About the CSA Certification Program

The CSA Certification

The Certified Senior Advisor (CSA)® certification program is the leading certification designed to recognize professionals who work often or almost exclusively with seniors by evaluating their ability to:

- Identify seniors’ needs and issues accurately
- Understand how seniors’ values and motivations affect their choices
- Communicate and respond appropriately, effectively, and compassionately to seniors
- Function as a resource for seniors to turn to for help with their concerns and problems.

Earning the CSA certification requires individuals to pass a rigorous exam and to uphold the highest ethical standards for the benefit and protection of the health and welfare of seniors. The goal of the CSA program is to prepare working professionals to adjust to the rapidly changing age demographic by understanding the multiple processes of aging. Typically CSAs have expertise in a professional discipline and have chosen to supplement their existing professional knowledge by earning the CSA certification.

Attention to seniors, and their needs, has never been more important than it is now as a result of a majority of the population getting older and living longer. Professionals who become CSAs recognize this and know that longer lives require better advice and new approaches to aging. They want to know as much as possible about how to serve seniors and make a positive difference in their lives. CSAs understand that getting older is an individual experience – a time to be savored, not feared.

CSAs may use the credential to establish credibility with seniors, identify seniors’ needs and issues more accurately, understand how seniors’ values and motivations affect their choices, communicate and respond to seniors more appropriately, effectively, and compassionately, and to act as a resource for seniors to turn to for help with their concerns and problems.

Certified Senior Advisors who present themselves as CSAs are required to give consumers the following written disclosure statement prior to the purchase of a product or service:

“The Certified Senior Advisors (CSAs) have supplemented their individual professional licenses, credentials and education with knowledge about aging and working with older adults. It is recommended that you verify the validity of any professional’s credentials with whom you conduct business and be sure you completely understand what those licenses, credentials and education signify. The CSA certification alone does not imply expertise in financial, health or social matters. For more details visit: www.csa.us.”
Scope of the CSA Certification

Certified Senior Advisors (CSAs) are professionals, who in the course of their practice, apply multi-disciplinary knowledge of the aging process and aging issues to identify the most appropriate options and solutions for seniors' individual needs and best interests to improve their lives.

The CSA Certification Council

The CSA Certification Council is a separately functioning entity established to oversee the CSA certification program.

The CSA Certification Council operates independently to establish and uphold high standards of competence for CSAs, to evaluate CSAs against those standards, and to increase the public safety of the senior population through the use of the CSA designation.

The purpose of the CSA Certification Council is to:

1. Establish and implement policies and procedures that guide certification decisions, including the granting, maintaining, recertifying, expanding and reducing the scope of the certification, and suspending or withdrawing the certification
2. Review and impose sanctions on CSAs found in violation of the CSA Code of Professional Responsibility
3. Develop and maintain a valid, reliable, and legally defensible assessment
4. Assure the trust of the public is served through the certification program
5. Acquire, develop, disseminate, and preserve data and other valuable information that informs the CSA Certification Program
6. Represent and include the interests of interested parties and stakeholders affected by the CSA Certification

Eligibility Requirements

All applicants for the CSA certification must meet these requirements:

1. Complete the Candidate Information Profile
2. Complete the Disclosure Questionnaire
3. Pass the CSA examination
4. Pass a criminal background check
5. Complete the CSA Ethics module
6. Complete and submit the signed Certified Senior Advisors Application for Certification, which includes agreeing to the CSA Terms of Awarding and Maintaining Certification.
Candidates have 12 months to complete the CSA certification exam after initial enrollment. Once a candidate has passed the CSA exam, the next step is to complete the CSA Ethics module. Depending on the amount of time that has elapsed between the date a signed Disclosure Questionnaire was submitted, a background check was performed and the date the CSA exam was complete, the CSA Certification Department reserves the right to require candidates to legally attest that the information on the Disclosure Questionnaire is still complete and accurate, and to conduct a new background check and assess an additional administrative fee. The CSA credential will only be awarded to individuals who meet all eligibility requirements.

Definitions

Applicant: An individual who has submitted the Application for CSA Certification

Candidate: An individual who meets the eligibility requirements for CSA Certification.

