NO DEER, NO KEYNOTE, JUST REAL CONNECTIONS!

DIGIN Midwest, as a member-driven organization, has revamped our Annual Meeting to give construction professionals more of what matters most: an easy, worthwhile evening of practical conversations, valuable connections, and less worry about schedule conflicts.

- We moved the date to avoid conflicts with hunting schedules, making it easier for more members to attend.
- We are skipping the keynote, so you have more time to connect, compare notes, and have the conversations that matter most to your work.

After another year of emails, Zoom meetings, Teams calls, and text messages, this Annual Meeting brings the industry back together in person—where the best conversations, strongest partnerships, and most practical ideas happen.

Join us for an energizing evening of connections, camaraderie, and straight-to-the-point conversations about the work, challenges, and opportunities shaping our industry. We'll thank our volunteers, ratify our Board elections, and recognize the shared commitment that keeps DIGIN Midwest moving forward by:

- Staying True to Good Work
- Creating a Lasting Impact
- Shaping the Future of Infrastructure
