IABA and John Robinson reach out to our colleagues in Japan

IABA President, John Robinson, on behalf of the Association reached out to our colleagues in Japan, who at the time of going to press, were still reeling from the effects of the March 11 Tohoku earthquake, which according to Wikipedia is one of the top five largest earthquakes in the world since seismological record-keeping began.

To the right, is the communication between John and his Japanese counterpart, Junichi Noro:

3/23/2011

To: Junichi Noro, IAJ President
Tsutomu Igarashi, IAJ Chairman
Yosuke Nakano, IAJ General Secretary

My name is John Robinson, FSA, and President of the International Association of Black Actuaries (IABA) here in the US (www.blackactuaries.org). The IABA has supported the SOA’s International Section event at the Annual Meeting, and we will be doing so again this year. So I look forward to once again seeing our colleagues from Japan who attend.

I continue to be deeply concerned about the humanitarian crisis whose full extent continues to unfold in Japan. It seems that every day, the death toll rises. Please know that the thoughts and prayers of the IABA and its members are with your people as you face these difficult challenges.

Thank you.
John Robinson FSA, FCA, MAAA
IABA President

3/24/2011

Dear Mr. Robinson and members of the IABA:
The Institute of Actuaries of Japan (IAJ) greatly appreciates your continued support for our members in the SOA’s event. Thanks for your support. We believe our young members can gain a lot from this great learning experience in the US. Also, thank you for your thoughtful words of encouragement. Though this huge earthquake has brought with it numerous problems for us as a nation, we strongly believe in a prompt recovery.

Again we express our appreciation for your support and message.

Yours sincerely,
Junichi Noro,
President
Tsutomu Igarashi,
Chairman
Yosuke Nakano,
General Secretary
2011: A Year of Expansion and Innovation

By John Robinson, IABA President, FSA, MAAA

I look back on 2010 as a year in which the IABA had several significant accomplishments, of which I will name only a few:

1. We unleashed the energy in our membership by adding committees and empowering them to bring their ideas to the table;
2. We provided a framework, direction and empowerment to the affiliates, and charged them with ensuring the organization’s success at the grassroots level;
3. We redesigned our website into a more flexible medium that has the capability to grow with the organization; and
4. We established a partnership with the International Actuarial Association (IAA), through which we will be able to impact the broader actuarial profession, particularly in Africa.

At our Leadership Retreat last November, we set our goals for 2011 (Please see goals in next article). Each committee met and discussed ways to move the IABA forward. It is worthy to note that every goal that was set was designed to surpass last year’s achievements. I encourage everyone to review these goals.

In addition, thanks to our new Key Performance Indicators (KPI) Reporting process, we will be able to measure our progress in several dimensions and demonstrate our successes through objective measures.

Our Corporate Advisory Council, under Jeff Johnson’s capable leadership, continues to be a strong source of support and goodwill for the organization, as well as a source for new ideas. Thanks to them, and our other corporate sponsors, at a time when “downturn” is the word on everyone’s lips, we have been blessed with sufficient resources to carry out our mission. 2011 will be a year of building on the progress made last year, deepening our grassroots, expanding the range of our outreach and continuing to be innovative. Here are a few of the exciting things that I look forward to this year:

1. Sustained strengthening of our affiliates, as their leaders form and nurture relationships with local high schools, colleges and other partners;
2. The evolution of our website into a medium that provides ample support to all areas of the organization. I hope to see further enhancements in the Mentoring and Scholarships sections in particular.
3. An Annual Meeting with at least 200 attendees, at least 16 Professional Development Sessions, and a session for collegians.

A growing organization must be fuelled by new approaches and new ideas. I invite you to look beyond the status quo and imagine what we can become. If Twitter and Facebook could be used to overthrow a government, then surely anything is possible. 😉

Finally, I am grateful for the passion and talents that you all bring to this organization:

Thank You for All You Do for IABA!!

John
IABA President

IABA SCHOLARSHIP 2011

The International Association of Black Actuaries Foundation (IABA Foundation) scholarship program advances its mission by providing scholarships at the undergraduate and graduate level to qualified black students who are interested in pursuing an actuarial career. IABA’s mission is to contribute to an increase in the number of black actuaries and to influence the successful career development, civic growth and achievement of black actuaries.

Scholarships are awarded on the basis of individual merit and may be renewed at the discretion of the Board upon reapplication and continued eligibility. The amount of the award (typically ranges from $500 - $4,000/year) is determined by the IABA Foundation Scholarship Committee and is based on full-time status during the 2011-12 school year. The amount of the award will be adjusted for scholarship recipients that are not attending school on a full-time basis during the 2011-12 school year. Scholarship awards are sent directly to the recipient’s school.

Scholarship awards are NOT issued to the individual.

Depending on available funds and academic performance, scholarship recipients may be eligible to receive a one-time stipend for passing actuarial exams during the 2011 scholarship period (Fall 2011 - Spring 2012). Recipients are required to submit a letter notifying the IABA Foundation Scholarship Committee of their exam results along with a copy of their passing score from the SOA or CAS.

Completed applications must be submitted by May 31, 2011.

IABA Membership Updates

2011 Committee Members:
Nicole Harington - Co-Chair;
Michelle Thompson - Co-Chair;
Claudia Campbell;
Claudia Ellis, Les Jones;
Suzanne Scott, Zara D’Antignac

2011 Membership Target:
a. Target 220 members for 2011
b. Currently 163 members for 2011

Membership Renewal Drive
a. 2nd quarter 2011
b. Committee members will be reaching out to those who have been IABA members in the past, but have not renewed their membership.

Collegian Database
a. There are quite a number of people listed in our collegian database who we are sure are no longer in college.
b. Updating this database will take several methods:
   i. Survey will be sent asking those currently listed to verify their status.
   ii. Current active collegians will be asked to verify the names of those listed as attending their school.
   iii. If we are unable to get updated information, those names will be moved to the “Collegians unable to update” tab of the database.
After numerous hours of studying, taking countless exams (sometimes more than once) and receiving the great news of your results…you are now a newly designated actuary. Congratulations!

Now that you are designated, are you looking for an organization with a commitment to building the actuarial community? One which will allow you to develop your career and your leadership skills, while providing continuous opportunity for networking? These are just some of the advantages of membership in the IABA.

A key part of IABA’s mission is supporting the successful career growth of black actuaries. The organization does this by providing several opportunities for development and networking at the national and regional level. At every IABA event you attend you will get a chance to interact with actuaries at all levels of their career. You will get a chance to mentor those students that are struggling to pass their first exam…and learn valuable lessons from persons who are very accomplished in their own career.

In addition to the great networking, some of the other benefits of involvement in IABA include:

• Opportunities to influence other national and international actuarial organizations
• Continuing Education credits from our professional development sessions
• Formalized Mentoring Program
• Leadership opportunities through one of our regional affiliates or on the national level

So if you seek to make a difference in your profession and in your community, while enjoying some of the many benefits that you desire, consider joining IABA. Partner with us to:

• Continue providing scholarships to high school, undergraduate and graduate students
• Provide mentoring to persons at all stages of their career
• Raise awareness of the profession among high school students

Become an active member of IABA and partner with us in achieving our mission of increasing and retaining the number of blacks in our great profession.