Certified Individual: An individual who has earned and maintained the CSA Certification and is authorized to use the Certified Senior Advisor (CSA)® mark.

Eligibility Appeals

Candidates who are denied eligibility may appeal this decision. The candidate may complete the CSA Certification Appeals Form and submit to the CSA Certification Department within 30 days of receipt of the eligibility decision. The form may be emailed to certification@csa.us or sent via mail. The mailing address of the CSA Certification Department is:

720 S. Colorado Boulevard
Suite 750 North
Denver, CO 80246

The Appeals Committee will review the candidate’s information and will make a final decision regarding eligibility. The eligibility appeal will be reviewed within 45 days of receipt of the request for appeal and written notice of the final decision will be sent to the candidate within 30 days of the review.

The appeals form is attached in Appendix D.

Application

The application for CSA certification is included in this _CSA Certification Handbook_ (Appendix A) and is available on SCSA’s web site at www.csa.us. Candidates may also request a copy by contacting the CSA Certification Department at certification@csa.us or 1-800-653-1785.

Applications will be reviewed for completeness and compliance with eligibility requirements. Incomplete applications will not be accepted.

Electronic signatures will be accepted on the application. In compliance with federal “E-SIGN” legislation, the CSA Certification Department will securely store all online applications, renewal and recertification applications.
All candidates will be notified via email once their application for the CSA certification program has been processed and approved. The email will include detailed directions for how to register for the CSA examination.

Preparing for the Examination

The CSA examination is a 150-question, multiple-choice examination that is comprised of 135 scored items, and 15 unscored pretest items. Candidates are allowed 3 hours to complete the CSA examination.

The CSA examination was developed as the result of a rigorous development process. Working with experts in the development of certification examinations, CSA and the Certification Council have developed a reliable and valid certification examination. To validate the examination, measurement specialists worked with the Certification Council, CSA staff, and a committee of CSA Subject Matter Experts (SMEs) to design and conduct a job analysis study. That analysis resulted in the development of a standardized examination content outline developed by CSA SMEs. CSA SMEs were also called upon to write, review, edit, and approve examination questions under the guidance of experts in testing and measurement.

Candidates are encouraged to prepare for the CSA examination. CSA offers an optional educational course to assist candidates in their preparation. Alternatively, candidates may choose other professional courses, college/university courses or self-study methods to prepare for the examination. This CSA Certification Handbook includes the CSA examination content outline which should be reviewed in preparation for the examination. A list of suggested reference materials is also included.

Certification Council Position on Training and Education

Please note that the Certification Council does not require applicants to take prescribed training or education programs from any company or organization. The Council does not recommend or endorse any training or education programs as preparation for the certification examination, nor does it accredit or endorse any source of education as a guarantee of success on the CSA certification examination. Certification is awarded solely on the basis of an individual's ability to meet the certification requirements.

Suggested Reading

The CSA certification represents knowledge about seniors and the health, social, financial and legal aspects of aging that is available from a wide range of sources, some of which are listed below. These include the SCSA textbook, Working with Older Adults: A Professional’s Guide to Contemporary Issues of Aging, which is the foundation of the optional SCSA course that educates individuals on the core competencies necessary for serving older adults. The CSA Certification Department does not guarantee that the resources it provides, or those of any other entity, will ensure passing the CSA examination. The CSA Certification Department does not require candidates to purchase any of its resources as a condition of qualifying for the examination or awarding the CSA certification.
Books

Websites

This is not a required reading list. The important topics that candidates should study to successfully prepare for the CSA examination are listed in the examination content outline (see below). Candidates are strongly encouraged to carefully review the examination content outline to identify any topic areas that may require extra review and study.

Candidates should decide what they want to read and study based on their current experience and knowledge about seniors and aging to determine how much preparation is required for each topic area of the examination.

Scheduling the Examination

Scheduling

All candidates will receive an email from the CSA Certification Department with detailed instructions for scheduling the examination at a Pearson VUE testing center. Candidates will have the opportunity to schedule their examination either online or by telephone. The CSA Certification Department will send an email to candidates with a complete list of examination registration instructions. The candidate should contact the CSA Certification Department immediately if they do not receive the emailed instructions.

