Colorado Bankers Association elects leadership for 2017-18 year

DENVER – Bankers on Wednesday voted unanimously to elect three of their own to lead the Colorado Bankers Association in the coming year. A short biography of each is below. Photos are attached.

Mark Driscoll of First National Bank of Fort Collins will serve as CBA chairman for the 2017-2018 year. He will be assisted by Brendan Zahl, of Peoples Bank in Colorado Springs who will serve as CBA chair-elect and by Joanne Sherwood, Division President of Citywide Banks who will serve as CBA Treasurer.

Driscoll said he is looking forward to the task and is “pleased to have a chance to contribute to CBA’s ongoing success.”

“During this next year, I plan to support our terrific staff in their efforts to provide leadership and advocacy for our industry by working hard to grow the bank membership rolls which can provide the team the resources they need to be successful,” Driscoll said. “I also plan to focus the member banks on involving the next generation of bankers in the association, but in the Advocacy program, on committees, as part of the Government Relations committee or in service to the industry in some way.”

Mark Driscoll, First National Bank Fort Collins – CBA chairman

Mark Driscoll is currently Colorado Market President of First National Bank of Omaha. The Colorado bank is a $2.3 Billion institution with 24 retail banking offices.
