National Programs: IT Professionals

BDPA gives professionals, executives, entrepreneurs and students a pathway from the classroom to the boardroom through education, mentoring, business networking and services that enhance innovation, technical skills, business savvy and personal growth. As a professional services organization, we offer members nationwide access to job opportunities, career building workshops, seminars and important business contacts.

Listed below are some of the programs established to meet our lofty vision, mission and objectives. We ask for your support as we move towards that glorious future.

National BDPA Career Center and Talent Management System

The BDPA Career Center provides a cost effective solution for employers to reach a diverse group of college students, graduates, and technical professionals.

National Advertising

BDPA publications have the important goal of improving the communication and visibility of companies looking to reach the best and brightest professionals and students.

Black Family Technology Awareness Week (BFTAW)

BFTAW is a public awareness campaign to communicate the value of technology in the Black community and its importance in educating and preparing Black children for future careers. BDPA Chapters conduct activities such as hands-on demonstrations, computer classes, and technology fairs.

National Webinars

The BDPA National Webinar Series is available to members at no charge. The webinar series features nationally prominent and influential speakers on topics and skills that will improve personal competencies, such as the technical innovations, dynamics of leadership, managing change, and much more.

Entrepreneur Support Group

BDPA provides a bridge between IT service and product companies as well as numerous potential buyers who influence purchasing decisions. Many of our sponsors work with us to aggressively seek out minority-owned businesses to participate in their supplier diversity programs.

BDPA Information Technology Institute

The BDPA IT Institute supports the IT professional by increasing technical competence and maximizing leadership potential by utilizing an academic partnership with Auburn University's Distance Learning Program. The Institute offers online certification programs supporting the entry-level IT Associate, the mid-level IT Professional and the advanced-level IT Master.

BDPA IT Corps

BDPA IT Corps is a computer technology based community development initiative. As an extension of the BDPA High School Computer Competition (HSCC) program, IT Corps sends students to Africa to participate in peer group coaching designed to create strategies and solutions to local problems using computer technology, instruction, relationship building and recognition.

National BDPA Technology Conference

The conference is designed to inform, motivate and encourage networking, for professionals in the IT industry. During the four-day conference, participants can expect to: share their experiences with peers, attend the career fair; explore the displays at the technology expo, and participate in a wide array of workshops and seminars reflecting leading-edge technologies and strategies.

ITSMF Executive Protégé Program (EPP)

This program is sponsored by BDPA's Information Technology Senior Management Forum (ITSMF) for our members who are interested in moving to executive level careers within the IT industry. The goal of the program is to fill the pipeline with the next generation of IT professionals of color.

Local Chapter Programs

Advertising

There are a number of advertising opportunities for corporations within our local chapters. These ad-buys can occur within chapter newsletters, websites, monthly program meetings and annual banquets.

Chapter Program Meetings & Webinars

BDPA provides monthly program meetings for face-to-face networking and education in each of our chapter cities. We also produce a monthly webinar for education and networking opportunities by BDPA members & supporters who do not live in a city with a BDPA chapter.

High School Computer Camps

BDPA offers an intense series of youth training programs that promote academics in computer science, stimulate greater interest in information technology and introduces the “team concept” used in government and corporate work environments.

Student internship Program (SIP)

SIP partners our corporate sponsors with our college members majoring in Computer Science, Computer Engineering or an IT-related curriculum. Academic courses are combined with practical on-the-job experience to help students prepare for immediate employment and advancement in technical careers.

College Student Mentoring Program

BDPA has a vibrant mentoring program valued by college students, college administrators and employers.

Black Family Technology Awareness Week

Local Chapters in partnership with sponsors conduct hands-on demonstrations, computer classes, and technology fairs providing access to technology and technology education in addition to highlighting the Black achievers who have leveraged an interest in math, science or technology to build successful careers and the wide range of opportunities open in these areas.

Networking

Networking takes place at the monthly program meetings; however it also occurs at committee meetings, special interest groups discussing various IT topics, study groups for IT certifications, annual education banquets, annual awards luncheons and online communities in various BDPA social networks.

National Programs: Students

The BDPA Student information Technology Education and Scholarship (SITES) program is our pre-college program that puts hundreds of high school students each year on a more firm path to college and eventually the IT profession.

BDPA works at the community level to give students hands-on experience to generate interest in the computer fields through seminars, workshops and training that culminate with the High School Computer Competition at annual National BDPA Technology Conference. Here, students from across the country match their skills in extensive oral and written exams and a five-hour Web programming assignment.

