vulsellum, small lap. sponges, these are far too thick,
Now ready with your sutures. Hurry, too!

Full curves, round needle, plain catgut, the Richter's needle holder,
Thumb forceps next and suture for the fascia;
A half curved needle. What's the temperature? This room seems colder.
Don't let the patient chill; there's nothing rashier.

A number one, that same half-curved will do for the fat.
No more ether! Now fine silk for the skin.
If you don't mind I'll change and use the Michel clamps at that.
Now dressings! WHY IS NOT THAT NEXT CASE IN?

HISTORICAL SKETCH

By Georgie Hull Flanagan

As a result of Mrs. Gertrude Russell's efforts, the Cochise County Graduate Nurses' Association entered the Arizona State Nurses' Association as District No. 3, on January 15th, 1923. Mrs. Russell was visiting the county at this time, and at her suggestion a meeting of the Association was called, when the transition was effected and officers duly elected.

In the following year, 1924, there was another renewal of interest, when Kathryn G. Hutchison was elected President. Meetings were regular after this, and for two years or more interest in the District Association was consistently maintained during Mrs. Hutchison's administration, which lasted four years.

During Mrs. Hutchison's incumbency, four regular meetings of the District Association were held each year, rotating around the three cities of Tombstone, Douglas and Bisbee.

CALUMET AND ARIZONA HOSPITAL,
BISBEE

The Calumet and Arizona Hospital of Bisbee was established in 1902, then occupying a frame building on the Naco Road, containing seven beds. This original hospital was enlarged to include twenty beds in 1904. In 1928 the hospital was moved to a modern up-to-date building, containing forty-five beds.

The first physician in charge were Drs. Edmunson and Caven.

COPPER QUEEN HOSPITAL, BISBEE AND LOWELL

By M. F. McGraw, R. N.

The Copper Queen Hospital was the first in Bisbee, being established in the early 80's and incorporated in 1903. Dr. Shine was then in charge. Dr. Budge, the Assistant Superintendent, came in 1904.

The hospital remained in Bisbee until 1908, when it was moved to Lowell, where it now stands.

Jane Delano, of the Red Cross, who died a heroine's death in France, was one of the first nurses at the Copper Queen Hospital.

DISTRICT NO. 4
GILA, GRAHAM AND GREENLEAF COUNTIES

OFFICERS: (Last election March 11th, 1926).
President, Mrs. J. A. LaFleur.
Secretary, Miss Josephine Hall.
Treasurer, Miss Ellen Harrison.

HISTORICAL SKETCH

By Ellen Harrison

Continuing the activities of the Gila County Nurses' Association, twenty of the thirty members attended the annual meeting of District No. 4, held in Globe on October 11, 1929, when $150.00 was turned over to the Treasurer. Louise Perritt was elected President; Margaret Fitzpatrick, First Vice-President; Ruth Wendell, Second Vice-President; Grace Adkins, Secretary, and Louise Harkins, Treasurer.

The nurses of District No. 4 did their bit in securing the passage of House Bill No. 64, requiring that only registered graduate nurses be employed. But the District Association still faces a problem concerning the employing of graduate-registered nurses by the doctors and hospitals. Although the State Association stresses the importance of graduate-registered nurses by doctors and hospitals, Miss Ellen Harrison, nurse for Gila County's school system and Secretary of both the Red Cross Chapter and Associated Charities at Globe, reports that "we have to take what we can get, and often have to send women who have had no training in nursing out on cases." And a number of the graduate nurses, who were instrumental in the passage of House Bill No. 64, now find themselves somewhat disappointed when they try to assign a graduate nurse to an urgent case.

The nurses of District No. 4 greatly appreciate the widespread interests of the Arizona State Nurses' Association, and stand ready to support their organization in its legislative and practical efforts to raise the standards of the nursing profession and enforce the law for the registration of nurses in Arizona.
ARIZONA STATE NURSES' ASSOCIATION

DISTRICT NO. 5

Correspondent: Miss Charlotte L. Wallace, Prescott.

