How Are You Celebrating Founders' Day?

With Chi Psi's 170th Anniversary quickly approaching on May 20, it is the time of year that we as Brothers stop to reflect on the rich history that is Chi Psi Fraternity. If you haven't already, make plans to attend one of the many Founders' Day celebrations being held across the country this year. Visit www.chipsi.org/events to find an event in your area or contact tforsythe@chipsi.org to schedule one.

Also, be sure to visit the Chi Psi blog at www.chipsi.org/blog from May 15-20 for a special Founders' Day blog series from everyone at the Central Office.

Central Office Flies Northwestern University Flag

The Central Office has received and flown the Northwestern University flag in recognition of the most recent national championship at a Chi Psi school, the Northwestern University National Championship Debate Team.

#23 Commissions Stained Glass Artwork for Jeffrey Hall

In 2007, the Chi Psi Central Office moved to Nashville, Tennessee. The building was named Jeffrey Hall in honor of one of Chi Psi's most well-represented families who sponsored the purchase for The Chi Psi Educational Trust, Inc. In March 2011, the Executive Director commissioned a stained glass interpretation of Chi Psi's Badge for a transom, and the piece was delivered to Jeffrey Hall on April 25. Read more...

Jack Turner, AΔ '53, Softball Stadium Dedicated

"Jack Turner was one of UGA's most loyal alumni and supporters, and I am very pleased that his family has chosen to honor his legacy in this way," said UGA President Michael F. Adams. "Great public universities enjoy high levels of private support for their academic and athletic programs, and Jack and his family have served the University of Georgia in a variety of ways. This naming is a fitting tribute to the lasting impact he has had here." Read more...

United Flight 93 Hero Mark Bingham, ΔΔ '93, Honored in Upcoming Documentary

Since 1841, Chi Psis have made their mark on our nation's history. And while the experiences and influences of our many nationally-recognizable Brothers vary, we are always proud when one of us makes a difference for others. The time has come for us to recognize one of these Brothers...a national hero who took a stand in one of our country's darkest hours. Read more...

Clifford K. Holekamp, OΔ'96, Recognized as Washington & Lee's Distinguished Young Alumnus

Cliff Holekamp, OΔ'96 has recently been recognized by Washington & Lee University as it's Distinguished Young Alumnus of 2011. Read more...

Brooks Kanski, Psi Delta Colony '12, Elected CUSG Vice-President of External Affairs

As more Chi Psi schools hold elections for student government positions, Chi Psis continue to see great success. Brooks Kanski, Psi Delta Colony '12, was recently elected as University of Colorado Student Government (CUSG) Vice-President of External Affairs for the 2011-2012 school year. Read more...

Reflections of a Senior by Guest Blogger Competition Winner Stephen Sirisky, P'11

For the Alpha Rho Spring Initiation Banquet I was asked to speak a bit about my time at the Lodge, and give a bit of reflection now that my time there was coming to a close. I was originally going to write it before initiation, but realized it would be better to watch my Brothers conduct the ceremonies, and use that as stimulation to reflect on my time here. Thus, this was written during various breaks I had, or when I watched my brothers do something particularly inspiring and wandered off to write. Read more...
