Better Care, Less Pain, More Gain

About Us

The CPS is a society of scientists, health professionals, educators and pain advocates who have a vested interest in pain research and management. As a chapter of the IASP, we support the treatment of pain as a basic human right and are currently advocating for a Canadian National Pain Strategy.

Trained across multiple disciplines and professions, our national membership encompasses those who are interested in pain prevention and management, including patients themselves:

- Physicians, dentists, nurses, physiotherapists, psychologists, and other clinicians involved with management of pain.
- Scientists involved in the identification of basic mechanisms of pain and its treatment that could lead to improved and novel methods of management.
- Professionals involved in education, training, and publication of new information in the field of pain.
- Knowledge partners with an interest in the field of pain.

Strength in Numbers

The CPS brings together scientists, educators, health care providers, patients and others to advocate for and get involved in:

- Pain research, and increasing its funding
- Improving education of health care providers and patients
- Providing better access to care for patients

TORONTO

40TH ANNUAL
SCIENTIFIC MEETING

Every year our Annual Scientific Meeting (ASM) creates a forum in which scientists, health care professionals, and trainees from clinical, educational, research, policy and industry settings can meet and exchange up-to-date information on pain mechanisms and management.

Our event promotes core values of professionalism and competency-based education and advocates on behalf of patients with acute and chronic pain. The 2019 ASM is not to be missed!