COCONINO, YAVAPAI AND MOHAVE COUNTIES—HISTORICAL SKETCH

By Charlotte Wallace

District No. 5 was organized by Miss Louise Perritt on January 28, 1922, with a membership of less than twelve. The following nurses were elected officers: President, Charlotte L. Wallace; First Vice-President, Jean Anderson; Second Vice-President, Mrs. Nan Schultz; Secretary, Mrs. Ben Townsend; Treasurer, Sister Mary Genevieve.

The organization struggled on for several months, holding meetings at the Mercy Hospital, but finally had to discontinue the meetings, on account of so many of the members leaving the State.

The District has never been reorganized, owing to the fact that most of the nurses are living in the State only temporarily.

MERCY HOSPITAL

CONDUCTED BY THE SISTERS OF MERCY AT PRESCOTT, ARIZONA

In 1880 the Sisters of Mercy, popularly known as Mother Paul's Sisters, came to Prescott and took charge of a hospital which was a tiny frame cottage building located near the present site of the Catholic Church. Sisters Mary Vincent, Gertrude and Alphonsus were the first to come to aid in the care of the sick. The Sisters labored under difficulties and privations. There were times when there were no patients; at other times they were so crowded they had to relinquish their own rooms in order to have room for the sick.

In 1897 the first part of the present building was built. The railroad contract was secured by Mr. Frank Murphy, a kind benefactor, for the care of the sick men of the railroad. This helped the hospital very much, and assured the Sisters of a steady income. After moving into the new quarters the Sisters purchased the little frame building and had it moved to Grove Avenue, where it is at present in the rear of the hospital. In 1902 the second wing was erected.

The years have swiftly passed, and the many who have been cured within the present hospital realize the help it afforded them in their time of sickness. Aided by the care of the nurses, some cases owe their lives to their untiring efforts and co-operation with the doctors' efforts. The hospital has advanced with the times in becoming standardized, having been approved by the American College of Surgeons as being a Class A hospital. New departments have been added, such as Laboratory, X-Ray, and Record Room.

In the near future we hope to put up a modern wing, with all the latest equipment, so as to further the good cause of helping humanity.

U.S. VETERANS' HOSPITAL WHIPPLE

By W.S. Oliver

U.S. Veterans' Hospital No. 50, generally spoken of as Whipple Barracks, is located at Whipple, Arizona, about a mile from the city of Prescott, in the beautiful mountain country of Yavapai County. Whipple commands a splendid view of the surrounding wooded hills and mountain peaks, and overlooks Prescott, often called the Mile High City, that being its approximate altitude.

The hospital now ranks as the fourth largest disabled veterans' hospital in the United States, and holds second place in the care of tubercular ex-service men. These are from practically every State in the Union. The highest number of patients at any given time has been 701. The official capacity is given by the Bureau as 919 beds.

Secretary, Miss Gisela Livingston.
DISTRICT NO. 7
YUMA COUNTY—HISTORICAL SKETCH

By Ruth Gordon

In November, 1924, Miss Mary Day Barnes, R. N., visited Yuma in the interest of her Red Cross program. The graduate nurses gave a reception for her, which proved to be the inception of our nurses' association, for we found that while only four nurses were engaged in their work, there were six others living in the vicinity of Yuma who were eligible for membership.

In January, 1925, a meeting was called and a committee appointed to write a constitution and by-laws. Officers were elected and the following spring a delegate was sent to the Arizona State Nurses' Association's annual convention in Phoenix. We became their baby member, giving a good, lusty cry at birth by extending an invitation to the State Association to hold their next meeting in Yuma.

Immediately thereafter, plans were laid to meet the expenses to be incurred the following spring. At the beginning of the fall season a dance was given, which Yuma people supported so generously that the one entertainment netted sufficient funds to provide for the needs of the convention.

The convention proved to be an inspiration to us, and we gained enough momentum to keep inching along since, in spite of our members being few and scattered.

