At Sanofi Oncology, the patient is our inspiration. We are dedicated to translating science into effective therapeutics that address unmet medical needs for cancer and organ transplant patients.

Through our global organization of talented and passionate employees, we are building a renewed and diversified portfolio, driven by the principles of innovation, personalization and patient access to medicines.

We believe that delivering innovative treatment solutions requires collaboration with external experts, which is why we partner our own internal expertise with the best experts in scientific discovery and clinical research around the world.

La source d'inspiration chez Sanofi Oncologie est le patient. Nous avons pour mission de traduire les avancées scientifiques en solutions thérapeutiques efficaces pour répondre aux besoins non satisfaits des patients cancéreux et transplantés.

S'appuyant sur une organisation mondiale de collaborateurs talentueux et passionnés, nous avons constitué un portefeuille renouvelé et diversifié dont les principaux leviers sont l'innovation, la personnalisation et l'accès au médicament.

Nous croyons aux partenariats avec des experts de tout premier plan et c'est pour cette raison que nous établissons des partenariats avec les meilleurs spécialistes mondiaux de la recherche scientifique et clinique.

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Colleagues,

On behalf of the CANO/ACIO Board of Directors I am excited to invite you to attend the 25th Annual Conference of the Canadian Association of Nurses in Oncology taking place in Vancouver, BC. We hope you will join us for another year of learning, networking and growing both as individuals and as oncology nurses.

The theme of this year's conference: Inspiration – Innovation – Transformation, truly reflects the landscape we work in as oncology nurses. Rapid scientific and technological advances along with constantly shifting and growing patient populations require us to embrace the challenges that come along with providing the best care possible; something that is only achievable with a great deal of passion. We hope that this year's program provides ample opportunity for nurses to come together and inspire one another to remain energized and grow with the constant development in our field.

This conference would not be possible without the hard work and dedication of our various planning committees. The Conference Planning Steering Committee, chaired by Karyn Perry and Jeanne Robertson, has spent a great deal of time managing the planning and creation of a wonderful conference for our members.

The Local Planning Committee, led by Brenda Ross, has worked tirelessly to provide our delegates with an authentic Vancouver experience and fully incorporate the conference theme into every aspect of the program. Don't miss the exciting social event they have put together for us!

Finally, I'd like to thank the Scientific Programming Committee chaired by Jennifer Stephens and Tracy Truant. Their attention to our diverse membership has ensured a conference program that will interest and provide further resources for a wide cross-section of nurses. I encourage you to take advantage of the many educational sessions offered and to attend the abstract presentations, focus groups and workshops taking place over the course of the four days.

Throughout the conference there will be a number of opportunities to come together and get involved in our association. We encourage you to attend the committee meetings and get involved in a special interest group, connect with other nurses in your area at the Council of Chapters meeting and attend the Annual General Meeting to find out more about our association.

I wish to thank all of our members, old and new, for their support and participation in our association. We hope you will join us in Vancouver this coming October to take part in an event designed to inspire, support and educate oncology nurses across Canada.

Sincerely,

Brenda Sabo, RN, MA, PhD

LETTRE DE LA PRÉSIDENTE

Chers collègues,

C'est au nom du conseil d'administration de l'ACIO/CANO que j'ai le vif plaisir de vous inviter à assister à la 25e conférence annuelle de l'Association canadienne des infirmières en oncologie qui se tiendra à Vancouver, C.-B. Nous espérons que vous vous joindrez à nous pour la nouvelle édition de cet événement favorisant l'apprentissage, le réseautage et la croissance des infirmières en oncologie, sur les plans à la fois personnel et professionnel.

Le thème retenu pour la conférence de cette année Inspiration – Innovation – Transformation reflète fidèlement l'environnement dans lequel œuvrent les infirmières en oncologie. Les rapides avancées technologiques et scientifiques ainsi que l'évolution et la croissance constantes des groupes de patients exigent que nous relevions les défis auxquels nous sommes confrontés tout en dispensant les meilleurs soins; il arrive quelquefois qu'il nous faille beaucoup de passion pour y parvenir. Nous espérons que le programme de cette année saura inciter les infirmières à se rassembler et à s'inspirer les unes les autres afin de conserver leur vitalité et de suivre les progrès constants caractérisant notre spécialité.