Availability of CBT sites

The CSA Certification Department makes it possible for the candidates to sit for the CSA certification examination, at a date and time that is convenient for them. In order to take full advantage of this convenience, the candidate will need to schedule their examination early. There are numerous other examinees from a wide variety of certification programs who are also taking their exams at Pearson VUE testing centers. Appointments are made on a first-come, first-served basis, according to availability of testing stations. Testing centers can fill up quickly. If the examination is not scheduled early, the candidate may have to delay taking the examination. The CSA Certification Department is not responsible for unavailability of test centers and the candidate will be subject to an extension fee to extend the examination deadline if they delay scheduling the examination. To increase the likelihood of receiving the first choice of date, time, and location, it is recommended that the candidate schedule at least 45 days before their desired examination date. The candidate can schedule their examination for any available appointment time within their eligibility period. If the examination is not scheduled in that time period authorization to test will expire and the candidate will be required to pay an additional examination extension fee. Neither the CSA Certification Department nor Pearson VUE is responsible if the candidate does not schedule an appointment before authorization expires.

Testing centers can be located by visiting the Pearson VUE website: www.pearsonvue.com/SCSA then click on “Find a test center.”

No Show policy

Once the CBT examination appointment is scheduled, the candidate will be permitted to make changes such as location, rescheduling or cancellation. Changes must be made no later than two days prior to the scheduled appointment. After that time, if the candidate does not appear for their examination at their scheduled location on their scheduled date and time, they will be considered a “no-show,” and will forfeit their examination registration fee. The candidate will be required to pay a “no-show” fee in order to register for that examination again. Please contact the CSA Certification Department at 1-800-653-1785 for the fee schedule.

Scaled Scores/Scaling and Equating

The Society of Certified Senior Advisors® uses a scaled score to report scores on the Certified Senior Advisor® Examination. Scaled scores are conversions of scores from one scale to another. An example of two scales you might be familiar with are the temperature scales of Fahrenheit and Celsius. As illustrated, on the Fahrenheit scale, freezing occurs at the temperature of 32° while on the Celsius scale freezing occurs at the temperature of 0°. We don’t really have two different freezing points. We just have two different ways of reporting it.

Certification Bodies frequently use scaled scores to report candidate scores because the actual passing percentage or the number of test questions that a candidate has to answer correctly to pass may change based upon the difficulty of the examination. It wouldn’t be fair to candidates if some candidates had to obtain a 70% to pass on a very easy test while others had to obtain a 70% to pass on a very hard test. Thus the passing percentage is adjusted to account for the differences in test difficulty. Consider the graphic below:
There are three scales in the above example. The raw items scale is the actual number of test items that the candidate must answer to pass. The percentage scale is the raw scale converted to a percentage of the exam that the candidate must answer correctly to pass. And the scale score scale is the scale where the passing score has been converted to another number. To use the scale, let’s say a candidate must answer 87 of 135 test items correctly to pass the exam. This converts to a percentage score of 65%. SCSA would scale that number to a 70. Every score above and below the passing score would also be scaled similarly to a Fahrenheit and Celsius scale.

To pass the SCSA examination, the candidate must obtain a scaled score of 70. The actual passing score (raw score and percent score) was determined using a passing score study on a single form of the examination. The passing score study looked at the characteristics of the examination (such as the difficulty of the test items) and used the methodologies of Angoff and Hofstee in a facilitate group meeting, to establish what the point at which the group of experts felt a score higher would represent knowledge to be competent and a score lower would represent a lack of knowledge to be competent. Subsequent forms of the examination are statistically equated to the first form and the raw score necessary to pass adjusted as necessary.

Taking the Examination

All CSA candidates must have prior authorization from the CSA Certification Department to take the examination and present a valid photo ID to the examination proctor, as well as meet all other test security requirements at the examination location. Additional details on taking the examination are provided to candidates in the email they receive from the CSA Certification Department once their application is approved.

If candidates experience problems that affect their ability to take the examination, they must notify a test administrator immediately.
Test administrators cannot answer any questions about test items or content of the examination. However, if candidates have a procedural question, the testing staff will do their best to assist them.