Our membership numbers fifteen. While meetings cannot be held regularly, we do meet five or six times yearly; review questions pertaining to our profession; invite women of other organizations to tell us of their work; and, with our dues, keep up affiliation with State and National organizations, with the Federated Women's Clubs in our District, subscribe for two nursing journals, and send a delegate to the annual State convention.

YUMA'S HOSPITALS

By Mrs. Ruth Gordon

Yuma's first hospital was built in 1893 by the Catholic Church. It was located on South Main Street, and was an eight-room building of adobe construction, with a patio on the east side. Its equipment consisted of an operating table, an invalid's chair, and the necessary beds.

Mrs. Guadalupe Contreras Costello, of pioneer Spanish family, took charge of it and with the aid of her two daughters ran it for seven years. Mrs. Costello is still a resident of Yuma, and her memories of early days date back to 1858. Mrs. Costello had a contract with the county to care for indigent patients. Dr. Fields was county physician at that time.

After the Costello family gave up the hospital, it was rented for a year, and then the building was used for other purposes. The building went down in the flood of 1916, and only traces of the old foundation and the floor of the patio may be seen today.

In 1901 Mrs. Mercedes Downey made a contract with the Board of Supervisors to care for county patients, and she cared for these and also private patients in the building now known as the Wilson House, on Gilia Street. There were ten rooms in this building, and they could accommodate twenty patients. Mrs. Downey gave up the work in 1913.

The next year a nurse secured the superintendent's home of the abandoned Federal penitentiary buildings. It stood on a promontory overlooking the Colorado River. After a few months, the Yuma doctors bought out her equipment, and Dr. Ferguson was made manager. He was succeeded by Dr. E. C. Rooney, and Dr. James A. Ketcherside succeeded Dr. Rooney.
At the time of the influenza epidemic in 1918, the Red Cross helped financially, and public interest was greatly stimulated in aiding to secure for Yuma a properly equipped hospital.

In 1922 this site was needed by the Southern Pacific Railway Company for a right of way to the new river bridge that was to be constructed, so the building was abandoned.

The Hospital Board then arranged with the Yuma County Board of Supervisors that their equipment should be placed in the cement block building on Avenue B, four miles from Yuma. This building is owned by the county, and the hospital cares for indigent patients. The building is commodious and well equipped, and they have an excellent staff of graduate nurses, with Mrs. Bertha Singleton, R.N.; in charge. A nurses' home of eight rooms is under construction.

The Cochran Sanitarium is located in the old Southern Pacific Hotel building, on Madison Avenue, near the Colorado River. Dr. R. R. Knotts opened this hospital in 1926, and its field of usefulness has been amply demonstrated.

ARIZONA STATE BOARD OF PUBLIC HEALTH

By F. T. Fahlen, M. D., State Superintendent of Public Health

The Public Health Act of Arizona was passed by the Twenty-second Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Arizona in 1903, and was entitled "An Act to Protect Public Health."

The Territorial Board of Health was organized April 22, 1903, at a meeting held in the office of the Governor in the Capitol Building, in pursuance of an act of the Twenty-second Legislative Assembly, entitled "An Act to Protect Public Health." The chairman of the several Boards of Supervisors of the different counties of the Territory were notified of the organization of the Board, and requested to appoint county superintendents of health, in accordance with the provisions of the law.

Dr. James W. Coleman founded the Bulletin of the Board of Health in 1907, soon after he was appointed Territorial Health Officer.

In 1909, the Twenty-fifth Legislature passed an act providing for the registration of births and deaths throughout the Territory of Arizona, by means of certificates of births and deaths, and burial or removal permits; and established the office of Territorial Registrar of Vital Statistics. Registration of vital statistics was begun July 1, 1909. In 1926, Arizona was admitted to the Registration Area of the United States by the United States Bureau of the Census at Washington, D. C. This insures an accurate and practically complete registration of births and deaths in the State, making our records of as much value as those of any of any other state in this area. Space does not permit our giving all the important reasons of such registration of vital statistics.

The Arizona Pure Food Law was passed in 1912. This law conforms very closely with the Federal Food and Drug Act.

