

Families, Systems, and Health Journal Announces New Essay Section

Through the essay section, Families, Systems, and Health in Our Lives, the journal seeks to share learning through the personal experience of healthcare professionals and patients. This section will feature well-crafted stories and reflections that explore health and illness, family function, and systems thinking about healthcare transition and transformation. Submissions should be relevant to at least two of these domains. These essays will contain up to 1,500 words and will be peer reviewed.

To find out more or submit a manuscript, please visit <http://www.apa.org/pubs/journals/fsh/index.aspx>

Section Co-Editors

John Frey, MD
john.frey@fammed.wisc.edu

Randall Reitz, PhD
reitz.randall@gmail.com