

Kevin Tottis heads up TottisLaw, a litigation boutique he opened in 1996 after several years as a partner in a national law firm. He has nearly 30 years of commercial and intellectual property litigation experience, first-chairing dozens of matters for clients across the country. He is an arbitrator with the American Arbitration Association and on the faculty of the Practising Law Institute, is a Martindale Hubbell AV Preeminent-rated attorney and has been named an Illinois Super Lawyer since 2010.

Mr. Tottis sat on the board of the American Intellectual Property Law Association, where he previously had chaired the Association's Copyright Law Committee. He also served as AIPLA's counsel of record before the Supreme Court in its amicus filing in Kirtsaeng v. John Wiley & Sons, Inc. He's served as secretary and board member of the U.S. group of the Association Internationale pour la Protection de la Propriété Intellectuelle and recently was appointed to AIPPI's international umbrella organization's Standing Committee on Copyrights. He also sits on the board of the Lawyers Club of Chicago and the Board for Student Publications at The University of Michigan. He received both his undergraduate and law degrees from The University of Michigan (A.B. 1983, with Distinction and Honors in English; J.D. 1986).
