

Laura Wong, PharmD

Currently, I am the pharmacy director at Sonoma County Indian Health Project located in Santa Rosa, CA. I have been a pharmacy preceptor for over 20 years and currently mentor pharmacy students from Touro University and UCSF School of Pharmacy in both community pharmacy practice and ambulatory/acute care.

I earned my pharmacy degree at UCSF School of Pharmacy and completed a pharmacy residency program at the Veterans Health Services and Research Administration in Martinez, Ca. I have worked in all areas of pharmacy, including hospital inpatient services, ambulatory care pharmacist, drug information and safety manager with Pharma, long-term care pharmacy consultant and director.