The Standard Railway Sanitary Code was adopted in 1924.

In 1925, Regulations Governing Camp Sanitation in Arizona were passed by the Board of Health, and since that time, with the co-operation of the City and County Health Officers, we have inspected the camps over the State in an effort to bring about more sanitary conditions.
In a brief way, this Department has endeavored to standardize its activities with those generally adopted by such organizations throughout the country, as we believe that standardization and uniformity of recognized laws and principles relative to public health tend to greater efficiency.

The control of contagious diseases is more assured by the co-operation of the general public with physicians and health officers than by any other means. With this in view, many pamphlets are sent out from this office instructing as to communicable diseases, outbreaks of same, and measures which should be adopted for their prevention. The public, as a whole, has been found very co-operative and eager to correct such matters when given instructions as to necessary measures for their control or prevention.

It is obvious that a Nurses’ Association, composed of members whose contacts with the public are close, has a very potent influence with public sentiment. In addressing this communication to the Nurses’ Association, I therefore ask that they understand our purposes and co-operate with the various Boards of Health and the State Board of Health in such matters as are conducive to the betterment of public health and the control of communicable diseases. Education of the public through various Associations, Schools, Parent-Teachers’ Associations, Teachers’ Clubs, etc., is a very powerful factor for furthering the purposes set forth above.

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING IN ARIZONA

By Minnie Benson

The State of Arizona has revealed many secrets. Its barren and apparently unattractive soil, which seemingly is unproductive of anything, suddenly blossoms as the rose, and makes a beautiful garden, where effort and care are expended.

The hills and mountains of Arizona also have their hidden secrets, that are only revealed after much labor and expenditure of money.

Likewise, the nursing group of women of the State has its secret, which also was brought out only after much work and expenditure of time. With the aid of several organizations and individuals, the secret was revealed to us, that the Arizona State Association had more of its nurses engaged in Public Health work than had been known generally. This pleased us greatly, as we realize the vast amount of good a group of Public Health nurses can do for their respective communities and the State in general. Twenty-six of its cities and towns are employing forty-five graduate nurses in carrying on Public Health work. This includes various branches of public health, such as school nursing, Veterans’ Bureau nursing, industrial nursing, community nursing in general, and field nursing on the Indian Reservations.

It is our desire to see this group of untried servants of the public become united into a fruit-bearing branch of the sturdy tree of the Arizona State Nurses’ Association.

HISTORICAL SKETCH

By Catherine Beagin

House Bill No. 32, "An Act to Regulate Professional Nursing of the Sick in the State of Arizona, providing for the Examination and of Issuing of Certificates to Graduate Nurses, and providing Penalties for the Violation of this Act," went into effect June 9th, 1921.

Thereupon the Arizona State Board of Nurse Examiners was organized and came into being June 14th, 1921, in the Governor's office at the Capitol Building, Phoenix, Arizona.

The first President was Bertha G. Rowe of Tucson. The first Secretary-Treasurer was Gertrude F. Russell of Phoenix. The three other original members were: Sister Evangelista of Tucson, Miss Grace Buckley of Jerome, Miss R. N. King of Douglas.

House Bill No. 32 was amended July 21st, 1927, by House Bill No. 64, which was "An Act to Amend Sections 5, 7, and 11 of Chapter 70, Session Laws of Arizona, 1921, Regular Session, relating to the Examination of and the Issuing of Certificates to Graduate Nurses."

Since the organization of the Board of Nurse Examiners, 637 nurses have been registered, some through examination, and others through reciprocity.
Epilogue

The End of a Nurse's Day

Seven o'clock! And the nurse's work
Was done for another day!
She heaved a sort of tired sigh
And put the charts away.

Then sat for a moment and bowed her head
Over the little white desk—
"I wonder," said she to herself, "after all,
Am I really doing my best?"

"Perhaps I could have begun the day
With a brighter, cheerier smile,
And answered the bells with—'Right away'
Instead of 'After a while'."

"And I might have listened with sweeter grace,
To the story of Six's woes;
She may be suffering more, perhaps,
More than anyone knows."