Cette conférence ne pourrait pas avoir lieu sans le travail et le dévouement sans faille de nos divers comités de planification. Le comité directeur de la conférence, dirigé par Karyn Perry et Jeanne Robertson, a consacré beaucoup de temps à la planification et à la mise sur pied d'une merveilleuse conférence pour le bénéfice des membres.

Le comité de planification local, dirigé par Brenda Ross, a travaillé sans relâche pour fournir aux délégués une expérience authentique de la ville de Vancouver et pour intégrer pleinement le thème de la conférence à chacun des aspects du programme. Ne manquez surtout pas la passionnante soirée sociale que nous avons préparée à votre intention!

Enfin, j'aimerais remercier le comité de planification scientifique dirigé par Jennifer Stephen et Tracy Truant. Comme elles ont porté grande attention aux besoins variés de nos membres, le programme de la conférence saura intéresser un large éventail d'infirmières et leur fournir de nouvelles ressources. Je vous encourage à vous prévaloir des nombreuses séances pédagogiques offertes et à assister aux présentations d'abrévés, groupes de discussion et ateliers qui se tiendront au cours des quatre journées.

La conférence vous fournira également diverses opportunités de vous réunir entre collègues et de vous impliquer dans la vie de votre association. Nous vous encourageons à assister aux réunions de comités et à vous joindre à un groupe d'intérêts spéciaux, à prendre contact avec d'autres infirmières de votre région dans le cadre de la réunion du conseil des sections et à assister à l'assemblée générale annuelle pour en savoir plus sur votre association.

Je voudrais remercier tous les membres, anciens et nouveaux, de leur appui et de leur participation aux activités de notre association. Nous espérons que vous serez des nôtres à Vancouver en octobre prochain afin de participer à un événement conçu pour inspirer, soutenir et instruire les infirmières en oncologie d'un peu partout au Canada.

Je vous prie d'agréer mes salutations professionnelles.

Bien à vous,

Brenda Sabo, inf., MA, PhD

GREETINGS FROM VANCOUVER!

On behalf of the BC Oncology Nurses Group (BCONG), we welcome you to the 25th Annual CANO/ACIO conference in beautiful Vancouver, British Columbia! We believe you will be inspired by our glorious natural west coast setting while being professionally and personally transformed through learning about innovations and acquiring new knowledge as you engage with others throughout the conference.

The conference theme, Inspiration, Innovation, Transformation, comes to life through our keynote speakers. Mr. Daniel Stolfi, actor, comedian, cancer survivor and patient advocate will inspire and transform us through his original performance of "Cancer Can't Dance Like This". Dr. Barbara Pesut, Canada Chair in Health, Ethics and Diversity, will explore spirituality in oncology nursing. Her inspiring message will offer reflections on how ethically good care in a spiritually diverse society is an essential, and sometimes transformative component of nursing care. Ms. Janie Brown, founder of the Callanish Society and an oncology nurse with innovative vision, will inspire through stories of transformation of people and families affected by cancer. Janie's work nourishes both heart and soul, and her stories will touch you forever.

The conference's scientific program of workshops, oral, and poster presentations is rich and diverse, with something for everyone. Novice to expert, across practice, education, research and leadership roles, and covering the cancer control spectrum from prevention to end-of-life care, the program offers opportunities to transform your practice. An additional highlight this year is an innovative symposium on health disparities in cancer care. Experts will discuss Canadian, American and international challenges and overarching issues regarding the many health disparities influencing the care of people at risk for and/or experiencing cancer. This inspiring, interactive symposium will feature strategies that oncology nurses may use to transform lives through influencing marginalizing conditions and working toward addressing these disparities.

