Our Awards

SPIKE Award:

In building a strong association, Spikes are priceless. A Spike is a member who works to recruit new members, get members involved and retains members. Here's how to start: You must earn six credits within two consecutive membership years. You receive one Spike credit for each new member you recruit and an additional half credit when that new member renews on or before their anniversary date. You must earn two credits per year until you reach 25 credits to become a Life Spike.

SPIKE Award Winner:

Pattie Martin, Glowing Hearth & Home

Robert L. Hanson Industry Service Award:

We thank all of our members who are involved in the industry. But there are more than a few of you who go above and beyond, offering your time, energy, and talents to serve here at BATC, at our state and national associations, and in the industry as a whole. That dedication and service is what the Robert L. Hanson Industry Service Awards recognize. BATC members and the Committees and Councils nominate members, who then submit biographies. The winners of the Robert L. Hanson Service Award from the past two year's will determine if a winner should be awarded from the pool of nominees and who that winner or winners should be.

Robert L. Hanson Award Winners:

Tim Liester, Lyman Lumber Co.
Kathleen (Kathe) Ostrom, C.N. Ostrom & Sons, Inc.

Reggie AwardsSM & Trillium AwardsSM:

For more than 40 years, local builders have coveted the Reggie Award statue more than any other. And for 20 years Associates and Builders have entered the Trillium Awards together to showcase their successful partnerships. Winners are selected by judging teams of builders, associates and consumers who visit homes within their category and meet together to select the best example of excellence in design, construction quality and value. Reggie Awards are given to the Builder.

The Trillium Awards were established to honor our associates for their partnership with builders. As Reggie-winning homes are judged the very best, so now the Trillium Awards will be given to all entered participating associates in a Reggie-winning home.

Builder of the Year, Remodeler of the Year and Associate of the Year Awards:

Each year one builder, one remodeler and one associate member of the Builders Association of the Twin Cities earn this most prestigious award that recognizes trust, communication, loyalty and ethics in business dealings between them and the other BATC members with whom they work. Associate members evaluated the builder nominees, and builder/remodeler members evaluated the associate nominees. These two awards are presented here at the annual Awards of Excellence Gala. The Remodeler of the Year award is presented at the Remodeler of Merit AwardsSM (ROMA) Banquet held in June.

Associate of the Year Winner:
