Community Group Presents Workshop for Asheville HOA & Condo Leaders

Board Boundaries: What you “have to do” (and what you shouldn’t)

March, 2018 - Community Associations Institute (CAI) invites all Asheville-area community association leaders and managers to a workshop on board member essentials.

Boards do not "have to" respond to every request, or intervene in every neighbor dispute. They do "have to" know when and why to respond or intervene, and how to go about it. And this territory is trickier than ever now, with more intricate federal rules in play.

Board members bear a legal responsibility, and their unpaid job can be a a lot easier when they are confident in their understanding of these boundaries.

CAI helps homeowner and condominium association board members do their jobs more professionally, more effectively and more comfortably. Advance questions are encouraged.

Enjoy refreshments in a casual learning atmosphere with presenter Cynthia Jones a partner in the law firm of Horack Talley.