"And I might have refrained from the halfway frown,
Although I was busy then,
When the frail little girl, with sad blue eyes,
Kept ringing again and again."

"And I might have spoken a kindlier word,
To the heart of that restless boy,
And stopped a moment to help him find
The missing part of his toy."
“Or perhaps the patient in Eighteen A,
Just needed a gentler touch;
There are a lot of things I might have done
And it wouldn’t have taken much.”

She sighed again and brushed a tear,
Then whispered,—praying low,
“My God, how can You accept this day,
When it has been lacking so?”

And God looked down—He heard the sigh,
He saw that shining tear;
Then sent His Angel Messenger,
To whisper in her ear,—

“You could have done better to-day,
But, oh! the Omnipotent One,
Seeing your faults, does not forget,
The beautiful things you have done.”

“He knows, little nurse, that you love your work
In this house of pain and sorrow,
So gladly forgives the lack of to-day,
For you will do better tomorrow.”

The nurse looked up with a grateful smile,
“Tomorrow I’ll make it right;”
Then added a note in the order book,
“Be good to them tonight.”

In expressing my sincere wish for the continuing growth and usefulness of the Arizona State Nurses' Association, I do so with the added hope that the highly intelligent membership of this organization will extend their valuable assistance to our State in the battle for her rights in the Colorado River. In order to fight efficiently, we must fight intelligently. With this thought in mind, I consider it very desirable that the citizenry of Arizona be fully informed upon this vital subject. My office will be glad to supply without charge, printed literature setting forth fully Arizona's position in the Colorado River controversy to any interested person.

Mellin’s Food—A Milk Modifier

The Baby’s Food

The baby’s food, sufficient for twenty-four hours, can be made in a few minutes by mixing together directed quantities of Mellin’s Food, cow’s milk and water. A very simple proceeding easily understood and readily followed.

The baby’s food prepared in this manner is complete nourishment for every part of the body; thus assuring continuous growth and progressive development together with constant gain in weight.

The baby’s food thus prepared is digestible nutriment for an infant of any age—no heavy, tough milk curds to disturb digestion for the curd of cow’s milk is made soft, flaky and easily digested by the use of Mellin’s Food as the milk modifier.

THE PHOENIX NURSES’ CLUB

The Phoenix Nurses’ Club, a club home for registered nurses, was opened on September 15th, 1924, and has been an important factor in the profession since that time. It is located at 6th and Adams Streets, just a few blocks from St. Joseph’s Hospital.

The club, conducted by Dora Burch Jay, R. N., is an attractive building, with a capacity of fifty nurses. It has an attractive living room, private bedrooms, a dining room and a community kitchen.

In connection with the Club is a day and night registry service, which has proven invaluable to the nurses. Mrs. Jay is a graduate of St. Joseph’s Hospital, class of 1915.

There's Peace of Mind In a Job You Love

Square pegs in round holes or round pegs in square holes—that's absurd. But—there are square holes for square pegs and there are round holes for round pegs, and finding them is our day-long job.

—IN A JOB YOU LOVE

If the job that's yours today doesn't fill you with pride, if it doesn't make you oblivious to all other things while you are working on it, you are trudging in a rut and it isn't fair to you nor to those who pay your wage and keep.

You're a round peg or a square peg in a square hole or a round hole, and there isn't peace of mind in a job like that. There are other men or other women who would find contentment in the job you hold; and there are jobs where you would fit, where you'd do wonderful work, where you'd progress as you know you can progress.

That is our task, to provide hospitals with competent, earnest, dependable personnel—and to find positions for men and women, jobs that they can love.