If during the examination the candidate has questions or concerns about a test item, they can leave a comment by clicking the “comment” button in the upper left-hand corner of the computer screen. All examination questions are copyrighted property of the CSA Certification Department. It is forbidden under federal copyright law to copy, reproduce, record, distribute or display these examination questions by any means, in whole or in part. Doing so may subject the candidate to severe civil and criminal penalties and actions by the CSA Certification Department.

The Test Administrator will keep the official time and ensure that the candidate is given the allotted time of 3 hours for the examination. If the candidate leaves the room to take a restroom break the examination time will not stop. Candidates are not permitted to leave the examination area to go to their cars, to speak to anyone, or make personal calls.

The Test Administrator may dismiss a candidate from the examination for any of the following reasons:

- If the candidate’s admission to the examination is unauthorized
- If a candidate creates a disturbance or gives or receives help
- If a candidate attempts to remove examination materials or notes from the testing room
- If a candidate attempts to take the examination for someone else
- If a candidate has in his or her possession any prohibited item
- If a candidate exhibits behavior consistent with memorization or copying of examination items

Examination Security Procedures

Candidates who are taking the CSA examination at a Pearson VUE testing center will be required to provide two forms of valid ID, one primary with a photo and signature, one secondary with a signature.

* The primary ID must contain a photo and signature unless the signature is embedded in the identification. When this occurs, candidate must present another form of signature identification from the primary or secondary list.

Biometrics

Erasable note board

Standard procedure is that the candidate receives one erasable note board to use as scratch paper during the examination.

Personal items

Candidates are not allowed to bring personal items into the testing room. Consideration is made for comfort items (such as a pillow, crutches, and tissues), which the testing center administrator must inspect. A designated area will be provided in the testing environment for all personal belongings, but neither Pearson VUE nor the CSA Certification Department is responsible for any personal belongs left in the area before, during or after the examination.

After the Examination

Examination Results

Candidates will be provided with a printed report of their results at the completion of their examination.

Candidates who fail the examination will be provided a diagnostic analysis of their relative strengths and weaknesses by content area, along with their examination results.

SCSA provides diagnostic score reports to candidates. The diagnostic score reports provide data regarding the percentage of items correct in each of the domains. Candidates are cautioned about making inferences based on the diagnostic scores due to the fact that there may not be sufficient items in each of the domains for accurate inferences. This statement is to be placed on all future diagnostic score reports.

Candidates who have successfully passed the examination will be notified of their certification status by the CSA Certification Department. Those who have passed the examination and met all other eligibility requirements will receive a CSA Welcome Packet that includes a CSA certificate and other business and communication items. The individual may then use the CSA initials after their name, and use the CSA mark as allowed by the CSA Code of Professional Responsibility and the policies of the CSA Certification Council.
Disputed Results

The CSA Certification Department employs a rigorous process to ensure that no errors occur in the scoring of exams, including a quality control scoring audit and statistical analysis of all questions. Due to the accuracy of electronically scored exams, changes as a result of rescoring are highly unlikely. However, a candidate may request a hand-score of his or her exam by filling out and submitting the Application to Hand Grade Answer Sheet (included in Appendix B) with the requisite fee. Please contact the CSA Certification Department at 1-800-653-1785 for the fee schedule. All such requests must be sent to the CSA Certification Department within 90 days of the test date, as directed in the application, which is included in the back of this handbook. Applications received after the 90th day will be returned to the candidate.

Retests

Candidates who fail the examination may schedule a re-test by contacting the CSA Certification Department. Candidates must wait at least 30 days before re-testing. Re-tests must be completed within 1 year of the initial enrollment date. All candidates must reapply for certification after the 1-year mark.

Re-tests are taken at a Pearson VUE testing center. The CSA Certification Department will provide candidates with retest instructions by email. There is an additional testing fee for each retest.

Please contact the CSA Certification Department at 1-800-653-1785 for a fee schedule.

Maintenance of Certification and Recertification

The CSA recertification program was developed to ensure the continuing commitment of CSAs to the credential and to ensure that CSAs’ continued competence is enhanced by the process. Recertification is a vital part of the CSA credentialing program and it is designed to ensure that CSAs increase and expand their knowledge of the health, social, financial, and legal issues facing seniors. The requirements for recertification, and the means by which CSA’s demonstrate compliance with the recertification requirements, are based on the philosophy of continued competence through recertification. As such, specific recertification requirements have been established.

