Chair, ECBA Committee on Professionalism

When they enter the practice of law, all lawyers obligate themselves to uphold the law and to abide by the Rules of Professional Conduct adopted by the Supreme Court of New Jersey. Those who violate these standards for professional conduct are subject to discipline.

Join us for Professionalism Day—Essex Vicinage for an overview and discussion of common issues which often lead to costly charges of malpractice. Additionally, our distinguished panel will address other professionalism issues facing attorneys as officers of the court, including maintaining a professional demeanor with your own clients and your adversaries and their counsel, the bench and court staff.

* ECBA Dues must be current. This program has been approved by the Board on Continuing Legal Education of the Supreme Court of New Jersey for 110 minutes (2.2) of total CLE credits in Ethics and Professionalism. By virtue of reciprocity, this program may also be applied for 2.2 NY CLE Credits. Pa CLE Credit for PA is available for an additional $10 fee.
