Dear Mr. Suppa:

Thank you for your email regarding COVID-19 and its impact on businesses. Businesses are an integral part of our communities and we appreciate their efforts in these challenging times.

On March 25, 2020, the Government of Saskatchewan released a comprehensive list of critical public services and allowable business services that can continue to operate in accordance with social distancing practices (<https://www.saskatchewan.ca/government/news-and-media/2020/march/25/allowable-business-services>). While we have deemed them allowable, it is very important that these businesses are setting out very strong guidelines to keep their employees safe.

While the closure of non-allowable business services prevents certain businesses from providing public-facing services, it does not preclude them from exploring other opportunities such as expanding into online retailing, or providing pick-up or delivery services.

If you require further information, please contact the Business Response Team by calling 1-844-800-8688, emailing supportforbusiness@gov.sk.ca or by visiting www.saskatchewan.ca/covid19-businesses.

We appreciate your co-operation as we work to stop the spread of the illness and to mitigate its impacts.

Again, thank you for writing.

Sincerely,

Scott Moe
Premier
