 - When the error is yours (you ordered the wrong size, found yours, or wish to exchange the cross for a different size, etc.), we will not cover the cost of shipping. You will need to include a shipping fee to have the new item shipped back to you. Please use the shipping chart on the National Office order form as a guideline for fees (found in the Royal Cross publication and on our website at www.doknational.com)

Please note:

We are not responsible for items returned to us without permission to return them, although we will do our best to accommodate and exchange as we are able. It's always good to let us know you are returning a cross. Sending items through the mail in a standard envelope without protection often leads to mangled returns. We cannot give credit for items returned in this manner. Choose who you ship by. Items sometimes get lost! We recommend UPS Ground.
