

Doortje Engel, MD, PhD, MBA
Neurosurgeon, Neurointerventionalist

- Dutch, trained in the Netherlands, Germany, Switzerland and Australia for Neurosurgery and Neurointervention.
- Currently working in Sydney, Australia (Neurointervention)
- Main neurosurgical interest: vascular and hydrocephalus (I think it is more linked to each other than most think).
- Important to me professionally:
 - Gender equality
 - Centralisation of specialised care, minimum numbers of procedures / patients taken care of for centres and surgeons, leading to the best regional/national treatment for our patients
 - Developing efficiency on the job, day to day, always, everywhere
 - Nourish the future (be supportive of your younger colleagues)
 - Enjoy life outside of work
- Thematic and multidisciplinary subspecialisation
 - My ideal for vascular training: combined post-grad neurosurgical (neurological) and neuroradiological training to produce the best neurovascular doctors in my opinion, also see www.ebni.eu/ / <https://ebni.eu/wp//custom/uploads/Standards-of-training-in-ENI.pdf>
