

Call for nominations for “ICBS Young Chemical Biologist Award” International Chemical Biology Society

Background: To advance the career development of young investigators in chemical biology, the ICBS has established a special session at the Annual Meeting to showcase up-and-coming chemical biology scientists. The selected recipients will give a podium presentation during the special “Rising Stars” session, and will be further recognized for their achievements with a certificate and a monetary award.

$1,000 USD Award to each ICBS Young Chemical Biologist recipient

Eligibility: Candidates must be a registered member of ICBS and in the early stages of an independent career in chemical biology, typically within seven years of first formal appointment, and must submit an abstract for the ICBS2019 conference. Selected awardees are expected to be present in the conference to accept the award and deliver the award lecture.

To be considered, candidates must provide the following documents:

1. Abstract for presentation submitted to icbs2019 Registration and Abstract page
2. CV or biosketch, including dates demonstrating award eligibility
3. A brief statement about (i) major scientific accomplishments and (ii) your demonstrated interest in promoting chemical biology and serving the global chemical biology community
4. Nomination letters (optional)

Submission: Nomination or self-nomination documents should be received by September 1, 2019. Please indicate your wish to apply during the registration and abstract submission process. The requested documents indicated under 2, 3 and 4 above in one PDF file should be sent via email to icbs2019India@gmail.com and icbs@chemical-biology.org. Please use "Application for ICBS YCB Award 2019" in your email header.

Selection Criteria: Candidates for the award will be considered by the ICBS award selection committee. Selection of the awardees will be made on the basis of their accomplishments, ground-breaking contributions to chemical biology, and promise as a future leader to serve the chemical biology community.
