

Richard A. Houghten, PhD

Richard A. Houghten, PhD is the Founder, CEO of the Torrey Pines Institute for Molecular Studies, a not-for-profit, bi-coastal medical research organization. Now in its 28th year, it has become internationally recognized for its scientific contributions. Dr. Houghten has founded three commercially successful businesses, including a publicly-traded biotechnology company. His many awards include the 2004 Ralph Hirschman Award in Peptide Chemistry by the American Chemical Society, and the 2005 Bruce Merrifield Award by the American Peptide Society. He has authored/co-author over 520 publications and has been issued 80 US and 47 International patents. Dr. Houghten is a fellow of both the American Association of Pharmaceutical Sciences and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He has recently been appointed to serve on the State of Florida's Department of Health Biomedical Research Advisory Council.