For a CANO/ACIO favourite event, we encourage you to join us for a social evening of celebration in the heart of Vancouver. The Great Hall of the Law Courts building is an amazing atmosphere settled in the shadows of city-scape vistas, and there we will dine, dance to a live ABBA tribute band (70's attire encouraged!), and sample the first-ever CANO/ACIO cocktail. All social night attendees will receive a complimentary photographic souvenir, sure to impress family and friends!

Our hope is that you will return to your practice setting inspired, ready to inspire others and to embrace fresh innovations as you integrate them into your nursing practice. More than anything else, prepare to be personally and professionally transformed in a way that will transform others through your enthusiasm and new knowledge.

We look forward to welcoming you at the 2013 annual CANO/ACIO conference in Vancouver!

Brenda Ross

CANO/ACIO Conference 2013
Vancouver, BC*

BONJOUR DE VANCOUVER!

Au nom du BC Oncology Nurses Group (BCONG), bienvenue à la 25^e édition de la Conférence annuelle de l'ACIO/CANO, et bienvenue à la magnifique ville de Vancouver, en Colombie-Britannique! Nous sommes persuadées que nos magnifiques paysages de la côte Ouest vous inspireront et que vous sortirez transformées sur les plans personnel et professionnel par les innovations et les connaissances que vous découvrirez et les personnes que vous rencontrerez tout au long de cet événement.

Le thème de la conférence, Inspiration, Innovation, Transformation, prendra vie à travers nos conférenciers. M. Daniel Stolfi, acteur, comédien, survivant du cancer et défenseur de la cause des patients, nous inspirera et nous transformera par le biais de son interprétation originale de "Cancer Can't Dance Like This". La Dre Barbara Pesut, détentrice de la Chaire de recherche du Canada sur la santé, l'éthique et la diversité, explorera la question de la spiritualité dans les soins infirmiers en oncologie. Son message inspirant examinera la façon dont les soins basés sur l'éthique dans une société spirituellement diversifiée constituent un élément essentiel et parfois transformateur des soins infirmiers. Mme Janie Brown, fondatrice de la Callanish Society et infirmière en oncologie, présentera sa vision novatrice et nous inspirera par le biais d'histoires sur la transformation de personnes et de familles touchées par le cancer. Le travail de Mme Brown nourrit à la fois le cœur et l'esprit, et ses histoires vous marqueront pour toujours.

Le programme scientifique de la conférence comprendra des ateliers, des présentations orales et des présentations d'affiches. Sa richesse et sa diversité permettront à tous d'en retirer quelque chose. L'événement attirera des infirmières de tous les niveaux d'expérience – de novice à expert – engagées dans des rôles de pratique, d'éducation, de recherche et de leadership. Le programme couvrira tout l'éventail de la lutte contre le cancer, des soins préventifs aux soins de fin de vie, et vous offrira de nombreuses occasions de transformer votre pratique. Cette année, la conférence comprendra en outre un symposium novateur sur les disparités en matière de santé parmi les personnes atteintes d'un cancer. Les spécialistes aborderont les défis auxquels font face les infirmières au Canada, aux États-Unis et dans d'autres pays, ainsi que les grands enjeux afférant aux nombreuses disparités en santé qui influencent les soins dispensés aux personnes à risque de développer un cancer ou qui en sont déjà atteintes. Ce symposium inspirant et interactif illustrera des stratégies que les infirmières en oncologie peuvent utiliser pour transformer des vies, des stratégies axées sur le changement de conditions de marginalisation et sur la réduction des disparités en matière de santé.

La conférence est l'un des principaux événements de l'ACIO/CANO, et nous vous encourageons à vous joindre à nous pour une soirée sociale de célébrations en plein cœur de Vancouver. Le grand hall de l'édifice des Law Courts offrira une ambiance envoûtante nichée à l'ombre de paysages urbains. Nous dînerons et danserons au rythme d'un groupe rendant hommage à ABBA (une belle occasion de sortir vos vêtements des années 70!) et aurons droit au tout premier cocktail de l'ACIO/CANO. Tous les participants à la soirée sociale recevront une photo souvenir gratuite qui impressionnera sûrement votre famille et vos amis!

