

March 10, 2020

Further to our announcement published on the CIAA website March 6 and further disseminated, we're aware that many of you are asking questions about the various annual CIAA events & activities given that COVID-19 is currently presenting a global challenge regarding travel and that many employers have edicts around public gatherings.

Unfortunately, due to the evolving and uncertain nature of the COVID-19 outbreak, we have decided to cancel the upcoming seminars scheduled for March 24th and May 5th 2020. This decision has been taken in consultation with our seminar Partners.

This was a difficult decision as these events have been and continue to be important dates on the CIAA annual event calendar. However, the health, safety, and professional obligations to our community is our top priority. Delegates currently registered will be contacted by the CIAA office and offered a refund.

CIAA is actively considering opportunities to offer content from the 2020 programs virtually and through other communication channels.

We apologize for these unforeseen circumstances and will be in touch shortly with next steps.

Please keep checking our website, which we suggest you bookmark, as that's where you will find updated information as the situation evolves.

We wish you, your communities and your families good wishes and resilience in the months to come.

Warm Regards,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Daniel Singer".

Daniel Singer
President, CIAA
On behalf of the CIAA Board of Directors