

OSHA On-Site Consultation Program

The OSHA On-Site Consultation program is offered at no charge to employers through the Ohio BWC's Division of Safety & Hygiene. This program is funded mainly by the US Department of Labor through the BWC. The On-Site Consultation is offered to small Ohio employers in high-risk industries and assists them in identifying potential safety hazards and what steps they can take to correct them.

This Program offers:

- On-site safety inspections and consultation at no charge
- Assistance with safety program execution
- Safety and hygiene training
- Additional resources both printed and electronic

Unlike the federal OSHA program, OSHA On-Site Consultation does not:

- Have right of entry to a workplace
- Issue citations or fines

This service is only initiated by the employer, not OSHA or BWC. Once initiated, the employer and BWC will agree upon a deadline within which they will rectify any safety problems that were discovered during the consultation.