Nous espérons que vous retournerez à votre pratique sur une vague d'inspiration, prêtes à inspirer autrui et à intégrer avec entrain des innovations dans votre pratique. Et surtout, préparez-vous à vivre une transformation personnelle et professionnelle; votre enthousiasme et vos nouvelles connaissances auront à leur tour un effet transformateur sur votre entourage.

Au plaisir de vous accueillir à la Conférence 2013 de l'ACIO/CANO à Vancouver!

ABOUT VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER, British Columbia, is two cities rolled into one with interests for one and all. For an outdoor lover, this western Canadian city is a nature paradise, with miles of scenic hiking and bike trails that sweep along the Strait of Georgia, the tree-lined waterway that connects Vancouver with the Pacific Ocean. For urbanites, Vancouver is a sophisticated destination, with thriving immigrant enclaves, an ever-expanding restaurant scene, quirky neighborhoods, distinctive shops and lively bars that party all night. Part of the fun is weaving your way through Vancouver's two sides, and realizing that's why the city ranks as one of the world's most livable places.

AU SUJET DE VANCOUVER

La ville de Vancouver, en Colombie-Britannique, a en fait une identité double qui lui permet de répondre aux besoins de tout un chacun. Pour les amoureux de plein air, cette ville de l'Ouest canadien est un paradis naturel qui offre de vastes réseaux de sentiers pédestres et pistes cyclables panoramiques le long du détroit de Georgie, le bras de mer au littoral boisé qui relie Vancouver à l'océan Pacifique. Et pour les citadins, Vancouver est une destination sophistiquée qui compte des quartiers d'immigrants prospères, une culture de la restauration en perpétuelle expansion, des quartiers uniques en leur genre, des boutiques originales et des bars animés ouverts toute la nuit. Amusez-vous à découvrir les deux visages de Vancouver, et vous comprendrez pourquoi la ville se classe parmi les meilleurs endroits au monde où il fait bon vivre.

of Dying Cancer Patients: The Case for a Palliative Approach

Carolyn M. Tayler, RN, MN¹, Kelli Stajduhar, RN, PhD². ¹Fraser Health Authority, Surrey, BC, Canada, ²University of Victoria, Victoria, BC, Canada.

Advances in technology and drug therapy have resulted in many cancer patients living longer with malignant disease. It is still the case, however, that most of these patients will face the end of life much sooner than the general population. Adopting a "palliative approach" earlier in the illness trajectory is one innovation that has the potential to promote anticipatory planning in order to enhance care at the end of life. This presentation will provide an overview of iPANEL (The Initiative for a Palliative Approach in Nursing:

Evidence and Leadership), a Michael Smith Foundation for Health Research (MSFHR) funded program. This research initiative explores the integration of a palliative approach into the care of people with advancing illness. We will highlight core elements of a palliative approach, briefly discuss our research program, share preliminary findings, and discuss the important role that oncology nurses can play in transforming the ways in which cancer patients are cared for within our health care system.

Keynote Presentation I: Daniel Stolfi

7:00 PM – 8:30 PM

Daniel Stolfi, Actor, Comedian and Cancer Patient Advocate

A member of the Playwrights Guild of Canada, Daniel Stolfi is an established actor, comedian, and cancer patient advocate. In March of 2008 Daniel was diagnosed with Acute Non-Hodgkin's T-Lymphoblastic Lymphoma, an aggressive form of cancer requiring equally aggressive chemotherapy and radiation treatments over the next two years of his life.

Through his ongoing battle with the disease, Daniel created his simultaneously heart warming and hysterical, Canadian Comedy Award winning one-person show, "Cancer Can't Dance Like This". To date, the show has helped raise over $75,000.00 for health related charities and organisations across Canada. In the fall of 2012 "Cancer Can't Dance Like This" made its Off-Broadway debut at the United Solo Festival in New York City. With humour at its core, Daniel continues to share his story with all of those who have faced any of the challenges and adversity that life throws your way.

