BIG FOUR ACCOUNTING FIRM DELOITTE SPONSORS BDPA FOR EIGHT CONSECUTIVE YEARS

LARGO, MD - For the last eight consecutive years, Deloitte Consulting, LLC continues its long history of commitment to BDPA as a Bronze Level Sponsor at this year's 39th Annual Technology Conference and Career Fair at the Ohio Duke Energy Convention Center, 525 Elm Street, July 26-29, 2017, Cincinnati, Ohio. Deloitte provides audit, tax, consulting, enterprise risk and financial advisory services with more than 244,400 professionals globally. They are one of the "Big Four" accounting firms and the largest professional services network in the world by revenue and number of professionals (www.deloitte.com).

Deloitte Managing Director Kendall Norris stated, "Since 1975, BDPA has been an organization committed to diversity, community outreach and the advancement of generations of students and professionals interested in S.T.E.M. related fields. Deloitte shares those same values and commitments, and is proud to continue the long-standing relationship and sponsorship in support of this important mission."

Fortune magazine ranked Deloitte as one of the "100 Best Companies to Work For" and Bloomberg Business has consistently named Deloitte as the best place to launch a career. As of 2016, Deloitte is the 6th-largest privately owned organization in the United States and in FY 2016, Deloitte earned a record $36.8 billion in revenue.

National BDPA President Mike Williams said, "BDPA has a long history of partnership and collaboration with Deloitte. We continue to be humbled and appreciative of their investment in BDPA and their commitment to diversity in STEM."

BDPA Philadelphia Chapter President Cedric Edwards stated, "The Philadelphia chapter of BDPA is pleased to have Deloitte as a Bronze level sponsor. Deloitte's continued active engagement and investment with the Philadelphia chapter has helped us deliver quality programming to our membership and guests."