Certification is awarded for a period of three years, with a fee and Disclosure Questionnaire submitted annually. The CSA maintenance of certification process was developed to ensure the continuing commitment of CSAs to the credential and to ensure CSAs continue to meet minimum standards for certification. The recertification period is three years; however, the Certification Council requires maintenance of certification annually to reinforce the significance of a CSA’s commitment to the protection and welfare of seniors.

Annual Maintenance and Reporting Requirements

On an annual basis during the three year recertification cycle, CSAs must:

1. Complete, sign, and submit the CSA Disclosure Questionnaire
2. Pay the annual fee
As a condition of maintaining certification and continued use of the CSA certification and marks, the CSA must agree to permit the CSA Certification Department to investigate “affirmative answers” on the Disclosure Questionnaire. In so doing, the CSA permits the following actions:

- The CSA Certification Department is empowered to investigate “yes” disclosure answers on renewal forms in order to clarify or amplify the CSA’s explanation of the affirmative answer(s). Depending on the nature of the affirmative answer, certification office personnel may ask the renewing CSA to provide additional information, and/or it may decide to research the matter on its own.

- The CSA Certification Department is empowered to require sufficient explanations for affirmative answers. In certain cases when certification personnel deems an explanation of an affirmative answer to be incomplete, it reserves the right to require the CSA in question to provide further explanatory information. Depending on the nature of the affirmative disclosure, this additional information might include the following: dates, locations, case numbers, case status, involved parties, summaries of charges and rebuttals, summaries of settlements or other judgments, copies of documents.

- The CSA Certification Department may refer any possible disciplinary issues or possible violations of the CSA Code of Professional Responsibility to the CSA Ethics & Disciplinary Council for appropriate action.

- At the Certification Council’s request, the CSA Certification Department may provide a report or other description of affirmative answers received on applications.
Recertification

The CSA recertification process was developed to ensure the continuing commitment of CSAs to the credential and to ensure that CSAs’ continued competence is enhanced by the process. Recertification is a vital part of the CSA credentialing program and it is designed to ensure that CSAs increase and expand their knowledge of the financial, health, social, and legal issues facing seniors. Recertification is required every three years.

Every three years, CSAs are required to earn 30 CSA Continuing Education (CE) credits, must agree to continue to abide by and uphold the CSA Code of Professional Responsibility, pass a criminal background check, complete and submit the Disclosure Questionnaire, and comply with the policies of the Certification Council. Failure to comply with recertification requirements will result in the expiration of certification and removal of the CSA credential.

Denial of Recertification

Certified individuals who do not meet the recertification requirements will be notified that their recertification has been denied within 30 days of receipt of the application. The reasons for the denial shall be indicated, and the certified individual shall receive instructions on how to reapply.

Appeal of Denial of Recertification

Applicants who are denied recertification may request reconsideration of the decision of denial by completing the CSA Certification Appeals Form and submitting to the CSA Certification Department. Depending on the reason for denial, the CSA Certification Department will forward the request for appeal to either the Ethics & Disciplinary Council or the Appeals Committee. Requests for an appeal must be made no later than 30 days after the applicant is denied. The decision of the appeal is final.

The appeals form is attached in Appendix D.

Issuing Certificates

A certificate with the dates of renewal is issued to certified individuals upon successful completion of all recertification requirements.

Extensions

CSAs may be granted an extension to meet all recertification requirements for a period not to exceed 120 days. Extensions are granted on a case-by-case basis and at the discretion of the CSA Certification Department staff. The CSA’s original date of expiration will remain valid when the new certificate is issued. If the certified individual does not recertify within the designated time period, certification will expire. If in the future the individual wishes to become certified, a new application will be required. All application, examination and fee requirements shall apply.

Continuing Education

CSAs are required to earn 30 CSA Continuing Education (CE) credits every 3 years. Credits applied toward meeting the recertification requirements must be completed during the certification cycle. Credits may not be carried over from one certification cycle to the next.