Daniel Stolfi est membre de la Playwrights Guild of Canada. Humoriste et acteur bien connu, il est également porte-parole des personnes vivant avec un cancer. En mars 2008, M. Stolfi a été diagnostiqué d'un lymphome lymphoblastique non hodgkinien, une forme agressive de cancer qui l'a amené pendant les deux années suivantes à subir des traitements de chimiothérapie et de radiothérapie tout aussi agressifs. C'est au cours de son combat contre la maladie que M. Stolfi a créé son spectacle solo à la fois réconfortant et hilarant, Cancer Can't Dance Like This. À ce jour, ce spectacle primé a permis de recueillir plus de 75 000 $ pour des organismes de bienfaisance et d'autres organisations qui œuvrent dans le domaine de la santé partout au Canada. À l'automne 2012, Cancer Can't Dance Like This fera ses débuts près de Broadway, à New York, dans le cadre du festival United Solo. Avec une bonne dose d'humour, M. Stolfi continue de partager son histoire avec tous ceux et celles qui font face à un ou plusieurs des défis et obstacles que la vie place sur le chemin de chacun.

Keynote Presentation II: Barbara Pesut

9:00 AM – 10:15 AM

Barbara Pesut, RN, PhD,
Canada Research Chair in Health, Ethics and Diversity

Barbara Pesut is an Associate Professor in the School of Nursing at the University of British Columbia and holds a Canada Research

Chair in Health, Ethics and Diversity. Dr. Pesut's thirty year career in nursing has included roles in clinical practice, nursing education, nursing research and nursing education leadership. Her program of research seeks to improve care for individuals at end-of-life who are at risk for health disparities with a particular emphasis on rural populations and those from diverse spiritual backgrounds.

Dr. Pesut's interest in spirituality in nursing began when working in pediatric oncology as a new graduate. The challenges of providing ethically good care in a spiritually diverse society and of fostering nurses' own well-being and meaning while they care for those who are suffering has spawned a decade of inquiry. Dr. Pesut completed the first philosophic dissertation at the UBC School of Nursing in which she analyzed the development of spirituality in nursing literature. She went on to lead an International team of nurse scholars in studying emerging issues of religious and spiritual diversity in healthcare. This team recently published a book on Religious Ethics in Nursing. Barbara has published widely and spoken to international audiences in the area of spirituality and philosophy in nursing and serves on the Editorial Boards of Nursing Philosophy and the Journal for the Study of Spirituality.

Barbara has received the College of Registered Nurses Award for Excellence in Nursing Research and Teaching Awards from the University of British Columbia and Trinity Western University.

Barbara Pesut, inf., Ph.D.

Barbara Pesut est professeure agrégée à l'École de sciences infirmières de l'Université de la Colombie-Britannique (UBC) et détentrice d'une chaire de recherche du Canada sur la santé, l'éthique et la diversité. Au cours de sa carrière de trente ans en soins infirmiers, Mme Pesut a assumé des rôles en pratique clinique, en enseignement infirmier, en recherche infirmière et en leadership en matière de formation infirmière. Son programme de recherche vise à améliorer les soins pour les personnes en fin de vie touchées par les disparités en santé, notamment dans les régions rurales et parmi les groupes appartenant à différents horizons spirituels.

Mme Pesut a commencé à s'intéresser à la spiritualité dans les soins infirmiers alors qu'elle venait d'obtenir son diplôme universitaire et qu'elle travaillait en oncologie pédiatrique. Les infirmières qui s'occupent de personnes souffrantes font face à des défis qui ont fait l'objet d'une décennie de réflexion : comment offrir, au sein d'une société spirituellement diversifiée, des soins de qualité sur le plan éthique d'une façon qui favorise le sentiment de bien-être et d'utilité des infirmières. Mme Pesut a terminé une première dissertation philosophique à l'École de sciences infirmières de UBC, dans laquelle elle analysait le développement de la spiritualité dans la documentation infirmière. Elle a ensuite dirigé une équipe internationale de recherche infirmière qui s'intéressait aux enjeux émergents de la diversité religieuse et spirituelle dans les soins de santé. Cette équipe a récemment publié un livre sur l'éthique religieuse dans les soins infirmiers. Mme Pesut a beaucoup publié et a fait de nombreuses présentations devant des auditoires internationaux dans le domaine de la spiritualité et de la philosophie et ce, dans le contexte infirmier. De plus, elle siège aux comités de rédaction de Nursing Philosophy et du Journal for the Study of Spirituality.

