

Brent Cornelissen is currently President and CEO of OS&B (Oakville Stamping & Bending Ltd.). OS&B is a leading manufacturer of plumbing products for the low-rise and high-rise building industry, OEM's, as well as Big Box retailers such as The Home Depot.

Brent was first introduced to the plumbing & heating industry in 1981, and prior to purchasing OS&B with his wife Marilyn Stroud (VP at OS&B) in 2005, Brent was the Senior Vice President at Watts Industries Canada Inc. (a subsidiary of Watts Regulator USA). Brent has also worked at Delta Faucet Canada, and the Factory Division of EMCO Ltd. for close to 20 years in various senior roles within sales, marketing, and acquisitions.

Brent's passions outside of business include travel and Formula 1. He and Marilyn have found the ultimate way of tying the two together by attempting to attend all the Formula 1 venues in the world. They also spend as much time as possible with their 4 grandchildren. Brent was elected to the CIPH board in 2016.