To be eligible for credit all CE course topics must be directly related to seniors and/or ethical issues. Acceptable topic areas include ethics; financial, health or social issues related to aging; spirituality and aging; general aging issues; death and dying, etc. Sales and marketing topics are not acceptable. To ensure that the recertification process contributes to the professional development of CSAs across a variety of issues, CE credits must meet the following guidelines:

Ethics: Completion of a minimum of 3 CSA CE credits specifically related to ethics is required for all CSAs. CSAs may earn the required 3 ethics CSA CE credits using the following options:

1. Completion of the CSA Ethics Module - Three (3) CE units awarded.
2. One of the CSA ethics courses offered online by WebCE: https://www.webce.com/csa
   - Senior Market Sales Ethics (6 CE credits)
   - Maximizing Integrity in Decisions with Seniors (6 CE credits)
   - Effective and Ethical Communication with Seniors (6 CE credits)
3. Ethics courses approved for ethics CE credits by other professional organizations on topics directly related to seniors’ needs and issues – for example, ethics courses offered by CFP, AICPA or CLTC, or a state L&H or real estate insurance license. These courses must be pre-approved by the Office of CSA Certification.

Volunteering: A maximum of 16 CSA CE credits may be awarded.

1. 1 hour of CSA CE credit may be awarded for each 1 hour of volunteering for seniors. The maximum number of allowable CE credits earned by volunteering is 16 every three years.
2. Providing direct care for a senior relative or family member can be included as volunteer experience. There is a maximum allowance of 8 CSA CE credit every three years for this type of volunteering.
3. 1 hour of CSA CE credit may be awarded for each 1 hour of volunteering as a qualified Subject Matter Expert (SME) actively participating in CSA examination development activities. The following activities are approved for volunteer credit: participating in a job analysis workshop, participating in item writing training and development including the submission of usable examination items, participating in passing score studies.

Course Work: 1 CSA CE credit is awarded for every 45 – 60 minutes of eligible coursework. The total number of CE credits awarded for each eligible course, seminar, or workshop is at the discretion of the CSA Certification Department.

i. CE courses, seminars or workshops on topics directly related to seniors and approved or offered by a national trade, industry, licensing or regulatory association.

ii. State-approved insurance and other professional CE courses on topics directly related to seniors.

iii. CE courses, seminars or workshops approved or offered by accredited universities and colleges on topics directly related to seniors.

iv. WebCE courses on ethics and/or topics directly related to seniors www.webce.com/csa

Audit the Working with Older Adults course: A maximum of 20 CSA CE credits may be awarded.

i. 20 CSA CE credits may be awarded by auditing the Working with Older Adults course (classroom or web) if it has been more than 12 months since the individual earned the CSA designation. The CSA examination is not required to earn the CE for auditing the course.

ii. In order to receive all 20 CSA CE credits, CSAs must audit the course (classroom or web) in its entirety.

CSA Webinars: 1 CSA CE credit is awarded for each webinar.

i. Monthly educational webinars are offered by SCSA for CSAs. Archived webinars can also be accessed on the www.csa.us website through the member portal.

Professional Conferences: A maximum of 12 CSA CE credits may be awarded per conference.

i. For each day of participation in a professional conference CSAs will earn 6 CSA CE credits, with a maximum of 12 CSA CE credits per conference. The total number of CSA CE credits awarded is at the discretion of the CSA Certification Department based on program eligibility.

Presentations: 1 CSA CE credit is awarded for every 45 – 60 minutes of eligible presentations given by a CSA. A maximum of 10 CSA CE credits may be awarded.

i. Credit may only be earned once, unless given to a different audience or on a different subject.

CSA Journal: CSA CE credits may be awarded through completion of the Case in Point section of the CSA Journal and/or writing a published article in the CSA Journal.

i. 5 CSA CE credits are awarded for reading a Case in Point article and successfully completing the associated online quiz.
ii. 10 CSA CE credits are awarded for writing an article that is published in the CSA Journal.

CSA Examination: 27 CSA CE credits are awarded for taking and passing the CSA examination.

i. In taking and passing the CSA examination, CSAs may satisfy all continuing education requirements with the exception of the ethics requirement (3 CSA CE credits).

Verification of Continuing Education Compliance

The CSA Certification Department will review and confirm the accuracy and authenticity of all continuing education submitted for recertification by certified persons. The CSA Certification staff, at their discretion, may require additional evidence or documentation to ensure certified persons are meeting continuing education requirements whenever necessary.

