

Call for nominations for “ICBS Young Chemical Biologist Award” International Chemical Biology Society

Background: To advance the career development of young investigators in chemical biology, the ICBS has established a special session at the Annual Meeting to showcase up-and-coming chemical biology scientists. The selected recipients will give a podium presentation during the special “Rising Stars” session, and will be further recognized for their achievements with a certificate and a monetary award.

$1,000 USD Award to each ICBS Young Chemical Biologist recipient

Eligibility: Candidates must be in the early stages of an independent career in chemical biology, typically within seven years of first formal appointment, and must submit an abstract and be a registered participant for the ICBS2018 conference.

To be considered, candidates must provide the following documents:

1. Abstract for presentation submitted to ICBS2018 Registration and Abstract page
2. CV or biosketch, including dates demonstrating award eligibility
3. A brief statement about (i) major scientific accomplishments and (ii) your demonstrated interest in promoting chemical biology and serving the global chemical biology community
4. Nomination letters (optional)

Submission: Nomination or self-nomination documents should be received by August 27, 2018. Please indicate your wish to apply during the registration and abstract submission process. The requested documents indicated under 2, 3 and 4 above should be sent in one PDF file via email to icbs2018mtg@gmail.com. Please use "Application for ICBS YCB Award 2018" in your email header.

Selection Criteria: Candidates for the award will be considered by the award selection committee. Selection of the awardees will be made on the basis of their accomplishments, ground-breaking contributions to chemical biology, and promise as a future leader to serve the chemical biology community.
