SARAH KENNETT AND JOSEPH KUTZA ELECTED TO CASSS BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Emeryville, CA – January 19, 2019 – CASSS – Sharing Science Solutions is pleased to announce Sarah Kennett and Joseph Kutza have been elected to the Board of Directors. They will join the twelve-member board responsible for governance and strategic direction of the association. Sarah and Joe are both honored to be elected to the CASSS Board of Directors.

“CASSS was introduced to me by an FDA mentor 12 years ago,” Sarah recalled. “Since then, my participation in CASSS conferences has offered me insight into many aspects of the biopharmaceutical industry, including the opportunity to interact with and share with colleagues from around the globe. It is to further contribute to the strength and reach of CASSS that I look forward to my new role and responsibilities with the board of directors.”

Joe said, “Through the years of attending and participating in CASSS conferences, it’s been clear to me that this organization is different. CASSS is committed to sharing science solutions and doing so collaboratively with global regulators. As a member of the Board of Directors, I look forward to working across our portfolio to improve our programs and to have our technology and our content grow to meet our goals of global access, knowledge sharing, and regulatory capacity building.”

Kennett is Technical Regulatory Director for Biologics for Genentech, a Member of the Roche Group. She has a Ph. D in Molecular Cancer Biology from Duke University and a BS in Molecular and Cell Biology with a Minor in Microbiology from The Pennsylvania State University.