CSA Code of Professional Responsibility

The Code

The CSA Certification Department issues the CSA Code of Professional Responsibility to provide ethical principles and rules for all persons who are certified by the Certification Council to use the CSA designation. Implicit in a CSA’s acceptance of the certification is an obligation to comply with the mandates and requirements of all applicable laws and regulations, and to take the responsibility to perform all professional services and activities in an ethical manner. The CSA Code of Professional Responsibility is based on the standards of competence, honesty, trustworthiness, fairness, and professionalism.

The CSA Ethics and Disciplinary Council

The CSA Ethics and Disciplinary Council is an independent, nonprofit corporation established to enforce the provisions of the CSA Code of Professional Responsibility. The Ethics and Disciplinary Council investigates formal complaints lodged against CSAs for alleged violations of the Code. The Ethics and Disciplinary Council reviews all complaint cases and disciplines CSAs when appropriate.

The CSA Code of Professional Responsibility is available on the CSA web site at www.csa.us, or by contacting CSA Certification Department.

Additional Policies

Special Accommodations

The Certification Council complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and shall ensure no individual is deprived of the opportunity to take the certification examination solely by reason of a disability as defined under the ADA. Candidates must submit a written request and recent (within the last three years) supporting documentation related to disability needs. The request and supporting documentation must be received at least 30 days prior to the examination. Requests for special testing accommodations require documentation of a formally diagnosed and qualified disability by a qualified professional who has provided evaluation or treatment for the candidate.
The CSA Certification Department will evaluate requests for special accommodations in testing procedures, on a case-by-case basis.

The ADA Accommodation Request Form is included in this handbook in Appendix C.

Appeal of Denial of Request for Special Accommodations

Candidates who are denied their request for Special Accommodations may file an appeal by completing the CSA Certification Appeals Form and submitting it to the CSA Certification Department. The appeal form must be submitted within 30 days within of the initial decision and will be reviewed by the Certification Council. The decision of the Certification Council is final.

The appeals form is attached in Appendix D.

Confidentiality

All information provided to the CSA Certification Department during the examination application and certification process is considered confidential and will not be disclosed unless required by law. In the event the CSA Certification Department is required to disclose information otherwise considered confidential, they will notify the applicable individual via email, mail, or fax of the release of their information.

Indeterminate Scores

The Certification Council is concerned with reporting only valid scores. On rare occasions, circumstances may invalidate exam scores. The Council reserves the right to cancel or withhold exam scores if there is any reason to question their validity. The Council may cancel or invalidate exam results if, upon investigation, violations of policies have been committed.

Doubts may be raised about the validity of candidates’ scores because of suspected misconduct; in such circumstances candidates will be notified of procedures to ensure fair treatment. Some scores may be rendered invalid due to circumstances beyond candidates’ control, such as faulty exam materials or mistiming. In this event, retesting will be arranged at no additional cost to the candidate.

Issuing Certificates

Certificates are issued by the CSA Certification Department to individuals who meet all requirements for earning certification, including passing the exam. Certificates shall be issued within thirty days of confirmation of completion of the certification requirements. A new certificate with the date of expiration will be issued to CSAs who meet the recertification requirements.

Certification Directory and Verification of Certification Status

The CSA Certification Department will verify the name of a CSA and that the CSA is in good standing at the request of any member of the public. Anyone may verify a CSA’s credential by contacting the CSA Certification Department at 1-800-653-1785 or e-mail certification@csa.us. The online CSA Locator allows any member of the public to verify if the professional they are considering is a CSA in good standing. The CSA Certification Department has the right to include all of the following information about CSAs in good standing in the online CSA locator:
• Name
• Contact Information
• Industry/Profession
• Company Information
• Recertification and Designation Dates

No information deemed to be confidential will be disclosed when verifying an individual’s certification status.

CSAs’ names and standing are considered public information. Use of CSA information for solicitation purposes by businesses or individuals is strictly prohibited by the CSA Certification Department.

Nondiscrimination

The CSA Certification Department and the Certification Council do not discriminate on the basis of race, color, age, gender, national origin, ancestry, religion, disability, sexual orientation or marital status.