REGISTRATION REQUIREMENTS

CHAPTER 70, SESSION LAWS, 1921

As Amended by

CHAPTER 29, SESSION LAWS, 1927

BE IT ENACTED by the Legislature of the State of Arizona:

That, the Governor of the State of Arizona shall appoint a State Board of Nurse Examiners for examination and certification of graduate nurses. This board shall be composed of five graduate nurses, who shall be selected by the Governor from a list submitted by the Arizona State Nurses’ Association, who shall have been graduated from an accredited school of nursing for nurses as defined by this Act, and shall be registered under the provisions of this Act. One of the members of this Board shall be designated to hold office for one year, one for two years, one for three years, one for four years, and one for five years, and thereafter upon the expiration of the term of office of the person so appointed, the Governor of the State shall appoint a successor to each person whose term of office shall expire, said appointment to be for five years. In case appointment of a successor is not made before the expiration of the term of any member, such member shall hold office until a successor is appointed and duly qualified. Any vacancy occurring in membership of the Board shall be filled by the Governor of this State for the unexpired term of such member. All appointments shall be made by the Governor from lists of nurses submitted by the Arizona State Nurses’ Association.

SECTION 2. The members of the State Board of Nurse Examiners shall, before entering on the discharge of their duties make and file with the Secretary of State, the Constitutional Oath of Office. They shall, as soon as organized, and annually thereafter, in the month of January, elect from their membership, a president, and secretary, who shall be the treasurer of the Board and inspector of all schools of nursing within the State of Arizona, subject to the provisions of this Act. The treasurer, before entering upon his or her duties, shall file a bond with the Secretary of State, for such sum as shall be required by the said Secretary of State. The Board shall adopt rules and regulations not inconsistent with this Act to govern its proceedings, and also a seal, and the secretary shall have the care and custody thereof, and shall keep a record of all proceedings of the Board, including a register of the names of all nurses duly registered under this Act, which shall be open at all times to public scrutiny; and the Board shall cause the prosecution of all persons violating the provisions of this Act and may incur necessary expenses in that behalf. The Secretary of the Board shall receive a salary, which shall be fixed by the Board, and he or she shall receive traveling and other expenses incurred in the performance of his or her official duties. The other members shall receive the sum of Five Dollars per day for each day actually engaged in this service and all legitimate and necessary expenses and salaries shall be paid from the fees received by the Board under the provisions of this Act, and no part of the salary and other expenses of the Board shall be paid out of the State Treasury. All moneys received in excess of said per diem, allowance and other expenses provided for shall be held by the treasurer as a Special Fund for meeting the expenses of said Board, and the cost of annual reports of proceedings of said Board.

SECTION 3. Three members of the Board shall constitute a quorum. Special meetings of the Board shall be called by the secretary upon the written request of any two members.

SECTION 4. It shall be the duty of the Board to meet at least once in every six months, notice of which shall be given in not less than six newspapers of the State and in at least one nursing journal thirty days previous to the time of meeting. At such meeting it shall be the duty of the Board to examine all applicants seeking certification under the provisions of this Act. The examinations shall be of such character as to determine the fitness of the applicant to practice professional nursing of the sick. If the result of the examination of any applicant shall be satisfactory to a majority of the Board, the secretary shall, upon an order of the Board, issue to the applicant a certificate to that effect, whereupon the person named in the certificate shall be declared duly licensed to practice professional nursing in this State for the period of one year from the date of the recording of such certificate in the office of the Recorder of the County wherein said applicant resides; provided that such certificate may be renewed annually thereafter without examination, or the performance of any duty other than the payment of an annual license fee of one dollar to the treasurer of the State Board of Nurse Examiners and the recording of such renewal certificate in the office of the Recorder as aforesaid; provided further, that the County Recorder shall record such certificates upon the payment of a fee of one dollar and shall record such renewal certificate without charge.

