President's Message

Welcome to the third edition of the CSHP Research and Education Foundation newsletter!

I am pleased to update you on the recent activities of the Foundation.

At Seminar 2010 in San Francisco, the second Joseph H. Beckerman Memorial Scholarship was awarded by past Foundation president John Carbone, and Carol Beckerman, daughter of Joe Beckerman, to the very deserving winner, Rebekah Torres.

Also at Seminar, the Silent Auction was conducted to support the Foundation and was successful in raising just over $5,000.

Finally, the Golf Tournament was well attended at the Lincoln Park golf course. The weather was beautiful for golf and afforded amazing views of the Golden Gate. The timing of the golf tournament allowed participants to golf and attend the opening House of Delegates meeting. We look forward to seeing more of you participate in 2011.

Many activities are underway in 2011, in support of our Strategic Plan goals, as described below:

1. The CSHP Research and Education Foundation promotes public welfare through education and research in health-system pharmacy and related disciplines.
 - o The Foundation is exploring opportunities to partner with other foundations and organizations in the development of education programs and pursuit of research grants.
 - o A call to Student Chapters to participate in a grant to provide educational materials on the management of depression is being sent in January.
2. The CSHP Foundation improves the cultural competence of health-system pharmacists and the health literacy of the public.
