edra10
Environmental Design Research Association

MISSION

EDRA's purpose is to advance and disseminate research, teaching, and practice toward improving an understanding of the relationships among people, their built environments, and natural ecosystems.

The mission of EDRA is to provide a collaborative, multidisciplinary community to connect theory, research, teaching, and practice to recognize, create and advocate for environments that are responsive to diverse human needs. EDRA is committed to equity, inclusion, and respect for all persons.

EDRA51 will bring together researchers, teachers, and practitioners from around the world who are dedicated EDRA's mission. The conference is our annual opportunity to share new work, celebrate our successes, and build new connections between the field's current and future leaders in academia and industry.

VISION

While most of our attendees come from academic institutions, we also host leading practitioners from the public and private sectors, in fields ranging from architecture and planning, to healthcare and governance.

EDRA bridges theory, research, teaching, & practice to:

- Recognize and create more humane environments in collaboration with global stakeholders and communities.
- Promote cutting-edge research and practice that is essential to improve quality of life for all people
- Transcend disciplinary boundaries and industry sectors in collaborative pursuit of environments that are responsive to diverse human needs.
- Advocate for diverse voices in the pursuit of social justice and sustainable environments.

Your support and participation are vital to ensuring that the work EDRA does today is carried into the future
