

Jon grew up in Orillia, Ontario and began his career straight out of high school in 1988 when he joined Westburne Central Supply in Burlington, Ontario. Over the course of 10 years, Jon held a number of sales and operations positions within the company, primarily in the Toronto market. In 1999, Jon joined Amcast, the Canadian sales and distribution entity for the Elkhart Products Corporation, in a national sales role. In 2003, Jon joined Desco Plumbing and Heating Supply as Marketing Manager and was promoted to Vice President and General Manager in December, 2007.

Jon has been a strong supporter of CIPH over the past fifteen years volunteering his time on the Canadian Hydronics Council (CHC), the IPVF Council, and various other CIPH boards and committees. Jon also spent eight years on the Ontario Region board and served as Region President in 2010 / 2011. He attributes many of the industry relationships that he enjoys today with his time spent with CIPH.

Jon married his wife Linda in 1993 and they have two very busy children, Madison and David. Jon and Linda make their home in Oakville, Ontario, love to travel and enjoy anything related to boating.
