

2010 Dodgeball Tournament

Controlled chaos was the order of the day as a record number of teams, some with names too colorful to print here, gathered for the 2010 Dodgeball Tournament. The energy and enthusiasm never waned, despite the more than three hours of continuous play. Dustin's Dumb(use your imagination here), a returning favorite, won the best costume prize for their cut-offs and cowboy boots motif. Better Fridkin Duck won the best team name for their clever word play. And Beaver Nation won the tournament along with the coveted trophy. But the real winners here were the fans.