Your generous sponsorship of this great program will help students explore Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) related career options and highlight technology related career opportunities. Our STEM based programs, which include the following key events are making a tremendous difference in bringing students into the industry and with your help can bring even more students into the loop:

- Local High School Computer Camp
- Regional High School Computer & IT Showcase Competitions
- National High School Computer Competition
- National Youth Technology Camp
- College Student Program
- National IT Showcase
- Local Mentoring Programs

In addition to our programs for elementary and high school students, we also have several for college students, including the College Student Internship Program which matches our corporate sponsors with members majoring in Computer Science, Computer Engineering or an IT-related curriculum.

You also have an opportunity to provide support by sponsoring BDPA scholarship programs.

- Corporate Named Scholarships
- National BDPA Scholarship Fund
- Dr. Jesse Bemley Scholarship Fund

Over 150 BDPA students have taken home $322,600 in the past decade from the Bemley Scholarship Fund. Many of our Bemley Scholars go on to strong IT-based careers in Corporate America once they finish their post-secondary education. The goal of this scholarship fund is to reward outstanding performance from the participants in the annual BDPA high school computer competition.

Career Fair

The Career Fair and Technology Expo, open to the public, attracts thousands of minority job seekers looking for new and exciting opportunities. Participation in these events is almost guaranteed to provide you with a rich candidate pool of diverse talent.

Advertising and Promotions

Several conference publications offer excellent advertising opportunities whose impact goes beyond the conference.

National In-Kind Donations

As you can imagine, a major conference involving technology professionals makes it necessary to assemble a substantial amount of technology to facilitate everything from registration and workshops to conference operations and keeping IT in touch with the home office. You can create strong brand awareness and loyalty through the generous donation of computers, networking gear, software or communications equipment.

Recognition Levels

BDPA offers Sponsorship Recognition Levels based upon annual cash contributions provided to BDPA at the national level. All support must be documented on the registration form included within this portfolio.

The information included in this portfolio describes our programs and the value of these offerings. It is possible to contribute directly to BDPA's National office to offset the organizations operating budget.

In Kind Donations

In addition to financial support, BDPA has an on-going need for in-kind donations at the local level. The area where your contribution could have the greatest impact is for technology: computers, software, web conferencing and general computer network infrastructure.

National Support

BDPA's national headquarters is the center of a growing business operation with over 50 chapters across the country. Technological support will enable BDPA to operate more efficiently. These donations will help the leadership better manage a national network of volunteers whose skills are vital to our existence.

Local Chapter Support

The local chapters provide development programs in support of BDPA's mission from the Classroom to the Boardroom. The following lists examples of in-kind donations for local chapter support:

In-Kind Donations

- Provide Hi-Tech Facilities for Student Training
- Provide laptop computers
- Frequent Flyer Miles for HSCC Team or Youth Technology Camp
- Student's Travel to the National BDPA annual Conference
- Desktop Computers or Color Printers
- Desktop Publishing Equipment
- Web and Teleconferencing Technology
- Conference Room Space for Program Meetings

These donations will enable the Chapters to attract and retain a greater number of members to monthly meetings and career enhancing programs. Your contribution of conference room space can make it easier for chapters to have meetings and events in locations that meet the needs of geographically dispersed members.

BDPA local chapters are committed to bringing technology to the community particularly disadvantaged neighborhoods. Your in-kind contribution will significantly advance this effort, as well as increase your market presence and brand recognition.

Cancellation Policy

Sponsors

Ad Cancellation Policy

Ad cancellations made more than 60 days prior to the publication's artwork deadline will be refunded without penalty. If cancellation is received less than 60 days prior to the publication's artwork deadline, BDPA maintains a cancellation penalty of 50% of the ad fees. Cancellation requests must be received in writing either by mail, email or fax.

Sponsorship Cancellation Policy

For non-conference sponsorships, cancellations made more than 60 days before the event will be refunded without penalty. If cancellation is received less than 60 days from the day of the event, BDPA maintains a cancellation penalty of 50% of the sponsorship fee. Cancellation requests must be received in writing either by mail, email or fax.

Conference Sponsorship Cancellation Policy

Conference sponsorship cancellations made more than 90 days prior to the conference will be refunded without penalty. If the cancellation is received less than 90 days from the first day of the conference, no refunds will be issued. Cancellation requests must be received in writing either by mail, email or fax.

Exhibit Cancellation Policy

For exhibit cancellations received more than 60 days prior to the conference, VCIA maintains a cancellation penalty of 50% of the exhibit fees. If the cancellation is received less than 60 days from the first day of the conference, no refunds will be issued. Cancellation requests must be received in writing either by mail, email or fax.

Conference Registration Cancellation Policy

You may cancel without penalty if written cancellation requests are received up to and including 60 days prior to the start of the conference. Due to financial obligations incurred by the BDPA, a credit less 50% of the registration fee will be issued for written requests received up to and including July 1. No refunds or credits will be issued on cancellation requests received after July 1. Mail cancellation request to:
