SHARING SCIENCE SOLUTIONS

"I love this conference for being both scientific and pragmatic regulatory oriented. ... This is the best meeting of its kind in Europe that I know."

-AT Europe 2017

"The organization of the talks was excellent, especially with the Q&A at the end of each session, allowing for more open-ended discussions with the speakers."

- HOS 2017

"The quality of the presentations [at WCBP] was very high because they contained very transparent and useful real world detailed information in a logical manner."

- WCBP 2017

"Fantastic, collaborative atmosphere!"

- Bioassays 2017

WHAT IS CASSS?

CASSS is an agile, non-profit scientific organization whose strength is in bringing together professionals from industry, academia and regulatory agencies into a single community to solve scientific and technical problems in order to advance the development of biopharmaceuticals.

WHY ATTEND CASSS MEETINGS?

CASSS enables knowledge-sharing, regulatory capacity building and global access within its community by leveraging strategic partnerships, scientific expertise and a diversity of views in all of our activities.

WHAT MAKES CASSS DIFFERENT?

CASSS utilizes its dedicated, volunteer network of experienced scientists to bring together the right people (experienced leaders in the field), the right way (a culture of engagement), at the right time (scientifically relevant content).

WHAT MAKES CASSS BETTER?

- Global Participation for 2016
- Regions represented: Asia, Australia, Europe, Latin America, Middle East, North America
- Total 2016 attendance: 2,922
- Regulatory agencies: 33
- Regulatory agency representatives: 261
- Companies: 221
- Company representatives: 2,101

HELP MAKE CASSS EVEN BETTER

Get involved: Attend meetings, ask questions, seek out other attendees, engage in discussions.

Stay involved: Follow up with meeting contacts, provide topic suggestions for upcoming meetings, volunteer your time and effort for future meetings.

Get others involved: Share meeting outcomes with colleagues. Spread the knowledge.

CASSS REGIONAL FORUMS 2018 CALENDAR

The CASSS Regional Forums are full-day programs on single topics that are designed to provide educational and networking opportunities for scientists, especially emerging professionals, who may not be able to travel to other CASSS meetings. Although these forums are organized for their respective regions, all CASSS members and new and emerging professionals in the field of biopharmaceutical development and regulation are welcome to attend.

“The Regional Forums provide a valuable forum for industry to come together to talk about issues and best practices.”

– Bem A.

“The chance to discuss relevant topics in the pharmaceutical/regulatory environment openly with colleagues and regulators is so valuable”

– Todd M..
