

Eduardo Contreras, Ed.D

Eduardo Contreras is the Assistant Provost for International Education, Diversity, and Inclusion at the University of Portland, where he also teaches courses in higher education, intercultural understanding, and serves on the Provost's Council & President's Leadership Cabinet. With nearly two decades in public and private U.S. postsecondary education, Dr. Contreras has a long-term commitment to inclusion and comprehensive internationalization. He has also written and presented extensively on international education and inclusion. In addition to an Ed.M. and Ed.D. from Harvard, he has a B.A. in history an M.A. in Asian Cultures and Languages from the University of Texas at Austin.