

Changes in Canadian Transportation Regulations Regarding Special Permit Shipments

Canadian regulations regarding returning shipments of scrap metal or RCRA Subtitle D materials under the special permits have recently changed. A copy of the change is provided via the link below, for reference. The change is located in the Application section 2(2)(o) and is highlighted. The rule was changed by providing an exception from the regulations instead of requiring an estoppel. Mr. Martin Thériault, has offered his name for use on the form as a contact for detections made at the Canadian ports of entry. His contact information follows:

Martin Thériault

Phone: 613-991-3169

email: martin.theriault@canada.ca

This is not a requirement, but having the information handy may shorten or eliminate delays at the border when detections are made. Mr. Theriault's contact information can be placed on page 3 of the authorization form in the section designated Remarks, other information.