SECTION 5. An applicant who desires to practise professional nursing shall furnish satisfactory evidence that he or she is more than Twenty years of age, has received sufficient preliminary education as may be determined by the Board, and must present evidence satisfactory to the Board of having completed in an accredited school of nursing a course of instruction including the number of hours of theoretical teaching as required by the Board during two years actual training in the care of medical and surgical patients (male and female), obstetrical patients and sick children. The applicant shall have two trained or graduate nurses, who are personally acquainted with the applicant, certify that such applicant is honest, trustworthy and of good moral character and not addicted to the use of intoxicants or narcotics, together with such other reasonable information as the Board may require from such vouchers, which certificate shall be endorsed upon the application. Every applicant for registration shall pay a fee of Ten Dollars upon filing the application of One Dollar for renewal of license yearly thereafter. An accredited school of nursing is hereby defined to be a school for the education and training of nurses attached to or operated in connection with a hospital or hospitals giving a course of instruction in theoretical teaching and practical work covering not less than number of hours of instruction in such subjects, and arranged in such order two or more than three years. Theoretical teaching shall consist of the required as the Board may from time to time determine. Practical teaching shall consist of instruction in the care of medical and surgical patients, obstetrical patients and sick children, as may be determined by the Board. Schools maintaining a three year course must be connected with a hospital having a daily average of not less than fifty patients, and which shall provide in addition to the requirement of the two year course, the theoretical and practical teaching in such subjects and arranged in such order of instruction as the Board may determine.

(As Amended by Chapter 29, Laws of 1927)

SECTION 6. Any person who shall show to the satisfaction of the State Board of Nurse Examiners, that he or she graduated from a school of nursing connected with a general hospital of good standing prior to the first day of January, 1921, or who was in training on the first day of January, 1921, and shall thereafter be graduated, shall be entitled to a license without passing an examination; provided, such application shall be made within twelve months after the passage of this Act.
SECTION 7. All persons who have duly received licenses or certificates in accordance with the provisions of this Act shall be known and styled as registered nurses, and it shall be unlawful for any other person to practice professional nursing as a graduate nurse in the State of Arizona, or to advertise or assume to practice professional nursing in the State of Arizona as a graduate nurse, or to advertise or assume the title of registered nurse, or to use the abbreviation of "R.N.", or any other words, letters or figures to indicate that the person using the same is a registered nurse. All other graduate nurses from accredited schools of nursing who are actually engaged in the pursuit of their profession, can practice under a permit issued by the Board of Nurse Examiners, but a fee of two dollars shall be paid. Such permit shall be issued only until such time as applicant can qualify for registration.

(As Amended by Chapter 29, Laws of 1927)

SECTION 8. Any person violating the provisions of this Act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars ($25.00), nor more than fifty dollars ($50.00) for the first offense, and not less than fifty dollars ($50.00) nor more than five hundred dollars ($500.00) for each subsequent offense.

SECTION 9. This Act shall not be construed to affect or apply to the gratuitous nursing of the sick by friends or members of the family, and also, shall not apply to any person nursing the sick for hire, but who does not in any way assume to be or practice as a registered nurse.

SECTION 10. Any person who shall willfully make any false representations to the State Board of Nurse Examiners in applying for a license, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction, be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars ($10.00) nor more than fifty dollars ($50.00).

SECTION 11. The State Board of Nurse Examiners may make complaint against any licensee in a court of competent jurisdiction, by a unanimous vote of said Board, for gross incompetency, dishonesty, habitual intemperance, or any act derogatory to the morals or standing of the profession of nursing, as may be determined by the Board, but before the Board shall make complaint in a court of competent jurisdiction against any licensee the said license shall be served with notice of the charges filed against him or her and shall be given an opportunity to appear before said Board in refutation of said charges, at a fixed place and time, which time shall not be less than fifteen days from the serving of said notice. Upon the revocation of any certificate or license, it shall be the duty of the secretary of the Board to strike the name of the holder thereof from the roll of registered nurses.

SECTION 12. The State Board of Nurse Examiners, upon written application, together with such references and proof of identification as the Board may by rule prescribe, may issue a certificate without examination to any person who shall have been registered under the law of any other state or territory of the United States, or of a foreign country or province, the requirements of which for securing such registration were at the time of issuance thereof, equivalent to the requirements prescribed by this Act, and which give the same privilege to registered nurses of this state; provided, that every applicant shall pay the fee and record their certificate as required by Sections 4, 5 and 6 of this Act.

SECTION 13. This Act shall be in force and effect from and after its passage and approval.