Mme Pesut s'est vu décerner – par UBC et par l'Université Trinity Western – les Prix d'excellence en recherche infirmière et en enseignement du College of Registered Nurses.

Sleep-wake disturbances, particularly insomnia, are commonly experienced by 30-75% of oncology patients. This symptom is rarely systematically addressed by health professionals and few interventions have been found to be effective in managing this issue in cancer populations.

The purpose of this pilot study was to evaluate feasibility and effect of a novel intervention to facilitate sleep in the oncology population. The intervention, based on components within mindfulness-based stress reduction and cognitive behavioral therapy, allows patients quickly to learn techniques of meditation, visualization and intonation within a clinical setting.

A mixed methods approach was used to determine whether the sleep intervention improved sleep quality and other measures. Quantitative data [Pittsburgh Sleep Quality Index, State-Trait Anxiety Inventory, and demographic variables] were collected pre- and post-intervention. Qualitative data, including field notes, sleep diary and focus group interviews, were collected to assess feasibility of the intervention, including ease with which it was learned and used by patients.

Survey data were summarized using descriptive and inferential statistics to describe sample and outcomes associated with the intervention. Sleep diary, field notes, and focus group data were subjected to thematic analysis, in which major concepts and relationships among them were identified.

This presentation will provide an overview, including final data analysis and implications for oncology nursing practice. Participants attending will be taught the intervention.

Keynote Presentation III: Janie Brown

9:00 AM – 10:00 AM

Janie Brown, RN, MSN, MA (Psych.), Oncology Nurse and Founder, Callanish Society

Janie has worked with families with cancer for over 25 years. As an oncology nurse for many years, Janie always wanted to do more. She saw how it was the physical disease and treatment that defined much of the care provided. She dreamed of a place where people with cancer, and their families, could reconnect with life, no matter how ill they were, finding ways to strengthen the heart and the spirit.

In 1995, along with a team of other professionals, Janie founded the Callanish Society (www.callanish.org), a non-profit organization that provides weeklong retreats and support programs for families with cancer, and the professionals who care for them. Seventy weeklong retreats later, Janie has an unshakeable faith that cancer happens to a person, and the family, but it does not have to define who they are, nor who they can become.

Janie Brown, inf., M.Sc.inf., M.A. (Psych.)

Voilà plus de 25 ans que Mme Brown travaille auprès de familles qui vivent avec un cancer. Infirmière en oncologie pendant de nombreuses années, elle a toujours voulu en faire plus. Elle constatait que c'était la maladie physique et le traitement qui définissaient en grande partie la fourniture des soins. Elle rêvait d'un endroit où les personnes atteintes d'un cancer et leur famille pourraient reprendre contact avec la vie et trouver des façons de se fortifier le cœur et l'esprit, indépendamment de la progression de la maladie.

En 1995, avec une équipe de professionnels, Mme Brown a fondé la Callanish Society (www.callanish.org), un organisme sans but lucratif qui offre des retraites les fins de semaine ainsi que des programmes de soutien pour les familles vivant avec un cancer et pour les professionnels leur prodiguant des soins. Soixante-dix retraites plus tard, Mme Brown est plus convaincue que jamais que le cancer est une expérience qui touche les personnes et les familles, mais qui ne définit ni qui elles sont, ni qui elles peuvent devenir.

ONCOLOGY

Lundbeck in oncology

We believe in being open to new knowledge. But even more, our sense of humanity defines how we reach out to another human being and the world around us.

Lundbeck en oncologie

Nous croyons en l'ouverture d'esprit face aux nouvelles connaissances. En outre, ce qui nous définit le plus est notre sens de l'humanité et la façon dont nous tendons la main à ceux qui nous entourent.
