Are you from a group that is underrepresented in the field of dietetics?
Are you excited about your school and your program in dietetics?

Consider becoming a

DIETETICS DIVERSITY PROMOTER

What DDPs do:

“You Get Me” Gigs- connect with people and share about ways to become a nutrition & dietetics professional.

Celebrate diverse backgrounds- Leverage the strength of your social network and connections to empower youth to explore the field.

Take the “You Get Me” show on the road- Go to high schools, organizations, other events and places, to promote the field and career opportunities.

Why be a DDP:

- To recruit and retain diverse* students in the nutrition and dietetics education programs so the field better matches the diversity of WI
- Add experience to your resume
- Get paid memberships to:
  - Academy of Nutrition & Dietetics (AND) and Wisconsin Academy of Nutrition & Dietetics (WAND)
  - AND Member Interest Group (MIG) membership of your choice
- Get paid up to $150!!

How it works:

1. Attend a DDP training put on by WAND
2. Set up 2-3 gigs with area high schools or community organizations/members to share information about opportunities in this exciting field
3. Report back on results of each gig
4. About 15 hours total commitment
