Tell Me a Story: Advocacy Through Storytelling

Two Separate Workshops - Same Great Content!

Tuesday, December 3
2pm
Acton Library, Old Saybrook

Friday, January 17
10am
Farmington Library

Every library has a compelling story. Discovering that story, and learning to tell it the right way, can yield powerful benefits. At this ALA workshop conducted by Julie & Amanda from CLC, you will first uncover and hone your library’s story. Then, you’ll learn narrative techniques to help you secure funding, turn your staff into advocates, and send a consistent message that your library is a smart investment! For all library types. $10 for CLC members.

Renew Your CLC Membership

It’s that time of year! Membership renewal season!

Last year, CLC members saved more than $7.47 million on mission-critical products, programs, and services through utilizing CLC contracts.

Additionally, more than 1,300 people took advantage of the more than 120 professional development events CLC offered last year. 113 of these events were free of charge!

How much will your library save this year?
Renew by December 31 to maintain your savings!

Storytelling for Librarians

Are you looking to improve your storytelling skills? Join us for a four-part workshop series taught by award-winning storyteller Jennifer Munro.

In this course, we’ll explore and practice how to “learn” a story, including story mapping, beginnings and endings, and beautiful phrases. We’ll do exercises to find character voices, gestures, and facial expression, and learn techniques for telling different types of stories. These experiences will lead to a final presentation at the last class.

4 Tuesdays: January 14, 21, 28, and February 4
10 am - 12:30 pm
Wallingford Public Library
$100 members, $180 non-members
